MAYOR GREETS TEMPERANCE ARMY

THE HOME PAPER OF BOSTON

BOSTON AMERICAN

FIFTH EDITION

Weather Forecast Tuesday Unsettled.

VOL. 7—No. 140. Registered U. S. Patent Office. BOSTON, MONDAY, AUGUST 8, 1910.

Copyright, 1910, by the New England Newspaper Publishing Company.

PRICE ONE CENT.

6,000 RIFLES ON BOARD SHIP ARE SEIZED BY SPAIN

MADRID, Aug. 8.—Six thousand rifles were seized by Bilbao authorities to-day on board a tug which had been chartered to go to San Sebastian, where the great anti-governmental demonstrations was proposed to be held yesterday before the Clerical leaders abandoned the manifestation.

NEW DEMONSTRATION PLANNED.

Local authorities at San Sebastian had held that the Carlists were planning to take advantage of the Catholic manifestation to start a movement against the government. No statement, however, is made as to which party to the conflict chartered the tug and loaded it with arms.

Planning New Demonstration.

Again defying the government, the clerical forces in the Basque provinces, aided by the Carlists, are preparing for demonstrations against Premier Canalejas in connection with the crisis between Madrid and the Vatican.

Senor don Jose Marin de Orguija, leader of the San Sebastian Junta, who called off the demonstrations planned there for yesterday, is directing the new movement, but with the avowed intention of permitting no violence by his followers.

It is generally conceded however, that the government has won an important victory in preventing the San Sebastian outbreak.

Abandoned by their religious leaders, the devout peasants who had hurried to San Sebastian were left in the care of the soldiers, who fed hundreds left stranded.

Premier Canalejas intimated to-day that there would be no cessation of the preparations to keep order, even in the event of bringing troops from Morocco.

The reinforcements sent to the North have been ordered distributed at Pamplona, in Navarre, and Victoria in Alava, the towns named by Orguija as the scenes of the coming demonstrations.

Advices received to-day from San Sebastian say that the encouragement of the Clerical clericals arrested yesterday, both in the streets and in the raid on the Separatist Club, was brought about with little show of feeling by the populace. It is feared, however, that the prosecution of members of the Junta and clericals who sent defiant messages to the Premier and others of the government will stir up the members.

Specific instructions were to-day sent by Minister of Justice Ruiz Valarino to the Supreme Court prosecutor at San Sebastian conducting the cases.

For the moment, however, the situation at Bilbao has again become paramount. The arrival of the striking miners to accept the Government's intervention has to a certain extent offset the triumph of the Government against the clericals. The employers are preparing to bring strike-breakers, it is reported. Such a development would inevitably lead to disorder that would inflame the entire North.

It now appears, according to political leaders, that the crisis will be reached in the Cortes. The clericals and their conservative allies are preparing for a conflict in the legislature, and the government of Canalejas following out his announced plan of exposing the alleged conspiracy against the Government.

It is understood that in this the Premier will charge the clericals with a close alliance with the Carlists for the overthrow of King Alfonso.

ISLAND CAMP IS OPENED

Amid loud cheering and great enthusiasm, the American flag was run up on the flagstaff at Fort Independence to-day when the Wilkesbarre Camp, the tented home of the Total Abstinence Regiment from Pennsylvania, was formally defined.

Underneath the national standard was also run up on the halyard a white banner bearing the inscription, "Catholic Total Abstinence Regiment of Wilkesbarre, Pennsylvania." A speech of dedication of the camp was eloquently made by M. J. Dwyer of Wilkesbarre.

Mr. Dwyer's speech was followed by an address by the Rev. John J. O'Malley, Chaplain of the regiment. Father O'Malley said he desired to publicly thank the citizens of Boston and the committee of arrangements for the hospitable manner in which the organization for which he spoke had been received.

Greeting by the Mayor.

Mayor Fitzgerald was the next speaker. He said:

"Boston is proud to have you temperance workers of America within its gates. Boston is a temperance community. We have here the best license system and the best licensing board that can be found in the country. I believe that both are the best in the world. Temperance is increasing. Most of our employers employ temperance men in preference to men who indulge even moderately in alcoholic drink."

When the Mayor concluded the regimental band struck up "Sweet Adeline," while the crowd sang in chorus and cheered in compliment to Boston's chief magistrate.

Some of the greatest dignitaries of the church will take part in the exercises of the convention week, Mgr. Falconio, papal delegate to the United States, is coming from Washington to say solemn pontifical mass at the Cathedral, at which service Archbishop O'Connell will preach the sermon. Bishop J. Regis Canevin of Pittsburg, will also take part in the week's program. Rev. Peter J. O'Callaghan, the eloquent Paulist, himself of personal interest to Bostonians, being a graduate of Harvard University, will come from Chicago as national president of the C. T. A. U. with 2,000 adherents of the total abstinence cause for his personal escort.

Fine List of Entertainments.

National President O'Callaghan and his delegation from the West is expected at the South Station at 10 a. m. to-morrow. He will be escorted to the magnificent Adams House by the Wilkesbarre Regiment of Total Abstainers and the Paulist Cadets of New York and Chicago.

Under the leadership of the officers of the Boston Catholic Total Abstinence Union an energetic committee, comprising members of the forty-five subordinate societies, a fine list of entertainments for the benefit of the visiting delegates, who will come from all portions of the United States and Canada, has been prepared. It is expected that the gathering will be the largest in the history of the organization.

The Catholic Total Abstinence Union

Continued on Page 4, Column 3

LINER WITH 50 ABOARD SINKING

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Aug. 8.—With fifty passengers aboard, the French mail carrying steamer Salazie was to-day reported sinking thirty-two miles off Jervis Bay. Aid was sent to the vessel, which plies between Marseilles and Australia. Jervis Bay is eighty-five miles from here.

BAILEY'S BOOM FOR PRESIDENT LAUNCHED

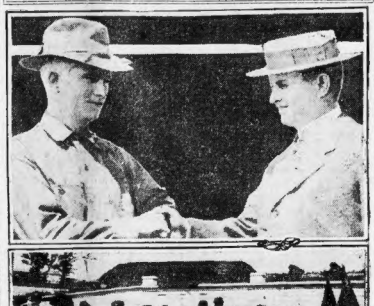
GALVESTON, Tex., Aug. 8.—To counteract an effort which is said to be under way to nominate Senator Joseph W. Bailey are expected to make upon him at the Democratic State convention to-morrow the Senator's friends to-day started a boom for his nomination for the Presidency in 1912. Scores of delegates arrived to-day wearing long streamers with the motto "Bailey for President, 1912." At the same time the Senator's foes are completing their plans to disarm him in the convention. O. B. Colquitt, railroad commissioner and ex-governor of Georgia, will be nominee for Governor.

FATALLY BURNED BY GAS EXPLOSION

HYANNIS, August 8.—Mrs. Robert Snow, who lives on Pleasant street, was badly burned to-day by the explosion of a gas stove. The house was also set on fire but the blaze was soon extinguished. Mrs. Snow is in a precarious condition.

It isn't what you pay for advertising; it's what advertising pays you. Advertising that pays is the only cheap advertising; advertising that doesn't pay is dear at any price. Advertising in the AMERICAN pays best, therefore it is the cheapest.

Mayor Giving Welcome To Abstinence Forces



Boston American Snapshots at Major Fitzgerald greeting Col. Murphy of Wilkesbarre regiment at Fort Independence Total Abstinence Camp today and of party of members of the regiment.

6 ON LAST LAP OF GREAT AIR DERBY TODAY

TROYES, France, Aug. 8.—Accurately as passenger trains dispatched from a station, the six aviators who arrived here yesterday in the greatest air race ever held—the 489-mile contest, circling the north of France—were sent off from here early to-day. Practically the entire population of Troyes, more than 50,000, watched the birdmen some army, headed for Nacy, approximately 100 miles northeast, and more than half way around the course.

As the men were sent up at five-minute intervals in the same manner in which they were started with two others from Paris yesterday, bells pealed, whistles blew and the enthusiastic throngs cheered. The morning was hazy and each of the aviators was prepared to find his course by compass if necessary.

American Entry Is Cheered.

LeBlanc, who covered the distance from Paris in the fastest time, 1 hour and 55 minutes, went first, followed by Aubrun, Manet, Lindpainter, Weymann and Legagneux. Weymann, the American contestant, was given a sendoff by a party of American tourists and the few Americans living here.

Between the time of their arrival here and the hour set for departure the men had tuned up their craft and overhauled them. Few repairs were necessary. There is intense rivalry between the two schools of airmen—the monoplanists, represented by LeBlanc, Aubrun and Manet, and the biplanists, to whom belong Weymann, Lindpainter and Legagneux.

"I am out to win," said Weymann, "and I will do everything to prove American supremacy in the air. I want those prizes also," he added with a smile.

This race offers larger rewards than any air competition hitherto held, the total amount in prizes being $52,400, $20,000 of which is offered by the Paris Matin.

Army Officers Follow Race.

The army officers who are following the races and watching the contest at every stage were off with the contestants. They praised Weymann highly for his resourcefulness in picking up a guide yesterday when he lost his way.

Much disappointment was felt here over the failure of the other two contestants, Bregi and Busson, to make the distance without mishap. It was expected that they would recover their lost ground, however.

TO-DAY'S CHANCES OF LEADING TEAMS

	Win.	Lose.	No Game
Philadelphia	.679	.670	.677
BOSTON	.610	.600	.606
New York	.571	.561	.567
Detroit	.570	.560	.566

A SUNDAY AMERICAN want advt. is often the road to fortune.

DESCENDANT OF GOV. BRADFORD TRIES SUICIDE

SOUTH FRAMINGHAM, Aug. 8.—Gamaliel Bradford, 3d, a direct descendant of Governor Bradford, after parting from a young woman at the railroad station here to-day, went to the Kendall Hotel, obtained a room and shot himself.

The young man fired four shots, two of which took effect in his head. He left this note:

"Notify N. W. Harris, No. 35 Federal street, Boston."

On the flyleaf of a copy of Byron's poems which the young man carried were these inscriptions in autograph form:

Gamaliel Bradford, Jr., 1858.
Gamaliel Bradford, 1854.

On the register of the hotel the young man wrote his name as "Gamaliel Bradford, 3d, Wellesley Hills." The police were notified, and Gamaliel Bradford, Jr., was called up on the telephone at Wellesley Hills. He was told that his son had killed himself.

Father Hurries in Auto.

"I will come to South Framingham in an automobile as soon as possible," came back the reply.

It is believed that Bradford had a quarrel with the young woman who was found at the depot shortly after the shooting. She fainted when she learned he had shot himself.

"How is her?" the girl asked when she had regained consciousness.

The young woman took a carriage and was driven there. She would not give her name. She is about twenty-five years of age and a brunette.

Hotel Man's Story.

Soon after the shooting two or three young men who knew Bradford and had gone to college with him saw him as he was being taken to the hospital and made the identification sure, as the wounded man was unconscious.

Dan Hagan, the hotel clerk from whom Bradford got the room, said:

"He came in here about 10:30 o'clock and asked for a room. He was looking all right, but said that he had been up all night travelling and that he was tired. I did not suspect that he contemplated taking his life. I had never seen him before, although I know he has been at the hotel.

"There was a young woman waiting for him at the railroad station. It is said that they had a quarrel."

LOVE FOR CHICKEN SENDS MAN TO CELL

A liking for chicken led George Brown, no address, to receive a two-month sentence in the House of Correction in the Municipal Court to-day. Brown pleaded guilty to the larceny of the fowl from the market of John Morgan, No. 84 Blackstone street. He was caught in the act by Morgan. He told the police that the tender white meat of the bird tempted him.

Nothing succeeds like circulation. Advertise in the AMERICAN.

CONFESSES KILLING OF SOROKEN

William Remington of this city, an inmate of the State infirmary at Tewksbury, was arrested there to-day on a charge of murder in shooting Max Sorokien of No. 203 Harrison avenue on Sunday, July 31. Remington is addicted to morphine.

According to statements by the infirmary authorities, he made a confession before he was taken from the infirmary, in which he said he killed Sorokien in a frenzy of rage after Sorokien had refused to buy a revolver from him. Remington wished to sell the weapon to obtain money with which to buy morphine.

BROUGHT HERE BY INSPECTOR DUGAN.

Sorokien was brought to Boston early this afternoon by Inspector Dugan, who made the arrest at Tewksbury.

The confession made by Remington, according to statement by one of the infirmary physicians, was as follows:

"One week ago yesterday, on July 31, I walked into the little store at No. 228 Harrison avenue, Boston, and placed before the eyes of the proprietor a revolver, telling the proprietor I wished to sell it.

"Max Sorokien, the proprietor, told me he did not wish to buy the revolver, on this I shot him dead. Then I fled. I was in a rage because I could not get money to buy morphine.

"I stayed around Boston till Tuesday. Then I got a permit from the Boston authorities to come to Tewksbury for treatment for the morphine habit.

"I am prepared now to let justice take its course."

Second Term at Infirmary.

This was the second time that Remington had been at Tewksbury infirmary for morphine treatment.

When he was under arrest to-day he had a little morphine, in accordance with the regular treatment of such extreme cases as his. He had been given a gradually increasing quantity since coming to Tewksbury last Tuesday. It was necessary, in order to keep him alive.

The shooting was made Saturday by Medical Examiner Watters on the body of Sorokien, to determine whether the man committed suicide or was murdered. Samuel H. Sorokien, son of the man whose body was found with two bullets in it, eight days ago, is convinced his father was murdered.

No Report on Autopsy.

Though Dr. Watters made the autopsy Saturday, no report had reached Acting District Attorney Lavelle to-day. Sorokien's family when seen were ignorant of the fact that an autopsy had been held, and said it would be performed to-day at City Hospital morgue. The children understood the body had been exhumed only yesterday, they said. This morning the body was registered in the Emerald street cemetery at Woburn.

Just what was the finding of Dr. Watters is not known, as the assistant examiner is out of town, and his report has not been received at the district attorney's office.

Sorokien was found lying on the floor of his store with two bullet wounds in his left breast. Behind a counter a dozen feet away a six-chambered revolver was found with three discharged cartridge shells in the cylinder. John Broderick, a boy living in the neighborhood who passed the store shortly before the body was discovered, said he heard a shot fired and later saw a man emerge from the store and hasten down the street.

The son Samuel has a store at No. 1,868 Washington street. When seen to-day he said:

"I went to the police, but after I told

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

ROME'S CHIEF A SUICIDE IN CAMORRA WAR

ROME, Aug. 8.—Cesare Bullanti, chief of police of Rione, committed suicide to-day on the eve of being called to testify against forty Camorrists who are accused of killing a man named Cuocco, at one time spies of the Camorra.

Cuocco and his wife were slain four years ago. For months the Government has been preparing for the trial and the testimony of Bullanti was regarded as one of the strongest points in the case against the accused.

In this trial the authorities hope to deal a death blow to the organization which for years has terrorized whole districts, and which is believed to be directly connected with the blackmailing organizations which prey on Italians in America.

In spite of the indications of suicide surrounding Bullanti's death, it is believed by many here that the police that Bullanti may have been murdered by agents of the organization against which he was to testify.

It has been expected that the trial of the Camorrists would last months at least and that the history and workings of the society would be laid bare in every detail as far as gathered by the secret police. No part that the society has played in the history of Naples and the surrounding country is left unrevealed upon. If the plans of the Government are carried out in full.

FOLEY OF RED SOX TO PROVIDENCE

Secretary Lavis of the Providence Baseball Club announced to-day that he has purchased the release of Foley, crack pitcher of the Holy Cross steam, from the Boston Americans, and that he would report and possible pitch this afternoon. Foley made a fine record in college circles and is said to be a strong man in the box. He signed with the Red Sox last Fall.

TROOPS ORDERED TO FIGHT FIRES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—President Taft to-day by telegram authorized the detailing of troops to fight forest fires in Montana, Idaho, Oregon, Washington and California.

THE WEATHER.

Fair to-night. Tuesday unsettled with possible local showers. Light variable winds.

Sun rises—4.41 a. m. Sets—6.56 p. m.
Moon sets—9.00 p. m.
High tide—1.12 a. m.; 1.37 p. m.

BRITISH TAKE NEW ENGLAND FISH COMPANY

WINN G, Mass., Aug. 8.—The New England Fish Company, operating three steamships under American register and two under British register in the Pacific Ocean, and with offices at 7 Wharf in Boston, passed to-day into the control of the Canadian Northern Railway.

The New England Company fished for halibut entirely, their territory catch being shipped to Boston from Seattle, Tacoma, Vancouver and Alaska in refrigerator cars. By to-day's purchase all deep-sea fishing in British Columbia passes into the control of agents of the Canadian Northern Railway.

The halibut catch in the Pacific ocean amounts to 100,000,000 pounds, worth millions of dollars.

The Boston company had been operating about twenty years.

In September, 1909, an international incident arose over the use by the New England fish company's halibut vessels of the waters of Hecate strait, between Queen Charlotte Island and the mainland of British Columbia, it being claimed that these are British waters exclusively. The schooner Woodruff, from Tacoma, was captured and condemned by an admiralty court at Vancouver, B. C.

LITTLE BOY NEARLY KILLED BY ROOSTER

WINDHAM, N. H., Aug. 8.—Charles Mieze, three-year-old son of Frank Mieze, a Boston contractor, was attacked by a rooster at the Mieze Summer home to-day and narrowly escaped death. The rooster flew at the mites lads face as he was about inhaling the eye by a fraction of an inch. The child was hurled to the floor by the vicious attendance, while an axe and chopping block stood near for the rooster.

CANADA FEARS FRUIT TREE PESTS

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 8.—The Canada Gazette contains an order-in-council forbidding the importation into Canada of nursery stock originating in Japan or in any of the States of Vermont, New Hampshire, Maine, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, six of the United States of America, which are furnished from the report of inspection." This is an amendment to what is known as the destructive insect and pest act.

POLICEMAN KILLS KIN STOPPING FIGHT

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—Emile St. Peter was shot dead by his cousin, Jerry Mallet, a policeman, who attempted to stop a street fight in which St. Peter was engaged. Michael Morgan, a policeman, was shot and probably wounded by one of the men in the fight. Dube St. Peter, a brother of the dead man, who is under arrest, has vowed vengence on his cousin, the police man.

M'MURRAY IS AGAIN ACCUSED

McALESTER, Okla., Aug. 8.—D. C. McCurtain, son of Governor Green McCurtain of the Choctaw nation, reiterated before the congressional committee investigating Senator Owen in connection with Indian lands the accusation that J. C. McMurray had attempted to bribe him with $75,000 to get him out of the way. In his testimony was his assertion that he had been slightly denied his one-fourth interest in the $750,000 fee allowed the firm of Mansfield, MacMurray & Cornish by the Choctaw Chickasaw Citizenship Court in 1903.

The bribery charges now directed against Jake L. Hainon and Attorney J. F. McCurtain, among such scope that it is believed several weeks will be required to complete the inquiry. In the heart of the Chickasaw and Choctaw county the committee while here has the opportunity to study the problem at first hand.

BOY IS DEAD FROM BLOW WITH UMBRELLA

MARLBORO, Aug. 8.—Edward Dudley, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dudley of No. 33 Howland street, died to-day in the Marlboro Hospital from blood poisoning caused by a blow from an umbrella in the hands of Lewis Walcott, a playmate. Walcott was swinging the umbrella when it struck Dudley in the forehead. The parents thought little of the slight abrasion which resulted. Blood poisoning developed yesterday.

COL. HARVEY W. SCOTT DIES IN HOSPITAL

BALTIMORE, Aug. 8.—Colonel Harvey W. Scott, editor of the Portland Oregonian of Portland, Ore., and a member of the board of directors of the Associated Press, is dead at the Johns Hopkins Hospital, following an operation. He entered the hospital several days ago to prepare for the operation, for which he came to Baltimore from his home. After the operation it was said that Colonel Scott had stood the ordeal exceedingly well and that he would be able to leave in three or four weeks. The immediate cause of death was heart failure.

REFUSED FEALTY TO ENGLISH KING

WINNIPEG, Man., Aug. 8.—Twenty strike-breakers for the Canadian Northern carshops, who refused to take the oath of allegiance to King George, were deported and are to-day on their way back to St. Paul.

ORPHANS GET DAY'S OUTING

One hundred and fifty children from the St. Vincent de Paul Orphans' Home on Camden street left Otis wharf at 9:30 a. m. to-day on the steamer General Lincoln for a day's outing on Nantasket. At the Point they were taken to the Hotel Brenton, where they were given a luncheon by Proprietor Frank Stevens.

The outing was arranged by Francis Lomarchi, clerk of the Nahant Steamship Company. Manager Sherman of the company furnished the steamer. The Boston Elevated gave the children a free ride to and from Otis wharf.

A number of women volunteered their services and helped to take care of the children during the day. Among the women were Mrs. E. P. Barry, Mrs. J. B. Hayes, Miss Celia Lamarchi, Miss Lena Krasnovski, Miss E. F. Donahue, Miss S. Nason, Miss Minnie Cook, Mrs. M. J. Mahoney and Mrs. E. H. Collins.

Three nuns from the Home accompanied the children.

LYDON OUT FOR HOUSE.

John J. Lydon, publisher of the South Boston Inquirer, has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for the House of Representatives from Ward 15. Many friends have urged him to enter the field. He will conduct a personal canvass.

Will You Make An Exchange?

Do you want to trade something you don't want for something you do?

The "Barter and Exchange" column of this paper is just for that purpose. Everybody reads "American Want Ads—and so you can count on results every time.

Try It and See! The Cost Is Small

SOCIETY WOMEN OF NARRAGANSETT PIER CAUGHT IN A RAID

NARRAGANSETT PIER, Aug. 8.—As a result of the gambling raid on the fashionable Narragansett Club in which thirty society women were caught, there were four arraignments to-day in the Second District Court at Wakefield, before Judge Nathan R. Lewis. The court room was crowded during the hearing of the cases.

William E. ("Doc") Arnold, vice-president of the club, was called to answer a charge of maintaining a gambling nuisance. He had been arrested last night and was released on $500 bail. Arnold pleaded not guilty and his case was continued for two weeks and he was held in $2,000. The bail was furnished. The complaint was pressed by Constable John G. Cross.

Police Under Fire.

George L. Cutting, a special deputy, was in court on two charges of assault and carrying a concealed weapon. Policeman John J. Cullen, a member of the regular police force, was the complainant. Cutting pleaded not guilty to the charges. The case was continued for two weeks.

Cullen, who was complainant in the case against Cutting, was made a defendant when he was charged by James S. Y. Irvine, son of William M. Irvine of New York, with assault. The case was continued two weeks.

Constable Cross was accused by John J. Powers of assault. The constable request-ed permission to see the warrant. He pointed out the it was not signed, and the case was ordered the complaint amended.

The actions of the regular police and their attitude toward the raid has created much comment. It is being openly averred that the police hampered Constable Cross in his work, and the prediction is made that further developments in the case may reveal some underground workings.

Club Believed Immune.

The Narragansett Club had withstood the siege against gambling houses at the Summer resort ever since it was opened, and its millionaire clientele regarded it as luminous.

All the Pier society folk are aghast today at the news of the raid. Constable Cross has seized them and they are afraid now that the aggressive constable Cross and his deputies vow they will close up every gambling place in town.

Those caught in the raid are worrying over their names come out when they are taken to court. Among them are the wives of men who, it is rumored, think that they were cutting the goddess of chance. Men, too, who would prefer that their wives know nothing of their gambles are in a bad fix. Altogether, the raid has shaken up Narragansett Pier more than anything that has ever happened in the resort town.

Young Twins a Special Deputy.

The Narragansett Clubs is in the Clark Block, overlooking the blue waters of the bay. Its patrons always have been of the aristocracy, and the bets have run into fortunes. Exactly how Constable Cross happened to conceive the idea of the raid no one knows. He never made one before, and, for that matter, neither had the police.

The constable laid his plan discreetly and set an hour for the raid, choosing his deputies, besides young Irvine, were George Cummins, a colored chauffeur, Samuel Brown and George Tennant, the latter a member of the police force.

Constable Cross waited until seven minutes after midnight to thrust into the club. He knew that the men who were wheels would be whirring and that the club's doors would have to be opened to the public at the time.

The raiders leaped into the room and found the gambling in full swing. Without any decent upon the part of the officials the doors were closed, the electric lights were turned out of the streets, lighted before two-fore of the club. The street was alive with its gay throng, and the raiders passed from the machines to the club without being molested.

Quietly the raiders walked to the club-house archway, and at the threshold of the door found a sleepy man on guard. Cross suddenly seized the astonished man by the throat and choked him until the fellow could not utter a sound.

Hurling the dazed watchman aside, Cross and his men made for the stairs and rushed to the floor above, where they found themselves in a maze of hallways. It took Cross five minutes to find his way through the door leading to the saloon. As the constable and his deputies, with their revolvers raised, stepped into the gambling hall a dazzling sight met their gaze.

All about the immense room were knots of men in evening clothes and richly dressed, diamond-decked women, bending intently over the whizzing wheels. Huge stacks of money lay upon the tables before them. The scene was one of lavish splendor. The rich tapestries blended with the gowns of the fair women. Over the room was the hum of excited play.

In the throng of players the men and women were equally divided. Negro flunkies stood at respectful attitudes.

Players Huddled Into Corner.

As Constable Cross notified his men to go into the hall, there was a great movement of flunkies, who offered to take the raiders' hats. When the flunkies saw the gleam of the revolvers, they jumped back and hid out yells. The society gamblers looked up in surprise, and many deputies with drawn pistols, abruptly stopped their play and gazed in amazement.

Cross ordered his deputies with the room and, as the women huddled around their men folk, uttered shrill cries of tones.

"In the name of the law, you are all under arrest. There will be no fooling about this matter, and every one of you to get into that corner at once and keep quiet."

The constable indicated the corner he meant and his deputies followed his order by poking their revolvers under the noses of the men. The women rallied as she tried to get up from the table. Other women made a rush for the windows, though to leap out, but were restrained.

Cross went ahead, stuffing his pockets with money, putting coins and roulette balls in a bag and directing his men as they gathered the wheels in their arms. Cross secured over $20,000 from the tables and his pockets bulged out as he jammed the green and yellow bucks in.

CLERGYMAN, 78, TO TAKE BRIDE OF 22

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—The Rev. Dr. Herrick Johnson, seventy-eight, professor emeritus of the McCormick Theological Seminary and formerly president of that institution, is about to wed Miss Margaret Duncan, twenty-two, a society woman of Louisville, Ky. The announcement of the engagement was made by Mrs. Herrick J. Gray of St. Louis, a sister of Miss Duncan, with whom he has been living. Details have not been announced. Johnson's first wife died about four years ago. He is widely known as a Presbyterian minister and was moderator of the general assembly in 1882. Dr. Johnson and Miss Duncan met a year ago at Atlantic City.

COURT APPOINTS ANDERSON MASTER

As counsel in the cases of the Suffolk Engraving Company and other engraving firms failed to agree on a master, Judge Hitchcock, of the Superior Court, to-day appointed Elbridge H. Anderson to hear and report upon evidence. The compensation of Mr. Anderson has been fixed at $25 a day. The Photo-Engraving Co., No. 3, as defendant, will dispute the allegations of the plaintiffs, and much evidence will be presented.

Filene's "Walk Through Every Day" Filene's
WM. FILENE'S SONS CO.
Tunnel Bargain Basement
Entrance from Washington and White streets and Direct from Tunnel Trains.

A Buying Incident — The Story of a Maker Who Finally Accepted Our Offer—

A Maker who found himself overstocked with a lot of Wash Dresses came to us and asked for an offer on the stock. We made the offer but he refused it because he thought the price too low.

Twelve to one sitting ready for a sale of the Best Bargains of the season. Then this Maker came to us and said, "Let me have my dresses back. I can sell them myself at 97 1-2 more than you offer." This institution we found that dress goods and the maker had stood our offer. He had later agreed to accept it.

Our ad. for Sunday had already been "set-up." We could not include these new Dresses in the illustrations and undoubtedly many of the women who came to-day got even better Bargains than they had anticipated for most of the lots of dresses were made to sell for $5.00 and more. Another big lot from this shipment goes on sale To-morrow Morning at 2.00, and will be one of the Big Features for Tuesday in the Tunnel Bargain Basement.

TUESDAY!

4.95 to 6.95 White Linen and White and Natural Linon Two-piece Suits: many trimmed with lace insertion, others in plain man tailored models, with coats in Eton or pony styles, plain collars, and many with fancy embroidery on collar and cuffs.

N.B.—The largest lot and the lowest priced group of Wash Suits we have been able to offer this season. NOTE THAT THE SKIRT ALONE COULD NOT ORDINARILY BE PURCHASED AT THIS PRICE.

1.95

3.95 and 4.95 Sheer Lawn Dresses: with overskirt; low neck, short sleeves; effectively trimmed with laces and embroideries. THIS LOT ARE THE WANTED LIGHT SUMMER COLORS IN STRIPES AND CHECKS.

2.00

Hundreds of Other Lots Not Advertised—Tuesday!

1.50 White Linon Skirts—in all regular sizes; made of excellent quality linen, in plain, plaited and gored models... 65c

TO-DAY'S CABLE NEWS

Up to Midnight, London Time

Americans to Build a Railway in Turkey.

LONDON—By securing the right to building a $100,000 railroad in Turkey, and getting invaluable mining privileges, an American syndicate of financiers has outwitted the most astute commercial interests of Germany and England, the chief competitors for trade in Turkey, according to information secured here. Coming soon after America had forced Europe to grant her bankers participation in the Chinese railroad loan, the British development is the source of alarm here and in Berlin. Private cables received here indicate that the new power behind the syndicate is the United States Steel corporation. With the right of exclusively working for twenty years one of the richest mineral districts of Turkey, annual cables are already in the grasp of the Americans, London's financial district holds.

Triplane Burns in Midair.

BLACKPOOL, England—A. V. Roe, device aviator in Sunday flying meet burns sustained last night, when, while he was making a trial of a triplane of his own design, the machine caught fire in mid-air. While the flames spread under the breeze caused by the machine's flight, Roes coolly guided the plane to earth. The machine fell to the level ground.

Battle in Persian Capital.

TEHERAN, Persia—Government troops and members of the national military society known as the Fidais, commanded by Sattar Khan, have had a battle here. The military authorities ordered the Fidais to surrender their arms, but they refused and a stiff fight ensued. The members of the Fidais were unable to withstand artillery fire and surrendered. Sattar Khan was wounded. Forty-two persons were killed in the conflict.

Pope Receives American Pilgrims.

ROME—The Pope to-day received Bishop Augustin Vande Vyver of Richmond, Va., who led a party of 200 American pilgrims. The latter brought $1,500 Peter's pence and report on the conditions in his diocese. J. J. McCrane of Knights of Columbus delegated to thank the Pope for a special blessing, was also received.

Spanish Esperanto Delegate.

MADRID—The Spanish Government has appointed Jose Perogorda Camebo, captain of artillery, as delegate to the Esperanto congress, which assembles at Washington, August 14, and Antonio Sanchez Mogmol, Sr., lawyer and Esperantist, his proper substitute. Camebo, by his position, is sensitive to the American congress at the City of Mexico, September 8.

Prince Is Allowed to Land.

RIO JANEIRO—The President has withdrawn the prohibition to the landing of the Prince of Braganza. The Prince called on the President and Baron Rio Branco and had most cordial interviews. As Prince Philip, a nephew of the late Emperor.

Military Balloons Long Missing.

MUNICH—Much anxiety is felt here concerning the fate of two military balloons which ascended from this place on July 31 and which have not since been heard from. There were three persons in each balloon.

Fine Music for Lucerne.

LUCERNE—Signor Panigalli, "chef d'orchestre" of the famous Scala Theatre at Milan, has been engaged by the directors of the Kursaal, and delights large audiences daily by the refined and delicate passing of his baton.

Live Wire in Paris Fountain.

PARIS—Two score persons were shocked and one girl was fatally burned to-day when boys connected a public fountain with a live tramway wire.

Breaks English Distance Record.

LONDON—Willows, an English aviator, flew from Cardiff to London, a distance of 150 miles. He was unaccompanied. His flight breaks the English record for distance.

CUT HIS THROAT TO RELIEVE NERVES

PITTSFIELD, Aug. 8.—John A. Hall, thirty-six, of Springfield, son of the late John Hall, former president of the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Company of Springfield, committed suicide at a hotel here by cutting his throat with a razor. Hall had been suffering with a nervous trouble and resigned as the bookkeeper. He called the barber to shave him, and when the barber came Hall asked him for the razor that he might examine it. The barber gave it to him and Hall stepped into the bathroom and slashed his throat in three places before he fell to the floor.

ALASKA BEATS EAST IN ITS COAL FIELDS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Accessible coal of the best Alaskan fields, even at a half cent a ton on the ground, is worth more than most of the coal lands in the Eastern States, notwithstanding their nearness to the great markets of the Atlantic seaboard. This statement is contained in a bulletin issued to-day by the geological survey under the direction of George Otis Smith.

ICE CREAM CAUSES DEATH OF GIRL

BAYONNE N. J., Aug. 8.—Miss Nora Crotty died at her home here from ptomaine poisoning which, doctors say, was caused by ice cream she ate last Monday night. The girl ate the ice cream in a Bayonne store. Soon after she reached her home she complained of illness and severe pains, and Dr. Luther Donohue was called. He sent for another physician, and they decided that the girl was suffering from ptomaine poisoning. Her condition grew steadily worse.

TWO DEATHS AS TRAIN CRASHES INTO AUTO

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 8.—Two were killed outright, three were fatally injured and two others may die as the result of an accident in which a Southern Railway passenger train dashed into a large automobile before Bessemer. Five others were also injured.

Nearly everybody in Boston reads the AMERICAN.

MORPHINE USER CONFESSES HE SLEW SOROKIAN

Continued from First Page.

them I was convinced my father was murdered. I could get no help. Chief Inspector Dugan told me he would do nothing for me as he believed his theory of suicide was correct. I next went to the district attorney and told him my story. He ordered an investigation.

"Besides the evidence of persons who saw a man come out of my father's store No. 2047 Harlem avenue, I know my father would not commit suicide. My father never owned a pistol, and he never carry one. He had a feeling of horror toward firearms, as I can prove by a policeman himself.

Says Robbery Was Motive.

"There were two bullets in the body. The pistol was found 3 or 4 distance from the body. His death was the result of a deliberate murder, and it was an crazy man that did the job. I think robbery was the motive.

"It was cold-blooded murder. Why, after my father fell, the murderer must have stepped him and fired a last shot. This was the one that pierced his heart. The first struck him in the abdomen.

"If the police will connect the man Remington with the shooting I can clear the slop, they may get the right clew.

"Following his report my father must have been in the kitchen early Sunday. There are two ways in which he could be escaped from Sydney on the steamer St. Bruce that sailed from there to St. George's Bay, N. F., at 7:30 on Saturday night.

Chief of Police Burrell of Quinoy to-day wired the police of St. George's Bay to be on the lookout for the suspected man. Chief Burrell also asked the State Department at Washington to have the United States Consul at St. George's interest himself in the matter and co-operate with the local police in taking the suspect into custody.

Sydney Police Fail to Act.

A man named Griffin, who has been on the trail of Restelli for some time, and who gave the Quincy police the first tip that the fugitive was probably at Sydney, to-day sent Chief Burrell the following telegram:

"Absolutely no co-operation from the Sydney police."

"Restelli left Saturday night at 7:30 on steamer Bruce from Newfoundland."

Chief Burrell was much disappointed when he received these messages as he had hoped that the men suspected had been arrested at Sydney. He puts a great deal of faith in the belief that Restelli is the man being trailed in that section.

Working on New Clew.

Police Inspector McKay has dropped out of sight, and it is thought that he is working on a new watch leads into the centre of Boston, and it is believed that he knows that he saw Restelli in the South Station, Boston, on Saturday. He has been shadowing, but not knowing that he was followed the man took no particular attention to him. It is thought that the man recognized as Restelli took a train for Springfield.

But the trail leading to Sydney is receiving the greater attention from the local authorities. The Sydney police have trailed by means of maps and telegraph wire every movement of the fugitive since Moncton, N. B., reported to Chief Watts of Boston that he thought Restelli was on his train bound for Truro, N. S. At Truro, however, the suspect was missing.

RESTELLI ON VESSEL FLEES FROM SYDNEY

200,000 AWAIT TEMPLARS BIG CONCLAVE CALL

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—Two hundred thousand strangers are in Chicago to-day for the thirty-first triennial conclave of the Knights Templars of the United States which officially was opened by Sir Knight William B. Melish, acting grand master at divine services at Orchestra Hall, last night.

The real business of the meeting will not begin until to-morrow morning, and it is estimated that by that time 300,000 will be here for the event. The ugly loop district of Chicago has been transformed into a gay white way down which the knights will parade to-morrow morning.

The parade will be followed by the opening session of the conclave and at night a reception will be held. Competitive drills and a banquet to the grand officers will be the program for Wednesday and Thursday, several receptions and banquets are planned. Informal gatherings will be held Friday and Saturday. Los Angeles looms up as the biggest possibility for the next conclave. Boosters have been here for several days and are entertaining lavishly.

As unscheduled shifting of officers became probable to-day with the announcement that Sir Knight Frederick Thayer of Waterville, Me., very eminent grand warden, probably will not be a candidate for promotion under the system of rotation. Under the usual rule he would be advanced to very eminent sword bearer.

CAST FLOWERS ON SEA IN MEMORIAM

GLOUCESTER, Aug. 8.—Gloucester paid her annual tribute to the memory of her dead fishermen, when thousands of blossoms were scattered upon the waters of the harbor with fitting ceremony. The services were preceded by a parade of school children and others, which was headed by the Gloucester band and ultimately ended at Stage Fort Park. There the floral gifts of remembrance were cast. Colonel Charles F. Wonson, president of the Fishermen's Institute, and an address was delivered by the Rev. Hildreth H. T. Cooper, pastor of the Episcopal Church. The roll call showed that forty-three fishermen died during the year, leaving twelve widows and twenty-three children.

The floral offerings were placed on the water's edge at the park the crowd, which numbered more than 2,000, marched to Gloucman bridge, from which the children cast the flowers upon the waters.

BOSTON AMERICAN
HOUSEHOLD PREMIUM AND FLAG COUPON
Monday, Aug. 8.

NOTICE—A complete set consists of SEVEN (7) coupons of consecutive dates for either Household Premium or Flag. Only one coupon of each date will be accepted in each set.

WAKEFIELD MEN PICKED TO WIN NATIONAL SHOOT

Company A of Wakefield has the honor of contributing two of its best shots to the Massachusetts Rifle team, which is at Camp Perry 6, to compete in the National Rifle tournament. They are Quartermaster-Sergeant James H. Keough and Private George W. Reid.

The former is a shot with a world-wide reputation, being a member of the American team that won the Palmer trophy in England a few years ago, at which time he was the high man of the tournament. He has also been one of the old reliable shots on the Massachusetts team at the National matches at Sea Girt and Camp Perry.

While shooting on the American team is a cable match this Spring against England and Australia he established a new indoor world's record, shooting 499 out of a possible 500.

At the New England Military Rifle tournament at Wakefield a few weeks ago Sergeant Keough led the field and won one of the grand aggregate prize, a most coveted trophy.

Private Reid, although not having had the experience of Keough, is one of the most consistent shots in the State and has other notable achievements to his credit to shoot on the Massachusetts team.

The work this year has been of high order, and he certainly will be heard from in the 1910 matches. Reid will be able to be shot in conjunction with the team matches.

Nothing succeeds like circulation. Advertise in the AMERICAN.

Tel. 2720 Ox.

FREE! FREE!!

This Elegant, Imported Gold Decorated English Porcelain Dinner Set

FREE FREE

READ TH.S OFFER

Absolutely free with every cash or credit sale. Young couples or others who intend going to housekeeping will find this a most desirable package of this offer. No stinger, no complications. Call and see this elegant set. Only limited number of sets to be disposed of at any down payment. Absolutely free. Don't miss this offer.

That we can save you from 25 to 40 per cent. on your purchases is a fact. Come to-day and buy to the best argument we have to offer.

Low Rent. Low Expenses. Low Prices

Make Your Own Terms. Cash or Credit

MORSE FURNITURE CO
82-84 WASHINGTON ST. 822
COR. COMMON ST. BOSTON

Open Saturday Evenings

Physicians Recommend Castoria

CASTORIA has met with pronounced favor on the part of physicians, pharmaceutical societies and medical authorities. It is used by physicians with results most gratifying. The extended use of Castoria is unquestionably the result of three facts: First—The indisputable evidence that it is harmless: Second—That it not only allays stomach pains and quiets the nerves, but assimilates the food: Third—It is an agreeable and perfect substitute for Castor Oil. It is absolutely safe. It does not contain any Opium, Morphine, or other narcotic and does not stupefy. It is unlike Soothing Syrups, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, etc. This is a good deal for a Medical Journal to say. Our duty, however, is to expose danger and record the means of advancing health. The day for poisoning innocent children through greed or ignorance ought to end. To our knowledge, Castoria is a remedy which produces composure and health, by regulating the system—not by stupefying it—and our readers are entitled to the information.—Hall's Journal of Health.

900 DROPS
CASTORIA
ALCOHOL 3 PER CENT.
A Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of INFANTS & CHILDREN
Promotes Digestion Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral.
NOT NARCOTIC.
Recipe of Old Dr. SAMUEL PITCHER
A perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.
Fac-Simile Signature of
NEW YORK.
At 6 months old
35 DOSES—35 CENTS
Guaranteed under the Food &

Exact Copy of Wrapper.

Letters from Prominent Physicians addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Dr. B. Halsted Scott, of Chicago, Ills., says: "I have prescribed your Castoria often for infants during my practice, and find it very satisfactory."

Dr. William Belmont, of Cleveland, Ohio, says: "Your Castoria stands first in its class. In my thirty years of practice I can say I never have found anything that so filled the place."

Dr. J. H. Taft, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I have used your Castoria and found it an excellent remedy in my household and private practice for many years. The formula is excellent."

Dr. R. J. Hamlen, of Detroit, Mich., says: "I prescribe your Castoria extensively, as I have never found anything to equal it for children's troubles. I am aware that there are imitations in the field, but I always see that my patients get Fletcher's."

Dr. Wm. J McCrann, of Omaha, Neb., says: "As the father of thirteen children I certainly know something about your great medicine, and aside from my own family experience I have in my years of practice found Castoria a popular and efficient remedy in almost every home."

Dr. J. R. Clausen, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "The name that your Castoria has made for itself in the tens of thousands of homes blessed by the presence of children, scarcely needs to be supplemented by the endorsement of the medical profession, but I, for one, most heartily endorse it and believe it an excellent remedy."

Dr. R. M. Ward, of Kansas City, Mo., says: "Physicians generally do not prescribe proprietary preparations, but in the case of Castoria my experience, like that of many other physicians, leads me to make an exception. I prescribe your Castoria in my practice because I have found it to be a thoroughly reliable remedy for children's complaints. Any physician who has raised a family, as I have, will join me in heartiest recommendation of Castoria."

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS Bears the Signature of

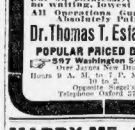
Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

$8 Best Set



Don't pay any dentist $15, $20, $25 or $35 for a set of teeth. No matter how poor or ill-fitting your present plate may be, we will make you a new one, by the same process, and guarantee it better at any price. Made in one day.

$8.00 This celebrated Anchor Denture Plate is the best plate of its kind in existence. No rubber to sicken the taste. The wearer can talk better than with the ponderous rubber plate, and eat, and fits better, it never loses or changes its form, and never embarrassment.

Dr. Brockway, having the best set of teeth that dental science can produce for $8, is all that he asks for his work. Call and let him show you his system. Impression taken and you will be notified when the plate will be ready. If necessary.

Bridge Work and Crowns put on painlessly, at once, and warranting 20 years.

All Operations Guaranteed Absolutely Painless

Dr. Thomas T. Estabrooks
POPULAR PRICED DENTIST
Over Jacobs New Drug Store
Hours 9 A. M. to 6 P. M. Sundays 10 to 2.
Opposite Keith's.
Telephone Oxford 2755.

MARRY ME, FANNY

and I'll buy the ring of the original and only Allan Ring, the solid gold, hand engraved wedding rings in their own factory from $8 to $12; any special design you may want. Thousands of pairs to select from. Open evenings.

WILSON BROS.

$3 GLASSES for $1
$5 GLASSES for $2

You can get a perfect fit in our first quality lenses for $1; sold elsewhere for $2 and $3. The test Wilson Ring Lens is the best for reading. Lenses to fit any eyeglass or spectacle frame.

ALARM CLOCK 50c

Buy of Us, We Are Agents for
ROGERS' SILVERWARE
WALTHAM WATCHES

Satisfaction guaranteed. The best in the world. We employ 10 skilled watch repairers. Only store.

FORCED TO VACATE

Every Piece of Furniture Must Be Sold Before Sept. 15th.

$4.50

For This Elegantly Finished

MAHOGANY Piano Polished ROCKER

Regular $9.00 Price

BEACON FURNITURE CO
14 and 16 Washington St.

MRS. "NICK" STILL IGNORES SMOKE CHARGE

BEVERLY, Aug. 8.—Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth has arrived here with Congressman Longworth and will be the guest of the Bryce J. Allans at their Beverly Cove Cottage for a few days. She refused today to make any comment on the anti-cigarette campaign suggested by her indulgence in that regard.

While both Mrs. Longworth and her husband deign no reply to the manifold statements and resolutions on the question, the W. C. T. U. in various parts of the country, especially in the Middle West, is increasing the agitation.

Despatches from Indianapolis said that "Cigarettes and Mrs. Alice Longworth" would be the principal topic of discussion at a big special meeting of the W. C. T. U. of that city. This was stated on the authority of Mrs. S. R. Artman, president of the union, after a conference with the other union officers.

Mrs. Atherton on Other Side.

The agitation is drawing pronounced opinions on both sides of the woman-and-cigarettes question. One of the most striking is given by Gertrude Atherton, the author. Mrs. Atherton said in San Francisco that cigarettes were better than pro-vincialism. She declared:

"I don't think smoking is unbeautiful, but it is more provincialism to object to it on any other ground. As well argue that society should not drink or whiskey be mentioned in fiction. What these virtuous dames need to see is something of the world before they attempt to run it. The country is rotten with provincialism. I sincerely hope Mrs. Longworth will continue, if it does not hurt her."

At the same time that Mrs. Atherton was saying this the Golden Gate Christian Endeavor Union of San Francisco refused to adopt a resolution condemning Mrs. Longworth for alleged cigarette smoking. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., is now in San Francisco. It was pointed out at the Christian Endeavor meeting that Mrs. Longworth's brother might "frown upon the religious and moral societies of the city" if the resolution, directed against his sister, was passed.

The Princess Engelitcheff, who was formerly Miss Eva Partridge, daughter of the Chicago grain millionaire, is another prominent society woman who defends Mrs. Longworth.

Dispatches from Chicago, where Princess Engelitcheff is connected with the Russian consulate, quote the Princess as saying:

"I smoke cigarettes and I look upon all this agitation against Mrs. Longworth as an unwarranted public attack upon an individual act. It is outrageous. I sincerely trust Mrs. Longworth will continue to treat her critics with the silent scorn she has assumed with such dignified grace. There is no harm in a woman smoking cigarettes. It is the first puff or the last puff. Outside interference is contemptible."

Sorry for Mrs. Longworth.

Miss Lucy Page Gaston of Chicago, head of the Anti-Cigarette League of America, said at the Martha Washington Hotel in New York City:

"It is unfortunate that Mrs. Longworth has been singled out for attack. This cannot but prejudice our cause in the minds of many people whose interest and co-operation we covet. But good is sure to come of it all. Our movement will have brought before thousands of people who otherwise might never have heard of it."

On the other hand, Miss Charlotte Smith of Boston, National President of the Woman's Industrial and Rescue League and founder of the anti-cigarette statute, blames not only Mrs. Longworth, but also former President Roosevelt. Mrs. Smith says:

"A Fearful Bad Example."

"It is lamentable, of course, that anyone should smoke cigarettes, especially so that women should smoke them, and most lamentable of all that the daughter of one of our Presidents should indulge in the vice.

"Some blame must attach to Mr. Roosevelt in the matter. It is Mrs. Longworth's father. Mr. Roosevelt has talked to the nation about every objectionable subject, especially on children and anti-race suicide. He should look to his own children, or should have looked to them when they were in his charge.

"It is a menace to our girls that Mrs. Longworth should smoke. When our society buds see that a woman of Mrs. Longworth's prominence—the eldest daughter of a president of the country—smokes cigarettes, they are encouraged to indulge themselves. Mrs. Longworth set a fearfully bad example."

COLUMBUS PARADE OFFICERS NAMED

Colonel John J. Sullivan of the Ninth Regiment, M. V. M., who has been appointed chief marshal of the Columbus Day parade, to-day appointed Captain Jeremiah E. Fennessey as his chief of staff and Major P. F. Butler to be surgeon-in-chief. Colonel Sullivan has established the chief marshal's headquarters at No. 18 Boylston street, where all arrangements for the great parade will be carried to completion. Further appointments on the chief marshal's staff will be announced later.

SLIGO SOCIAL CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

The Sligo Social Club, the oldest Irish county club in Boston, has elected the following officers: Bernard Donagher, president; John O'Connor, vice-president; M. J. Kinnuel, recording secretary; John Henson, financial secretary; John O'Gara, treasurer; Patrick R. O'Lalla, corresponding secretary and librarian. The club will hold a grand concert and ball in Paine Memorial Building on October 19 in aid of the United Irish League.

LLOYD'S
EYEGLASSES AND SPECTACLES
4 STORES—USE THE MOST CONVENIENT
315 Washington St.
310 Boylston St. } BOSTON
75 Summer St.
1252 Massachusetts Ave. CAMBRIDGE
ANDREW J. LLOYD CO.

ABRUZZI WINS THE KING'S CONSENT TO WED MISS ELKINS

MISS KATHERINE B. ELKINS

Miss Katherine Elkins, Whose Marriage to the Duke of the Abruzzi Is Assured.

ROME, Aug. 8.—The opposition of the royal family to the marriage of the Duke of the Abruzzi and Miss Katherine Elkins, daughter of Senator Stephen B. Elkins of West Virginia, has been overcome. An official announcement of their engagement is momentarily expected. It will not be necessary for the Duke to renounce his title. Miss Elkins will be received into the family as a member of the royal court.

Most of the hostility to the match came from the haughty Duchess of Aosta, wife of the Duke's eldest brother. Illness took the Duchess to Central Africa, and she was no longer able to participate in the family councils. The Duchess is reported now to be dying of consumption. Her influence in the royal family against the match has gradually grown less. Queen Margherita, who was guided largely by the advice of the Duchess, has finally been won over by Abruzzi, and is now willing that the wedding shall take place. King Victor Emmanuel has been more or less indifferent, and was easily persuaded to give his consent.

Made Secret Trips.

The Duke of the Abruzzi is now stationed in Venice, where he is in charge of the arsenal. Miss Elkins and her mother have been summering at Toblach, Austria, just across the border. Throughout the Summer the Duke has been regularly motoring across in a 120-horsepower automobile. He made these trips incognito for some time, until his identity was discovered and the fact of his visits was made public.

It was thought then that either Miss Elkins and her mother would leave Toblach, or the Duke would discontinue his visits. But neither eventuated. The Duke continued his flying trips across the frontier, and broke no secret of them. There was no interference from Rome, and this was taken as evidence that the hostility to the match was not as intense as it had been. Indeed, the King and Queen must have had full knowledge that the Duke was visiting Miss Elkins.

From Venice to Toblach is about 150 miles. It was possible for the Duke to make the trip by railroad, but this plan would always have disclosed his destination. Instead, the gallant Abruzzi frequently in his automobile was taken as proof of his devotion to Miss Elkins. He departed from Venice after nightfall, and was always back at the Arsenal before daybreak.

The romance of the Duke of the Abruzzi and Miss Elkins dates back to May, 1907, when the Duke was visiting Washington. They met at a dinner, and thereafter were together as often as to occasion comment from their friends. The Duke became intensely attentive to Miss Elkins, and his attentions were not discouraged.

He returned to Italy, but came back to America the following March, and immediately renewed his attentions to Miss Elkins. They became so marked that a report that they were engaged was not denied. The rumors swelled into something approaching certainty in the following months, and it was said that the date of the wedding had been settled upon.

Then came reports from Rome of bitter opposition to the match on the part of the Dowager Queen and the King. At that time it was not generally known that the sons of the hostilities lay with the Duchess of Aosta, but it was evident that the Italian royal family would not countenance a match between the Duke and an American heiress. There were frequent conferences between the Duke and Senator and Mrs. Elkins, and late in 1908 the Senator issued an emphatic denial of the engagement.

Duke Kept Silent.

The Duke held to his never-broken policy of making no public statements. He has never been interviewed for any publication, not even concerning his daring explorations. This was given as a reason for his failure to deny the engagement. Senator Elkins's denial did not stop the rumors of an engagement.

In the meanwhile William B. Hitt, son of the former representative from Illinois, became devoted to Miss Elkins. He accompanied her everywhere. Washington society watched the pair eagerly for some sign that would indicate that "Billy" Hitt had captured Miss Elkins's heart. But though Hitt was persistent and devoted to his fair engaged, there never appeared to be anything more serious in Miss Elkins's attitude toward him than mere sisterly friendship.

When Miss Elkins went to Europe, "Billy" Hitt followed. The latter pretended it was not desired there. As soon as Miss Elkins reached the other side of the Atlantic the Duke of the Abruzzi found it convenient to be there at the same time. It was said that the influence of King Edward, and that the King did everything in his power to smooth the path of the young couple.

Miss Elkins's trips to Europe were said by her father to be taken for "heart trouble." The Senator's wife also said this with a straight face, and no one ever knew whether or not he intended it as a joke. Reports that the Duke and Miss Elkins met in various European resorts were frequent. In November of last year it was reported that the Duke had decided that he intended to marry Miss Elkins. This, however, was not authoritative, and the Duke continued to visit Miss Elkins at every opportunity.

LONGWORTH AS A BABY JUDGE IS PROTESTED

CINCINNATI, Aug. 8.—The Cincinnati Mothers' Club is asked to make formal protest against Congressman "Nick" Longworth being one of the board of judges at the coming Cincinnati baby show.

The Cincinnati mothers, many of them members of the club, feel that Congressman Longworth is, for obvious reasons, no judge of babies.

It is supposed that the congressman's name was mentioned for the board of judges because he is a song-and-dance man champion golfer of the American baby.

But that is not enough, the agitators declare, to qualify the Congressman himself. They feel that the first requisite of a baby judge is fatherhood. Until there is a baby in the Longworth mansion, the Congressman cannot hope to pose as a Solomon on babyhood.

Congressman "Nick" is an expert pianist and a near-virtuoso on the violin. At a musicale or charity benefit he might shine as a critic. But when it comes to judging brown "chits" he does not belong, in the opinion of the Cincinnati mothers.

Some of the Cincinnati fathers say with nuanced grin that maybe having an children of his own would enable the Congressman to sit on the judging board with an unbiased mind.

DRAMATIC CHAPTER IN DOUBLE TRAGEDY

PITTSBURG, Aug. 8.—Startling developments regarding the killing of Dr. G. M. Stewart, the young society physician, by Edna Wallace, whose bodies were found in the bedroom of Stewart last Monday night, came to light to-day. The announcement is made that all things point to the fact that Miss Wallace killed Stewart and remained with the body in the strange house for from fifteen to twenty-four hours before then, dressing and lying down beside his lifeless body, saw her brains out.

BRYANT HENRY LEFT MONEY TO CHARITY

The will of Bryant T. Henry of Brookline, who formerly had offices at No. 6 Beacon street, was filed in the Norfolk County Probate Court, Dedham, today. By the will the American Sunday School Association of Philadelphia, the Boston North End Mission and the New England Naval Hattin House Association at Westminster, Vt., each receive $200. Miss Ellen G. Sutherland, employed by Mr. Henry for some years, receives a bequest of $2,000. The estate is valued at $50,000.

CARPENTERS' SMOKE TALK.

Chelsea Carpenters' Union, No. 443, holds a smoke talk to-night, with A. J. Gaudette, agent of the Carpenters' District Council of Greater Boston as the principal speaker.

$50,000 LOST BY BARRYMORE'S PLAN TO MARRY

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Mrs. Sidney Harris has confirmed the report that her daughter, Miss Katherine Corri Harris, is engaged to Jack Barrymore. The day of the wedding has not been decided, but it is expected to be within the next three weeks. This marriage will cost Lloyds $50,000.

Miss Harris's father is a wealthy lawyer and she is one of the prettiest and most popular members of the younger social set, though only eighteen years old. Her father and mother were divorced in 1901.

Mrs. Harris is very much in favor of the match.

Mother and daughter are living at the Hotel Brayton, Madison avenue and Seventy-ninth street. They have a house in Flushing, L. I. Mrs. Harris is the daughter of the late Judge John R. Brady of the Supreme Court, and is wealthy.

Jack Barrymore has been reported engaged many times during the last few years. He received much notoriety at the time of the Thaw trial, as he was one of the many admirers of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw.

Last May his managers took out a $50,000 policy with Lloyds against the possibility of his getting married inside of a year. They alleged that his value to them would be lessened in that extent in case he should forswear single blessedness.

$5,000 PRIZES FOR NEW ENGLAND CORN

WORCESTER, Aug. 8.—The New England corn exhibition, to be held here November 7 to 12, is to be the most complete display of corn, cereals and grains ever held in New England. Several premiums of more than $5,000 are to be awarded. One prize of $500 is for the largest quantity of ears shelled corn obtained from an acre. Another $500 prize is for an acre of corn showing the greatest quantity of food value. A cash prize of $200 for the best ten ears of white dent corn grown in New England in 1910 also is offered.

MARINE ATTEMPTS SUICIDE BY SHOOTING

Leaving a note to his sweetheart and another one for the proprietor of the hotel, Ralph H. Nichols of No. 2224 West street, Rockford, Ill., a marine enlisted here in the U. S. Virginia, now at Charlestown Navy Yard for repairs, attempted suicide early today by shooting a bullet into the Bulfinch House on Causeway street. He is at the Relief Hospital, where it is said he will die.

POLISHERS TO MEET.

Metal Polishers, Buffers and Platers' Union, No. 95, have called a special meeting to-morrow night to consider a local problem, at which time they also will be formulated for the more complete organization of the craft in this city.

NEW YORK GIRL AND THE ACTOR SHE WILL MARRY

MISS KATHERINE C. HARRIS

JOHN BARRYMORE

EX-GOVERNOR FOLK HURT IN AUTO CRASH

MUSCATINE, Ia., Aug. 8.—Former Governor J. W. Folk of Missouri was injured in an automobile smashup near here when to save the machine from turning turtle the driver took a ditch and hit a telegraph pole. Mr. Folk and three companions were hurled out of the machine, and the Governor sustained bad bruises on his right arm and left leg. His right wrist was sprained when he struck the bank.

The AMERICAN goes into more homes than all the other evening papers of Boston combined. It is the Quality newspaper.

INSURGENTS FOR CUMMINS FOR PRESIDENT

DES MOINES, Iowa, Aug. 8.—That Senator Albert B. Cummins is the logical candidate for the elements of Western insurgency to support for the presidential nomination in the campaign for 1912 is the settled conviction of his constituents, and to the sounding of that consummation all the energies, resources and enthusiasm which his devoted followers can summon will be directed.

It has now transpired that the long hours during which the lieutenants of Senator Cummins were closeted behind locked doors last month with the entirely devoted to convention platform phraseology, but that a programme was considered for strategic action along lines above indicated when it should appear clear that the hour had struck for the movement to be inaugurated.

At a conference in Senator Cummins's office, participated in by former Lieutenant-Governor Warren G. Harding, Editor A. B. Funk, State Senator James A. Smith, E. D. Chassell, ex-Senator Jesse Mirza, Congressman E. H. Hubbard, Congressman George M. Curtis and several others of similar standing and influence, the situation above indicated when it should appear clear that the hour had struck for the movement to be inaugurated.

At a conference in Senator Cummins's office, participated in by former Lieutenant-Governor Warren G. Harding, Editor A. B. Funk, State Senator James A. Smith, E. D. Chassell, ex-Senator Jesse Mirza, Congressman E. H. Hubbard, Congressman George M. Curtis and several others of similar standing and influence, the situation above indicated when it should appear clear that the hour had struck for the movement to be inaugurated.

It can be authoritatively stated that the conference went so far as to consider presidential candidates, and it was agreed that I. C. Wellver and John Sauer, formerly of Iowa, but now of Wyoming, should work after the publicity features in the East, while Wellver and Sauer should press agent at the insurgent cause in Iowa, should have charge of the same work in the west.

PARK SLEEPERS GET THREE MONTHS

Out of eleven men arrested by the South Boston police as vagrants in a raid on Commonwealth pier early to-day, only three were decided by Judge Fallon to be real vagrants. They were given three months each in the House of Correction. The other eight readily convinced Judge Fallon that they were respectable working men who had gone to the park to sleep in the open air. The eight workingmen, after being discharged from court, expressed themselves freely on the action of the police of Broadway station in making wholesale arrests without using any judgment in the matter.

75 CLOAK MAKERS GO OUT ON STRIKE

Seventy-five skirt and cloakmakers employed by Joseph Rudy of No. 694 Washington street struck to-day in sympathy with the Joint New York and Chicago strikers of the same trade. They charge that Rudy is supplying New York and Chicago firms attempting to break the strike in that city. The local skirt and cloakmakers are members of the International Vice-President Jesse H. Greenberger of that organization was in town to-day making preliminary plans as to what local manufacturers were shipping goods to New York.

HUMAN ASHES FOUND AFLOAT

NEWINGTON, N. H., August 8.—The police of this town believe that the box which James Murtaugh found floating in Great Bay to-day contained the cremated remains of two bodies. How they got into the bay is unknown and a careful investigation is being made.

Murtaugh picked up the box early today. Upon opening it he found a smaller box on the inside containing ashes and two plates. On one of the plates was the following inscription: Hannah G. A. Allen. Died September 17, 1857, aged twenty-one years. On the other was Mrs. James Rendell, died October 5, 1833, aged sixty-one years, eight months, thirteen days.

BONILLA'S MEN WIN VICTORY

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 8.—A force of 400 men under Gen. Lee Christmas, an American follower of Gen. Bonilla in Spanish Honduras, repulsed 200 of the government troops at Puerto Cortez, Honduras, at Pedro Pentada, seven miles from Celba, according to passengers on the steamer Orleanian arriving here to-day from Celba.

The engagement was brief and only a few were reported to have been killed and wounded. The only revolutionist slain was the oldest son of Gen. Mountain, one of the leaders of the revolutionary movement. Seven of the government forces were killed.

General Christmas, who has served with much prominence in several Central American warfares, took up a strong position at Pedro Pentada a week ago, and, it is said, sent a message to the enemy to Puerto Cortez that a number of Dias' forces after the march upon the Christmas men had been begun refused to go when they learned that they were going to fight men who were made prisoners by their leaders.

When the Orleanian left Celba last Wednesday, it was reported that Gen. Bonilla had landed with his army at Ceiba with a small port within 20 miles east of Celba, and taken possession of the town, and was preparing to begin a march on Celba.

2 BAKERS SCALDED BY BURSTING TANK

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Two men were scalded, one fatally, and thirty families were made suffocate to-day when a 400 gallon tank of hot water in an eight-inch wall blew up in the rear of the six-story building at the corner of Broome and Clifton streets.

Max Kallenberg was taken in a dying condition to Gouverneur Hospital. Nath Zakin suffered many scalds, but was taken to his home. Both were employed at bakery in the basement.

FORTY YACHTS CRUISE.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 8.—More than forty yachts, bedecked with flags, started on the cruise of the New York Yacht Club, from here to-day for Vineyard Haven, Mass., on the cruise of the New York Yacht Club fleet.

The Busiest Corner on Boston's Busiest Street

P. H. MAGRANE, Pres. P. B. MAGRANE, Treas.

JAMES A. HOUSTON COMPANY

Final Price Cuts on Summer Wear

Probably not one of them will be here by Tuesday night, so prompt are "American" readers to respond to these after-season bargain sales. The reductions are positively not excelled in Boston, no matter who says "half-price," etc.

21 Women's Fine French Serge Suits . . . Reduced to 8.75
Small lots, all excellently made, plain tailored models, lined with pure silk peau de cygne, good full plaited skirts, priced for final clearance 8.75

47 Women's Pure Linen Coat Suits . . . Reduced to 6.50
Tailored coat, 32 inches long, dark gored skirt, natural only, no starch or filling. 34-42 .....6.50

Women's Full Length Shantung Pongee Coats, Reduced to 10.00
Full length, finished with satin and Persian collar and cuffs.....10.00

Women's Fancy Tussah and Pongee Coats . Reduced to 12.75

Women's Pure Natural Linen Coats, Satin Collars . Reduced to 7.50

Women's Long Taffeta Silk Coats, Braid Trimmed . Reduced to 6.95

17 Misses' Tunic Pongee Dresses, Mesealine Trimmed . Reduced to 14.75

19 Misses' Cloth Suits . . . . . Reduced to 9.75
No two alike, all are good serge or worsted suits, also a few three-piece junior suits, new natural serge, peau de cygne lined, full skirts, priced for final clearance at 9.75

27 Misses' Pure Linen Coat Suits . . . . Reduced to 5.95

Junior Misses' Sailor Collar Dresses . . . Reduced to 2.50
Of percale and chambray, button on side front, 13-15-17 .....2.50

37 Girls' 7-8 Length Coats . . . . . Reduced to 5.00
Man-tailored, semi-fitted back, box front, wanted colors, 6 to 14.....5.00

Many Broken Lots Girls' Vacation Dresses . Reduced to 95c
Fine Percale and Chambray Dresses, high and low neck, long and short sleeves, dark, medium and light shades, all sizes 6 to 14 .....95c

15 Girls' White Embroidered Repp Dresses . Reduced to 3.65
Slightly soiled, but as good as new with one laundering.....3.65

Women's Pongee Gowns, Late Summer Models, Reduced to 9.78
Bodice cleverly tailored and has soutache braiding of contrasting shades. Skirts full plaited at bottom 10.00

White Crossbar Muslin Waists . . . . . Reduced to 75c
Made with Gibson plait patch pocket soft collar and ¾ sleeve, good practical vacation waist 75c

White Lace Trimmed Lingerie Waists . . . Reduced to 1.00
Trimmed with linen torchon lace and embroidery panels down front, ¾ sleeve. 1.00

Black and Navy Blue Silk Waists . . . . Reduced to 2.95
Made in a semi-tailored model with ¾ frill and long sleeves.....2.95

White Lingerie Waists . . . . . Reduced to 2.00
Trimmed with bands of fine embroidery and Valenciennes lace, long sleeves.....2.00

2 from 20 Extraordinary Items in Wash Dresses

One-piece Dresses, in chambray, gingham and percale, plain and figured, long sleeves, plaited and gored skirts, in good assortment of colors, broken sizes
Reduced to 1.55

Braided Linen Dresses, with ecru net yoke, panel back and front, with waist line effect, trimmed with carnation braid, long sleeves trimmed with same, suitable for afternoon or street wear.
Reduced to..... 4.35

NECKWEAR at Lowest August Prices

At 12½c Embroidered Linen Collars, hundreds of styles in this collection at this low price.

At 19c Dutch Collars, Jabots, Stocks and Bows, muslin and batiste trimmed with lace.

At 39c Dutch Collars, Cascades and Shirtwaist fronts, many high priced pieces in this lot.

Clearance of Women's Shoes at . . . 1.75
Broken lines, samples, manufacturers' trial models, in all 3210 pairs of high-class footwear, mostly tan, kid and calf pumps, and two and three eyelet oxfords.

Best Summer Shoes for Children . . 79c
Famous E. C. Shaffer Barefoot Sandals. The popular washable white horsehide kind with elk soles —also in tan calf. All sizes from Infants' 5 to youths' or misses' 2. Basement Department.

Final Clearance of Misses' Shoes . . 95c
Five extraordinary lots in regular Little Wonder Shoe Department, including broken sizes of some of our most attractive models.

All Summer MILLINERY at Bargain Prices

Lingerie Hats, made of embroidery and Valenciennes laces, trimmed with white or light shade satin ribbon, reduced to... 95c

Table of sample Burgessor hats, reduced to 75c

Table of trimmed linen outing hats, reduced to 95c

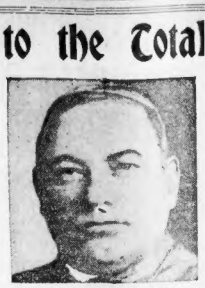
Table of imported wings, reduced to.. 25c

Table of French flowers, reduced to 10c

Table of sample Burgessor hats reduced to 95c

Archbishop O'Connell's Greeting to the Total Abstinence Leaders of America

As the temperance hosts come into Boston to attend the national convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union of America, they are met by a pleasant and paternal greeting from the head of the Boston Archdiocese, in whose jurisdiction the convention will hold its sessions under the roof of historic Faneuil Hall. The greeting of Archbishop O'Connell, as sent by the Archbishop to the Boston American, will be read with grateful hearts by those to whom it is addressed.



ARCHBISHOP O'CONNELL.

THE Archbishop of Boston sends most cordial greetings to all the delegates of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union assembling for convention in this historic city.

He trusts that their sojourn in Boston will be to them all a pleasant period of recreation and refreshment, as well as a time of useful work.

The cause in whose interest they gather is a holy one, and he is certain that every citizen of Boston, realizing the benefit derived from temperance, will join with him in giving the delegates a sincere and hearty welcome.

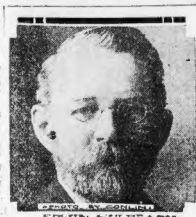
(Reprinted from the Boston Sunday American.)

CATHOLIC CHURCH LEADERS HERE FOR ABSTINENCE CONVENTION

REV. M. J. DOODY.

REV. JOHN T. MULLEN D.C.L.

Life-Long Leaders in Catholic Total Abstinence Movement.



EDWIN MULREADY.

F. E. O'CONNOR.

Men to Charge of Arrangements for the C. T. A. U. Convention.

JOHN T. SHEA.

EVERY SECTION OF COUNTRY SENDS DELEGATES TO SESSIONS.

Continued from First Page.

Regiment of Wilkesbarre, Pa., which is to take part in the big temperance parade on Wednesday evening, is already here and is in camp on the southeast side of Fort Independence, Castle Island.

The regiment is a fine body of young men, many of whom work in the coal mines mines.

Young Bugler the Mascot.

The mascot of the regiment is eight-year-old William Watson Deveney, who is an expert bugler. His father is a well-known newspaper man in Wilkesbarre and is here with the regiment. Young Deveney is able to sound taps in a manner which would cause older buglers to take notice. He will be with the regiment in the parade Wednesday evening.

The commissioned officers of the regiment are: Staff—Colonel William F. Murphy of Wilkesbarre, Lieutenant-Colonel T. J. Lally of Parsons, Major M. J. Loughlin of Wilkesbarre, Major Patrick Gibbons of Pittson, Major A. Clifford of Avoca, Major and Surgeon Dr. P. A. McLaughlin of Kingston, Captain and Adjutant D. McCawley of Wilkesbarre, Captain and Quartermaster Anthony Dougherty of Wyoming, Captain and Commissary J. Frank Lee of Plymouth, Chaplain and Lieut. Rev. Thomas Hines of Pittston, Captain and Signaling Officer Edward J. Murphy of Wilkesbarre, First Lieutenant and Battalion Adjutant Edward Gilroy of Pittston, First Lieutenant and Battalion Adjutant Edward Zoeller of Wilkesbarre, First Lieutenant and Assistant Surgeon Dr. Leo Mundy of Wilkesbarre, First Lieutenant and Assistant Surgeon Dr. Thomas A. Brislin of Wilkesbarre.

St. Patricks to Entertain.

The Rev. John Jordan, president of the Pennsylvania State Total Abstinence Union, arrive in Boston to-day with a contingent of men and women delegates. They will be entertained by the Catholic Total Abstinence Union Regiment. Father Jordan will camp with Company B at the fort.

The members of St. Patrick's Total Abstinence and Literary Society will hold a meeting at No. 631 Dudley street, Roxbury, this evening, to complete plans for the entertainment of a number of the visiting societies. The rooms of the organization are handsomely decorated with red, white and blue bunting. An invitation to the rooms is a large sash with the word "Welcome" A large green flag of Ireland, over which hangs the Stars and Stripes, is suspended from the steps and third stories of the clubhouse. Underneath is a picture of Father Theobald Mathew, the Irish apostle of temperance.

Following is the program of the convention:

Tuesday, August 9.

10 a. m.—Arrival of the Rev. Peter J. O'Callaghan, C. S. P., national president of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union of America, accompanied by Pioneer Cadets of Chicago and of New York, escorted to national headquarters, the Adams House, by the Catholic Total Abstinence Union Regiment of Wilkesbarre.

8 p. m.—Reception to delegates at the Adams House.

9 p. m.—Meeting of executive council at the Adams House.

Wednesday, August 10.

9 a. m.—Solemn high military mass at the Cathedral of the Holy Cross, Washington street, South End. Celebrant, Most Rev. Honoré Falconio, D. D., apostolic delegate. Sermon by Archbishop O'Connell.

11 a. m.—Delegates, escorted by the Catholic Total Abstinence Union Regiment of Wilkesbarre, march to Faneuil Hall. Addresses of welcome by Governor Draper and Mayor John F. Fitzgerald.

2:30 p. m.—Session of convention.

7:30 p. m.—Illuminated street parade. Route: Beacon street, Charles street, Park square, Columbus avenue, Concord street, West Newton street, Washington street, Waltham street, Shawmut avenue, Tremont street, Boylston street, Washington street, Dudley square, where the parade is dismissed after being reviewed by Chief Marshal Shea and staff.

Thursday, August 11.

9 p. m.—Solemn pontifical mass of requiem for the repose of the souls of deceased members of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union of America.

10:30 a. m.—Session of convention.

8 p. m.—Competitive military drill, followed by military ball at Mechanics Hall. The Wilkesbarre regiment and other uniformed bodies will attend.

Friday, August 12.

10 a. m. & p. m.—Harbor excursion to Nantasket and along the North Shore to Marblehead.

10 a. m.—Trolley ride to points of interest in and around Boston.

At 8 o'clock to-morrow evening there will be a reception to the delegates at the Adams House. There will also be a meeting of the Executive Council, C. T. A. U., will be held.

Solemn pontifical military mass will be said on Wednesday at 9 a. m. in the Cathedral of the Holy Cross. The celebrant will be the Most Rev. Diomede Falconio, D. D., apostolic delegate. The sermon will be preached by the Most Rev. William H. O'Connell, D. D., archbishop of Boston.

The services at the Cathedral will be ended by 11 o'clock, when the delegates, escorted by the Wilkesbarre regiment, will march to Faneuil Hall. Here the convention will be called at 11:30 o'clock.

Governor to Give Welcome.

The welcome of the delegates to Massachusetts will be spoken by Governor Draper. He will be followed by Mayor Fitzgerald in behalf of the city of Boston.

Solemn pontifical mass of requiem will be offered at the Cathedral for the souls of deceased members of the C. T. A. U. of America, on Thursday at 9 a. m.

On Thursday evening a competitive military drill, followed by a military ball, will be held at Mechanics Hall, Huntington avenue.

The delegates will enjoy a trip to Nantasket and along the North Shore to Marblehead on Friday. The same evening a temperance mass meeting and concert will be held in Boston Theatre at 8 o'clock.

On Saturday there will be trolley rides to points of historic interest in and around Boston.

The chief marshal requests that all societies outside of Boston which are to take part should at the earliest possible moment notify him as to the station in line at which they will report Boston in order that they may be met and escorted to their places in line with the least possible inconvenience and delay.

Everything is in readiness for the big parade on Wednesday evening. John J. Shea of Cambridge will be chief marshal. Major Michael J. O'Connor is chief of staff. Faltinus will furnish the cavid band for the parade, and members will carry red, green or other colored lights.

First division—Platoon of police, chief marshal (color red), staff (color white), band, the national officers and board of government of the Archdiocesan Union, past national officers, delegates to convention.

Second Division—Colonel William Murphy in command (blue). Catholic Total Abstinence Regiment of Wilkesbarre.

Third Division—Marshal (blue), band, visiting organizations in line in accordance with the distance traveled.

Fourth Division—Marshal (blue), band, societies of Essex County Union.

Fifth division—Marshal (blue), band, societies of the Boston Archdiocesan Union in the order of their date of organization, ladies, junior and cadet societies.

Route of the Parade.

The first division will form on Arlington street, right resting on Beacon, extending towards Boylston. Second division will form on Newbury, right resting on Arlington and extending towards Massachusetts avenue. Third division will form on the north side of Commonwealth avenue, right resting on Arlington, extending towards Massachusetts avenue. Fourth division will form on Marlboro street, right resting on Arlington street, extending towards Massachusetts avenue.

The route of the parade is to be as follows: Beacon, Charles, Park square, Columbus avenue, Concord, Harrison avenue, West Newton street, Washington, Waltham, Shawmut avenue, Tremont, Boylston and Washington. Adams square.

The parade will be reviewed by Archbishop O'Connell at the Cathedral of the Holy Cross, at which point the visiting societies and priests may also witness the parade.

Upon Adams square the parade will be reviewed by Chief Marshal Shea and staff, Archbishop O'Connell and the board of government of the Catholic Union of America.

This feature of the convention is arousing much interest among the members of the different military companies affiliated with the temperance societies. Local bodies are being put through the manual of arms by their regimental army officers so as to compete with the visiting commands.

General Thomas H. Barry of West Point Military Academy, will be chief of judges at the drills.

The rear hall will be beautifully decorated with American flags, portraits of Father Mathew, the great temperance apostle, and well known leaders of the Catholic total abstinence movement. It is expected that 2,500 guests will be present at the ball.

John Mitchell to Speak.

At the mass meeting in Boston Theatre on Friday evening the presiding officer will be Rev. Maurice J. O'Connor, D. D., spiritual director of the diocesan union. The speakers will include Archbishop O'Connell, Bishop Canevin of Pittsburg, Father O'Callaghan, national president of the C. T. A. U., and John Mitchell, the famous labor leader of Pennsylvania.

Convention Committees.

The committees in charge of the convention arrangements are as follows:

Badges—Miss Annie F. Sullivan, Boston; Martin J. Cahill, Cambridge; Miss Mary Duff, Boston; Helen Dreyer, Cambridge; Miss Annie Sheehan, Boston; Miss Nellie Sullivan, Norwood; Miss Mary Regan, Rockland; Thomas J. Cassidy, Robert J. Regan, Rockland; Thomas J. Cassidy, Robert J. Roche, Boston; Miss Mary Regan, Rockland; Miss Agnes Brosnahan, Miss Mary Sullivan, Rockland; Miss Mary Cantwell, Roxbury; Miss Mary Cantwell, Roxbury; Miss Mary Keeny, Dorchester; Mr. and Mrs. John P. Whalen, Miss Nellie Whalen, William Dunne, Quincy.

Competitive Drill—Michael J. O'Connor, Cambridge; Charles E. Hehir, Michael J. Lyons, Boston; Patrick Toland, Woburn; George S. Donahue, Somerville; William M. Toomey, Joseph Fitzsimmons; Patrick Feeley, Michael J. Burns, Miss Mary Cantwell, Roxbury; Miss Mary Regan, Rockland; McCarthy, Norwood; John Whalen, Mrs. Eugene Brophy, John Roche, William Regan, Medford; Miss Margaret Burns, Miss Mary Regan, Rockland; Miss Mary Cantwell, Roxbury; Patrick O'Rourke, Miss Mary Keeny, Joseph English, Malden; Quincy.

Decorations—Miss Mary A. Mullen, Charlestown; Frank Conroy, Walpole; Miss Mary Doherty, Boston; Miss Mary Malonis, Patrick Conroy, Boston; Miss Mary Mahler, Edward McGrath, Miss Ellen Mahler, Edward McGrath, Miss Ellen Mahler, Edward McGrath, Miss Ellen

ROSE PITONOF TELLS HOW SHE SUCCEEDED IN SWIM TO THE LIGHT

Rose Pitonof, a fifteen-year-old girl of Dorchester, has accomplished the swim from Charlestown bridge to Boston Light, a distance of twelve miles. Only one other swimmer has performed the feat, though many have tried it. Here is Miss Pitonof's own story of how she did it. She told the story to-day just before entering the water for a three-hour swim;

By ROSE PITONOF.

No I won't have to cut short my swim to-day to talk about the swim yesterday. I always stay in for three hours, anyway, and I'm sure the water is no colder to-day than it was yesterday.

When I jumped off the bridge at Charlestown yesterday I knew I was going to make the swim I had wanted to for so long. I was not the least bit nervous, for I have been swimming for some years, you know, and the water has no terrors for me.

Of course the water was very cold yesterday, but it didn't bother me, and I felt fine just as soon as I got started. When I passed Tom Rose I knew he would not finish the swim. He was working too hard and taking too many strokes. I used the breast stroke all the time and went at an easy pace. During the whole time I never once felt tired.

"Why, I could do it all over again to-day. The way I felt yesterday when I left the water I think I could have turned around and swum back. I felt just as though I had just walked around the block.

I only started to get warmed up to the work at Nix's Mate and first began to feel my strength out there. From that time it was a sort of runaway. I would have done the swim the other times I tried it, but my father insisted upon my coming out.

When I reached Bug Light I was positive I would make the lighthouse. I would not have quit then, I don't think, if I had been drowning. The people were cheering all the time, and it helped me, for I also appreciated the action of the ferryboat captain in stopping his boat so I wouldn't have to swim through the swells.

Of course, I'm thrilled to death at having at last made the swim, but I hate to be congratulated so much.

PROVES HERSELF ONE OF THE WORLD'S GREAT SWIMMERS

Rose Pitonof, the Dorchester girl, in swimming from the Warren bridge, Charlestown, to Boston Light, established herself as one of the greatest swimmers in this country to-day. She was in the water battling against strong tides for six hours and fifty minutes, performing a feat which has been accomplished by only one man and in which every woman has failed.

The only man who ever swam the twelve-mile course was Anderle, the Australian, who found the water far warmer, August 29 of last year, than was the case yesterday, when the fifteen-year-old girl made her marvelous swim, for yesterday the water averaged 54 degrees.

When the trial was made yesterday three men started with Miss Pitonof. They all gave up the battle after a few miles. But the brave little girl kept on, requiring nourishment but twice, and finishing the course at Boston Light with a spurt. Throughout her long journey she used the breast stroke, swimming an average of thirty-nine strokes a minute, and cheerfully smiling and answering questions at all times.

Fleet Follows Her.

She went down the harbor attended by her father and three friends in one boat and her physician, Dr. William F. Crockett, and trainer in another boat. But as she went on and on a small fleet of craft loaded with outing parties joined in the wake and she was cheered on by hundreds as she neared her goal.

At no time did she show fatigue and only once or twice complained of the almost deadly chill of the water. It was not thought that any of the swimmers would complete the trip when they started. The Revere life guards who had planned to make the test gave it up declaring that the water was too cold. But Miss Pitonof begged her father, Eli Pitonof, to allow her to make the trial.

She entered the water at 11:23, passed North Ferry landing at 11:47, Tenean at 12:12, Castle Island at 2:05, Long Island Head at 3:40, Bug Light at 5:41, and was parallel with the Boston Light at 6:13.

Followed Old Course.

The course pursued by Miss Pitonof's handlers, Max Smith, George De Corst and her father, was almost exactly the same that everyone else who has tried the swim has taken. At the start, a straight headon for the Metropolitan docks was made, which, were reached in good time. It was here that Miss Pitonof began to show her mettle by swimming away from the field that had started ahead of her.

MYSTERY GROWS IN RICE DEATH CASE

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 8.—Having run down the most promising clew without result, the police to-day are all at sea in the mystery surrounding the murder of William L. Rice, the rich lawyer, who was found shot and with his head almost severed by a knife, on the street near his home Friday night. The general belief is that he was the victim of highwaymen, who were frightened away before they could secure his money and valuables. His friends insist that revenge was not the motive.

FALLS OFF SCAFFOLD.

David Yarchen, 24 years old, and married, a carpenter, whose home is at No. 72 Westminster street, Roxbury, to-day fell from a staging twenty-five feet from the ground, on a new building at No. 82 Fayston street, Roxbury. His left thigh was fractured and he was also injured internally. A station 9 ambulance conveyed the injured man to the City Hospital.

STEAMER A TOTAL LOSS

KEY WEST, FLA., Aug. 8.—The Spanish tramp steamer Valmesada, which foundered near Fowey Rocks light, will be a total loss, according to the revenue cutter Forward, which is here to-day from the wreck.

Rose Pitonof, Who Swam 12 Miles to the Light

Upper picture shows her making diving start from Charlestown bridge; lower picture shows her after covering three miles in long swim.

KING ALFONSO ON WINNING SHAMROCK

COWES, Eng., Aug. 8.—King Alfonso of Spain, as the guest of Sir Thomas Lipton to-day, took part in the forty-eight mile race for the Royal Victoria Yacht Club's international cup.

The King was aboard the Shamrock, which was repaired yesterday, the mast which snapped Saturday, imperilling the King, being easily fixed. Running against the Shamrock were Kennedy's White Heather and four others besides the Westward, the American yacht which at Cowes last week took the Kaiser's cup.

The race was officially stopped half way, the Shamrock being declared the winner.

VOLUME OF REALTY TRADE INCREASING

The volume of business in the real estate market continues on the increase week after week, and judging from the figures up to date the present year will be a good one. Last week's statistics show a good increase in sales, mortgages and the amount of mortgages over those of the corresponding week of last year and also 1908.

The following table, compiled by the Boston Real Estate Exchange, shows the following entries of record at the Suffolk Registry of Deeds for the week ending August 6:

	1910.	1909.	1908.
No. of transfers..	265	421	402
No. mtgs..	233	178	159
Amt. of sales..	$1,016,590	$1,915,200	$789,571

The appended table, also compiled by the Boston Real Estate Exchange, gives in detail each day's transactions for the week beginning August 1 and ending August 6:

	Sales.	Mtgs.	Amt. of mtgs.
August 1	109	46	$177,650
August 2	123	52	296,950
August 3	69	34	72,462
August 4	49	24	87,000
August 5	55	19	454,000
August 6	70	58	147,988
Total	505	233	$1,016,590

Among the sales reported to-day was that of property on Bowdoin street, Dorchester, by Mary E. Tyler, nine rooms. There are two houses on the land, which is rated for $6,000.

Georgiana A. Wilson has sold to Thomas J. Kennedy a lot of land on St. Margaret street, near Bowdoin street, Dorchester, containing 3,911 square feet, and rated for $1,200.

Wellington Holbrook, of Dorchester sold to Mary E. Tyler and Maria Steers, wives of Lewis H. Tyler and Charles Steers, land on Ellery street, Dorchester, containing 5,865 square feet, assessed for $500.

Wellington Holbrook, of Dorchester, has sold to Margaret Rose a lot of land, containing 3,966 square feet and taken for two years, a lot on Ellery street, near Prairie street, Dorchester.

Georgiana A. Wilson has sold to Charles Frank Adams, all of Dorchester, land on Bowdoin street, Dorchester, containing 4,000 square feet, and rated for $1,000.

Clarissa Cate Agnew has sold for the owner, Henry O. Gallup, of Springfield, admistrator of the estate of the late Sherman F. Gallup (the Gallup Place) to Gallup, on Main street, Hyde Park, containing 4,000 square feet, and one-half interest in a certain parcel with two-story colonial house, containing eleven rooms, modern conveniences, and stable, and also several positive houses with side yards and the usual farm outbuildings and a fine orchard. The estate was sold to Arthur Billings, of Bradford, Mass., for $7,500. The property is not for sale to the public, but the estate was advertised at $7,500.

WOMAN IS FATALLY BURNED SAVING BABY

HAVERHILL, Aug. 8.—Mrs. Joseph Russo of No. 24 Grove street was fatally burned to-day when her dress caught fire from a gas range. She ran screaming into the street, fearful lest the flames would spread to the crib where her two months old baby lay. Neighbors pulled the burning cloth from the woman. She was removed to the Hale Hospital, where no hopes for her recovery are offered.

Nearly everybody in Boston reads the AMERICAN.

FIRE DESTROYS AN ENTIRE TOWN

MONTREAL, Aug. 8.—Cochrane, a mining town in Northern Ontario, was destroyed by fire early to-day. But one house was left standing. The loss is estimated at $750,000.

NEW HOLDUP IN PUBLIC GARDEN

Another assault in the Public Garden (which Mr. O'Meara says he can't police) came to light to-day, resulting in John Flaherty, twenty-six, being arraigned in the Municipal Court to-day charged with robbing John Corcoran of No. 24 Townsend street, Belmont, of a pocketbook containing $14 and a stick pin. Flaherty pleaded not guilty and was held in $600 for a hearing Wednesday.

According to the police Corcoran early to-day was on his way to Boylston street to get a car for Belmont. When he was in the middle of the Gardens he was set upon by two men, who beat him and took his money and pin. He followed one of them to Boylston street, where he caused his arrest by Patrolman Conway of Station 16. This man was Flaherty.

Almost everybody in Boston reads the AMERICAN.

FORMER MAYOR JOINS LEAGUE AGAINST RING

State Senator John L. Harrey of Waltham, former Mayor of that city, has joined the National League of Law Makers to Stop Prize Fighting. Senator Harvey says:

"I agree with the views expressed in your letter that America should not tolerate prize fighting."

Senator Harvey's letter is a sample of others that have been received by the BOSTON AMERICAN and the other Hearst newspapers in New York, Chicago, San Francisco and Los Angeles from law makers in all parts of the country.

Florida Senator Enrolled.

United States Senator Duncan Upshaw Fletcher of Florida, one of the most influential men identified with the political and business life of the South, has asked to be enrolled in the League. In a strong letter he says, in part:

"I believe prize fighting has a demoralizing influence and should be stopped. Please enroll me as a member of the League."

Quotations from some of the letters received by the American follow:

THOMAS S. CHENEY, speaker of the House of Representatives of Vermont—I am materially opposed to prize fighting and believe that we should put a stop to it. Our people would certainly object to criticise those in other countries for participating in such fights.

SENATOR CARL E. MILLIKEN of Maine—I am opposed to prize fighting and to the exhibition of prize fight pictures.

Will Work for League.

SELECTMAN A. W. LEONARD, Merrill, Me.—I am in full sympathy with the movement and would be pleased to have you enroll me as a member. If I can be of any further use in the movement kindly advise me.

F. P. BUNKER, Portsmouth, N. H.—I am in congratulate you in having started this movement against this disgraceful and disgusting sport of barbarism. I shall be happy to do anything in my power to make it more impossible on American soil a repetition of the affair at Reno.

WILLIS C. HARDY, Hollis, N. H.—I heartily endorse the sentiments expressed in the letter sent out by Mr. Hearst against prize fighting.

T. H. KENDALL, Roxbury, Vt.—You have left me nothing to say, except that I am opposed to prize fighting in roosters, dogs, bulls or men.

G. A. BEACH, conductor of the Vergennes (Vt.) Band—We are heartily in sympathy with any endeavor to prohibit prize fighting and will gladly lend our influence in this movement.

IRISH MAYORS TO PAY U. S. A VISIT

QUEENSTOWN, Aug. 8.—An all-Ireland deputation, including the Lord Mayors of Dublin and Belfast and prominent representatives of commerce, will sail for New York on the steamer Oceanic September 22, to confer with Frank H. Hitchcock, the American Postmaster-General, on the question of inducing the big Cunard steamers to resume calling at Queenstown.

More AMERICANS are read in the homes in Boston than any other paper.

MORE NOTED OPERA STARS FOR BOSTON

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—The Metropolitan Opera Company has increased the interest it has had in its operatic allies. Boston, according to the latest announcement from Giulio Gatti-Casazza in Paris, is to hear Geraldine Farrar, Olive Fremstad, Marie Rappold, Louise Homer, Enrico Caruso, Herman Jadlowker, Lee Devaux and Leo Slezak.

Mr. Slezak will in fact sing only half of the season in New York. The rest of the time will be spent as a member of the company in the Boston Opera House.

Then Mr. Dippel is to send Maurice Renaud to Boston for a season.

Will Open with "Mefisto."

The Boston Opera House will open on November 7 with Boito's "Mefistofele," with Leo Slezak[illegible] in the title role. He is coming later to sing for a few appearances at the Metropolitan.

The first absolute Boston novelty will be "The Girl of the Golden West," which will be sung by Alice Nelson, Florencio, Constantino and George Baklanoff. The latter with Mme. Llopoulos, will come to New York to give an exhibition of the talent that made him so popular last season in Boston and London.

The other novelties to be given in Boston are Dubussy's "L'Enfant Prodigue," "La Haindarra," and Converse's two operas, "The Pipe of Desire" and "The Sacrifice."

German operas will be performed for the first time in the Boston Opera House's coming season when "Tristan und Isolde" will be sung. The company will be sent over from the Metropolitan Opera House.

Old Favorites to Return.

The familiar singers to be heard in the company next year in addition to those mentioned, are: Lina Cavalieri, Fely Dowyne, Marie Gay, Marie Classens and Ruby Saxe, while the favorites are Carmen, Melis Colline, Boulbeur and Janka Cerbinka.

The Metropolitan Opera Company will make no trip to Boston next Winter, but will send its artists over from time to time. Messener's "Werther" is to be sung and the regular Italian and French repertoire. The only opera to be sung in German will be "Tristan und Isolde."

NORAH DUNLEA'S BODY RECOVERED

GLOUCESTER, Aug. 8.—The body of Miss Norah Dunlea of Charlestown, who lost her life in rescuing three girls at the Haven of Rest, was found about 300 yards from the place where the drowning occurred. Stanton King, superintendent of the Salter's Point Life Saving Station, who witnessed the accident and the subsequent heroism of Miss Dunlea, who assisted in the rescue of seven persons when their boat capsized, subscribed to the Dunlea tragedy, declared to-day that Fortier is deserving of a Carnegie medal.

FITZGERALD LAUDS LATE J. H. MELLEN

WORCESTER, Aug. 8.—Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston, was the principal speaker at a memorial service to the late Representative James H. Mellen, Harvard high tribute to Mr. Mellen and his public service. The meeting was presided over by Timothy F. Larkin, and the Mayor was escorted to the platform by Acting Mayor Peter F. Sullivan of Worcester.

They Can't Budge It

No amount of force or persuasion on the part of the 23 imitators can even budge Kellogg's Toasted Corn Flakes from its firm hold on the minds of the people. This has been emphatically demonstrated several times during the past few years. Imitations have come and gone, and new ones are being added every day, but Kellogg's goes on with an ever increasing demand. More of it is sold than all of the imitations put together. This proves that the people know the goodness of Kellogg's, its flavor and dainty crispness—and they invariably demand it. Kellogg's guarantees this quality to the Consumer. Why?

Because any grocer can buy a small lot at the same price as a large lot. There is no temptation to overstock to get a quantity "thrown in."

He has this privilege in no other brand of Corn Flakes. He gives you what he gets—fresh goods and genuine satisfaction. That is why you should always insist on Kellogg's.

W. K. Kellogg

The Genuine bears this Signature. Look for it.

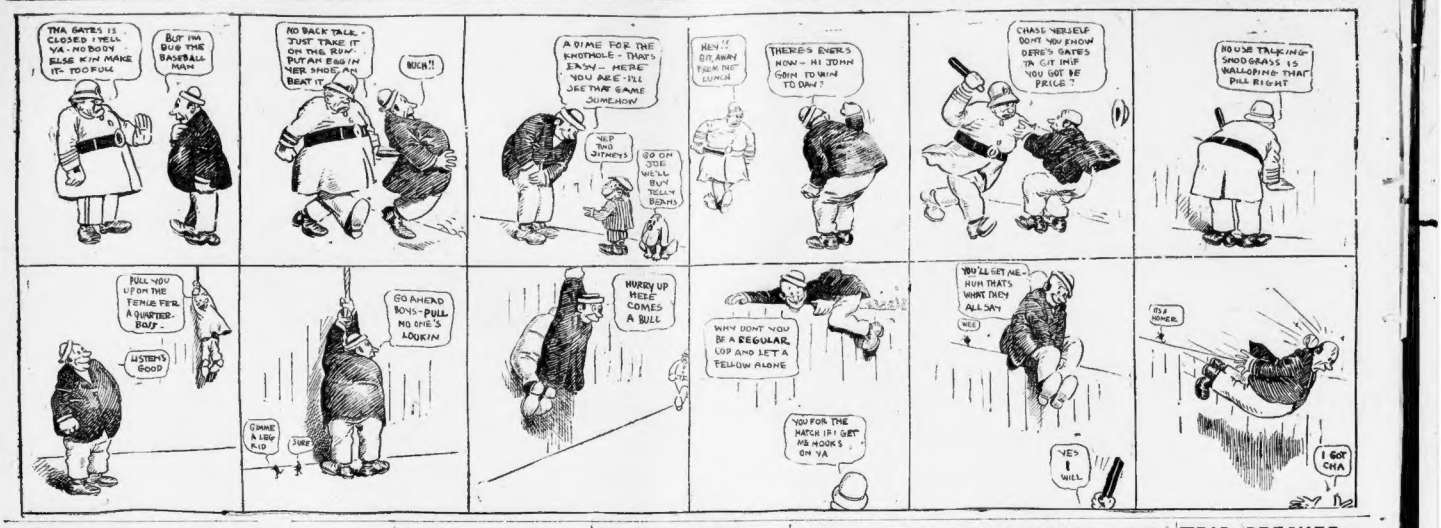
Made from Selected White Corn.

SONDER BOATS IN TRIAL RACES TO-DAY OFF MARBLEHEAD

BOSTON AMERICAN SPORTS

VELOCITY BOYS IN LAST GAME TO-DAY WITH LAJOIE'S MEN

They Couldn't Keep Bug From Seeing the Game -:- -:- -:- By Tad



TWA GATES IS CLOSED I TELL YA - NO BOOY ELSE KIN MAKE IT- TOO FULL
BUT I'M BUG THE BASEBALL MAN
NO BACK TALK - JUST TAKE IT ON THE RUN - PUT AN END TO HER SNOOZ AN BEAT IT
BUGH!!
A DIME FOR THE KNOTHOLE - THAT'S EASY - HERE YOU ARE - I'LL SEE THAT GAME SOMEHOW
HELP TWO PUTNEYS
GO ON JOE WE'LL BUY TELLY BEANS
HEY!! GIT AWAY FROM ME LUNCH
THERE'S EVERS NOW - HI JOHN SOIN TO WIN TO DAY?
CHASE HERSELF DONT YOU KNOW DERE'S GATES TA GIT IMIF YOU GOT NE PRICE?
HOUSE TRUCKING - SHOO GRASS IS WALGRING THAT PILL RIGHT
PULL YOU UP ON THE TEMUS FER A QUARTER-BOY - LISTENS GOOD
GIMME A LEW KID
SURE!
GO AHEAD BONS - PULL NO ONE'S LOOKIN
HURRY UP HERE COMES A BULL
WHY DONT YOU BE A REGULAR, LOP AND LET A FELLOW ALONE
YOU FOR THE HATCH IF I GET ME HOOKS ON YA
YOU'LL GET ME - HUH THATS WHAT DEY ALL SAY WEE
IT'S A HOMER.
YES I WILL I GOT CHA

RED SOX QUIT NAPS AFTER TODAY'S GAME

BATTING ORDER.

BOSTON.	CLEVELAND.
Hooper, r.f.	Turner, 2b.
Engle, 3b.	Stovall, 1b.
Speaker, cf.	Graney, l.f.
Stahl, 1b.	Lajoie, 2b.
Gardner, 2b.	Bernie, s.
Lewis, l.f.	Niles, r.f.
Wagner, s.s.	Birmingham, c.f.
Carrigan, c.	Ball, s.s.
Arellanes, p.	Link, p.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 8.—The Red Sox got away from this burg to-night, but before moving on to Chicago, where four games are to be played, they are out for another victory over the Naps.

The Speed Lads are the real comedian bunch that ever played ball. To a man they believe they will win at least twelve out of the seventeen games on the Western trip. This will atone for only three defeats in the four games with the White Sox and the five games in St. Louis.

Nevertheless the bunch is hopeful of getting away with it.

The Sox realize that the Athletics are playing a stronger game than ever before, but in spite of this the boys from Hendricks have lively ones aimed to that flag, and are determined to cop it. If the Tigers keep up their good work they will create a lot of bother with Connie Mack's aggregation, and this, coupled with Boston victories over St. Louis, will give the Speed Boys a chance to draw up close to the Athletics.

Manager Patsy Donovan had not decided as to-day who he should use in the final game with the Naps. Frank Arellanes will probably be the choice, although Patsy says he was as much as an oyster as to who would do the work this afternoon.

All of the men are in good shape, however. Collins and Eddie Cicotte are in top-notch form. Charlie Hall is on deck, and is always willing to take a chance. Eddie Cleotte, who went to his home in Detroit Sunday, will rejoin the team at Chicago on Wednesday.

Old Cy Young was slated for the job to-day. Much as the Red Sox boys like Denton they want to put it over him to-day.

DOVES OUT TO SPEAR PIRATES IN 2ND GAME

BATTING ORDER.

PITTSBURG.	BOSTON
Byrne, 3b.	Collins, l.f.
Leach, c.f.	Herzog, 3b.
Clarke, l.f.	Devenney, 1b.
Wagner, s.s.	Miller, r.f.
Ryan, 1b.	Ainsmith, c.
Gibson, c.	Abby, s.s.
Wilson, r.f.	Beck, c.f.
McKechnie, 2b.	Graham, c.
Adams, p.	Shean, 2b.
	Finch, p.

It's up to the Doves to spear the Pirates in the second battle of the series this afternoon and draw even with them, as the session's games stand eight to six in favor of the champions, and the Doves must get in a few substantial licks while the time is ripe if they want to keep up the good record they have made so far playing against the fast aggregation led by Fred Clarke and the invincible Wagner.

Last Saturday the Doves went down to defeat by a one-sided score, but the fans realized that the champions were playing the finest game ever seen on the local grounds by them and they could have beaten any one team. Such spectacular plays have not been seen for many days at the South End links.

Hans Wagner likes to bat on the local grounds, for he always aims for that short left field fence which looks easy for him. The series would not be complete unless he lifted the peller over the barrier.

Just now the Pirates are going at their fastest clip after many ups and downs, so the Doves will have to show some extra fine stuff to stop them in their mad rush after the Cubs to head them off from winning the pennant.

Buster Brown or Sam Frock are booked to pitch this afternoon, while Adams or Maddox are due to perform for the Pirates.

TOMMY RYAN IS PEEVED AT CRITICISM

The following letter was received from Tommy Ryan, the retired middleweight champion, who takes exception to some harsh criticism handed to his protege, Con O'Kelley:

Sporting Editor, Boston American.

I saw an article in your paper speaking very detrimental, too, of a young fellow by the name of Con. O'Kelly, whom I have in my charge and who I have had here in Syracuse for the last three months. Am working with im every day. I vis to say in justice to him that he is a very promising young fellow and I think the makings of a very fine fighter are in the boy.

In the time I have trained I have seen in various papers they seem to insinuate that Con. O'Keller is using some rich man for a smoker. The only smoker seems to be myself and I don't seem to be a very big one.

The party that made the statement that he saw O'Kelley and myself training in Chicago has made an untrue statement as to one has ever seen us training in Chicago. Arthurs is the only place I have trained for the last three years, and never until last year spoke to him but a few words during August and September and after that these bouts take place. There is more than pleased the alleged author of article referred to. Mr. Johnny Sumner, the Boston boxing promoter, who I might say has never in his life seen either O'Kelly or myself in Chicago or any other city together. O'Kelley is a big raw boy from Ireland and never until four months ago had a glove on. He has had just one year's ring experience and has been fighting fairly good and never have I had as good a pupil as I have in the case of O'Kelley. I don't know anything about him up to the time I took hold of him, but you can take it from me that he is working very satisfactorily for me and in time I will be a very good man that will beat him. Kindly find space in your paper for this as it would be greatly appreciated by me as you can see that such an article is very detrimental to my interests. I am sure that that article was originated by Joe Mooney and only speak of him as his name appears in the article. Hoping you have your will clear to publish this information, I remain,

Retired Middleweight champion.

SYRACUSE, N. Y.

HARPOON, JOYETTE AND CIMA WIN FIRST SONDER

MARBLEHEAD, Aug. 8.—Thirteen sonder-class yachts, conceded to be the fastest and finest groomed fleet of small yachts ever started in an American elimination, and also the second largest, began contests of design and handling at 11 o'clock to-day for the honor of representing America in the international contest with the Spanish team of three yachts.

The duel between Spain and America will be sailed over the outer Marblehead course next week for the President Taft and Governor Draper cups, and is the most important contest to be raced in American waters this season. The Spanish team has already been selected, and is made up of the Mosquito II, Papoose and Chanita, and it is expected that the three foreigners will arrive in New York by Wednesday, and the Spanish Federation of Yachts' rulers will be seen flying in Marblehead Harbor before Saturday.

Never before in the five years of sonder racing in these waters has there been such a rivalry between designers and amateur sailors. Six of the oldest small yacht designers in American have boats in the competition and the crews in all Northern yachts are picked and tried sailors.

In the record for the Joyette, Ellen and Wolf, which made up the team which defeated the German three a year ago at Marblehead, and the work of last year's team against the new boats of this year will make history.

Weather conditions were as ideal as hoped for by the committee and yachtsmen when the yachts began to get underway shortly after 10 o'clock to-day and started for halfway rock. There was a easterly to-mile-an-hour wind blowing and out toward the turning buoys, white caps were many and this promised some hard work for the crews in getting around the turns.

After looking over the water conditions the committee which has the use of the seven sailing fleet signalled that the course would be a triangular one, starting from Halfway rock at 11 o'clock and with each leg two miles long, to be covered twice, making a course of twelve miles. After receiving the instructions of the committee, to the effect that three trials would be contested to-day, the first division worked around the starting line and when the ball dropped the yachts went off on a boat to the first mark in this order: Harpoon, Sally XI., Ellen, Lady Eel, Bonivee.

Five minutes later the second division was sent over the line in this order: Joyette, Wolf, Demon, Spokane III., Beaver, Squeezik and Cima. The Joyettend Wolf started out on a close race, each keeping side by side on the way to the first mark.

Just as the Squeezik had hulshed half of the best to the mark something happened to her rigging and she was towed to anchorage off the Corinthian Yacht Club's house and preparations made to get her ready for the second race.

The Harpoon sprung the first surprise of the trials by outsailing the first division and came home a winner. The others followed in this order: Lady, Ellen, Sally XI., Bonivee and Eel.

The Cima, last over the line in the second division at the start, came home first with the others following in this order: Beaver, Joyette, Demon, Wolf and Spokane III.

FIRST RACE.

FIRST DIVISION.

Harpoon	1 11 18
Lady	2 11 43
Ellen	3 12 09
Sally XI.	4 13 28

SECOND DIVISION.

Cima	1 15 15
Bonivee	2 16 16
Beaver	3 16 20
Eel	4 17 15

THIRD DIVISION.

Joyette	1 13 00
Wolf	2 14 07
Demon	3 14 09
Spokane III.	4 17 23
Squeezik	5 20 30

The AMERICAN goes into more homes than all the other evening papers of Boston combined. It is the Quality newspaper.

TRIS SPEAKER NOW CLOSE ON TO TY COBB

	Bat. Ave.
Strunk, Philadelphia	.382
Cobb, Detroit	.378
Lajoie, Cleveland	.353
Speaker, Boston	.352
Karger, Boston	.314
Laporte, New York	.306
Oldring, Philadelphia	.304
Easterly, Cleveland	.303
Gardner, Boston	.301
Knight, New York	.295
Collins, Philadelphia	.295
Lewis, Boston	.294

Tris Speaker is rapidly forging to the front as the crack batsman of the American League. His attack upon Ty Cobb's lead for batting honors resulted in pulling down the margin between them seven points, while gaining upon Lajoie ten points. Another week of as good hitting will fortify him strongly as a runner-up to Cobb.

The leading dozen batting list has been shaken up again, three of last week's occupants dropping out—Murphy of Philadelphia, Stahl of Boston and Chase of New York. In their places are representatives of the same clubs—Knight and Collins getting into the list for the first time this season, and Lewis displacing Stahl.

Eddie Karger has increased his average a couple points, as has Clyde Engle, while Wagner has gained two. Henry Hooper, who, like his neighbor in the field, has been hitting much better since he went on the road, gained three points and Carrigan and Lewis gained four apiece. Joe Wood gathered in five points, while Charlie Smith surprised his friends by a neat advance of twenty-one points. The man for the week, however, was Hall, who, by making a safe hit in four times up, bounced his rating twenty-five points.

LEADING RUN GETTERS.

American.	Runs.	National.	Runs.
Rondi, Det.	70	Bescher, Phila.	68
Cobb, Det.	72	Becker, Phila.	61
Speaker, Bos.	69	Wagner, Pitts.	54
Hooper, Bos.	60	Wagner, Pitts.	54
Baker, Phil.	58	Hoblitzel, St. Louis	67
Miller, Phil.	57	Magee, Phila.	57
Hooper, Bos.	54	Dexter, N. Y.	52
Lajoie, Cleve.	53	Daubert, Brook.	52
Collins, Phil.	52	Schmidt, Chi.	50
Veach, Detroit	52	Doolan, Phila.	48
Pratt, Det.	48	Hartzell, Chi.	48
Ball, Cleve.	48	Knight, N. Y.	46

2 BOUTS FOR M'KINNON.

Bill McKinnon has a couple of bouts on for this week. To-morrow night he meets Jimmy Gardner in Portland, Me., and on Thursday night he meets Kyle Whitney in Quincy. Both will prove hard customers for McKinnon.

GANS BATTLES HARD FOR LIFE

BALTIMORE, Md., Aug. 8.—Joe Gans is taking the count. The little fighter, clinching a pillow on his death bed, is gradually sinking. Ministrations of oxygen and hypodermic injections of nourishment are all that keep him alive. The end may come at any time.

Dr. Harry T. Southworth, the Prescott, Ariz., physician, whose constant care enabled the former lightweight champion to carry out his desire to spend his last days with his old "mammy" in Baltimore, declared that Gans's trip from Prescott was a marvelous exhibition of endurance.

"There is little wonder," said Doctor Southworth to-day, "that Gans was a champion. Any man who could withstand the ordeal of that trip had to be game. Too weak at times to speak or raise a limb, he 'came back' more than once, resisting a knockout that meant the end of life. He was rallying in spite of the fatal count and the decision. But his won that round, and is happy, now that he is at home."

"Gans is sure to 'leave' soon," continued Southworth. "He is very weak to-day, too weak, in fact, to raise his head or speak above a whisper. He has slept scarcely two hours since his arrival in Baltimore and seems to have surrendered to his fate since his greatest wish—to reach home—is fulfilled.

"I never expected to get him home alive. In the mountains does rare air cause a racking cough that shook Gans's frail frame sadly. The first and third nights out of Prescott were the worst. When we were passing through a tunnel at 6,700 feet it looked as if the end were at hand. Gans put up a game fight and when we reached the lowlands he was better.

"From Chicago to Baltimore the weather was clear and cool. He seemed to gather strength as we approached Baltimore, but after that grew weaker almost immediately on his arrival."

M'VEA IN DRAW WITH JOHNSON

PARIS, Aug. 8.—Jim Johnson and Sam MacVea fought fifteen rounds to a draw in an outdoor arena. MacVea did most of the leading, but it was with the greatest difficulty that he could even lay a glove on the elusive Johnson, whose blocking and footwork were greatly applauded by the admiring Parisians.

Johnson was inclined to rough it, and four times he wrestled MacVea to the boards and had to be warned by the referee.

MacVea's left hook is always dangerous, but he could do little with it while Johnson worried him with straight left-arm jabs.

Amateur Baseball Games Wanted

The Actinas, having defeated all the best teams around home, would like to arrange games with the fastest semi-professional teams for games away from home. Would like to hear from Maynard, J. A. Mann, 326A Pleasant street, Watertown.

• • •

The Fort Strong team would like to arrange series of games with clubs of Boston. A. J. Jenson, Manager, Fort Strong.

• • •

Casey has withdrawn as acting manager of the Warrens of Neponset, and would like to hear from seven games a month; a first baseman and outfielder. Bernard F. Casey, 9 Howe street, Neponset.

• • •

The Newton Independents would like to arrange games away from home with 17-18 year old teams. Joseph H. Glidden, 6 Middle street, Newton.

• • •

The strong Thorndikes of Roxbury would like to arrange games with 17-18 year old teams. H. Cavanaugh, Dudley Place, Roxbury.

• • •

The Westland A. C. would like to arrange games with 14-year-old teams. Address Fred Lyons, 1 Westland avenue.

• • •

The Everett A. C. of Allston would like to arrange games with fourteen-fifteen-year-old teams for home or away games. Will give half expenses for ten men. C. Adams, 16 Adams street, Allston.

• • •

The Boston Terminal baseball team would like to arrange games with 16-18-year-old teams to be played in or around Boston with any strong team. J. H. Daby, Room 455, South Station.

• • •

The Hayward A. C. of Cambridge, would like to arrange games with any fast teams for August and September. Will give half expenses taken or given. Howard C. Mullett, No. 613 Main street, Cambridge.

• • •

The Colonials of Saxonville would like to arrange games with any seventeen-year-old baseball teams in the State at or away from home. Will give or take half expenses. Fred Carroll, Edgeville Meadow, Mass.

• • •

The Boston Terminal baseball team is looking for games. They would like to play any morning this week. This team has none of the non-professionals but would prefer to play the Boston police or the Boston Elevated nines. Arrange details with Manager Dube, room 455, South Terminal.

LANGFORD MATCHED.

Tom O'Rourke has signed Sam Langford and Morris Harris for a ten-round bout at his New York club for the latter part of the month.

KAUFMAN WILL CHALLENGE JACK

ISLAND HEIGHTS, N. J., Aug. 8.—If Al Kaufman, the young San Francisco heavyweight, beats Sam Langford in Philadelphia Monday night he will challenge Jack Johnson.

This announcement was made to-day by Billy Delaney, the veteran trainer who has Kaufman in tow. Delaney is now in active charge of the Kaufman training camp here.

Delaney knows that Kaufman has improved materially in the last year. Although six rounds are the length of the Philadelphia bout, is not the best distance for Kaufman, Delaney declared to-day that he was confident of victory.

"With Langford out of the way we'll post a $10,000 forfeit and go after the championship," he said.

Kaufman, who is but twenty-four years old, was hailed as a comer from the time he first got into the ring. Though his important battles did not reassure the public, his friends say he had advanced wonderfully.

Delaney, who made a champion of Jim Jeffries and who behind Jack Johnson at Reno on July 4 has been giving the California negro the benefit of his experience and Kaufman's stock has advanced much on that account.

RED SOX GET NEW BUFFALO CATCHER

A dispatch from Buffalo to-day stated that Catcher Alba of the Bisons had been sold to the Red Sox, and would report here and that Pitcher Foley, the Holy Cross pitcher on the Red Sox roster, would be released to the Buffalo club. Director Lavin of the Providence team says he had Foley signed up and he will probably pitch the first game for Providence to-day.

THOMAS AFTER PAPKE.

Joe Thomas, the middleweight, looking better than he has for a long time, is back in Lowell. He wants to meet Papke at 158 pounds, and it would be a good bout, as Thomas showed in his bout with Keller at Ocean a couple of weeks ago that he has some back.

STANDING AND TO-DAY'S PLAY

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

HOW THE CLUBS STAND.

	W.	L.	P.C.
Chicago	59	42	.584
Pittsburg	54	38	.587
New York	54	39	.581
Phillies	47	47	.500
Cincinnati	46	49	.484
Brooklyn	44	54	.449
St. Louis	39	61	.390
BOSTON	39	61	.390

TO-DAY'S GAMES.

Pittsburg at Boston.
Chicago at Philadelphia.
St. Louis at New York.
Cincinnati at Brooklyn.

N. E. LEAGUE.

HOW THE CLUBS STAND.

	W.	L.	P.C.
New Bedford	63	36	.636
Worcester	51	36	.586
Lowell	49	46	.516
Lawrence	40	46	.465
Brockton	38	51	.427
Haverhill	29	59	.330

TO-DAY'S GAMES.

New Bedford at Lawrence.
Worcester at Brockton.
Fall River at Lowell.
Lynn at Haverhill.

EASTERN LEAGUE.

HOW THE CLUBS STAND.

	W.	L.	P.C.
Rochester	60	40	.600
Buffalo	59	42	.584
Providence	58	46	.549
Jersey City	44	59	.427
Toronto	35	68	.340
Baltimore	29	73	.284
Montreal	27	74	.267
Newark	26	75	.257

TO-DAY'S GAMES.

Rochester at Providence.
Montreal at Baltimore.
Toronto at Newark.
Buffalo at Jersey City.

YESTERDAY'S GAMES.

(FIRST GAME).

	R.	H.	E.
Rochester	1	9	0
Providence	0	5	2

Batteries—Holmes and Blair; Lavender and Fitzgerald.

(SECOND GAME).

	R.	H.	E.
Rochester	0	5	1
Providence	3	7	2

Batteries—McConnell and Blair; Lavender, Barberich and Fitzgerald.

At Newark—Toronto 8, Newark 7.
At Jersey City—Jersey City 5, Buffalo 4.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

HOW THE CLUBS STAND.

	W.	L.	P.C.
Athletics	65	31	.677
Cleveland	44	50	.468
Boston	42	50	.457
Washington	40	50	.444
New York	43	52	.507
Chicago	38	58	.396
Detroit	34	60	.361
St. Louis	27	65	.293

TO-DAY'S GAMES.

Boston at Cleveland.
New York at Detroit.
Philadelphia at St. Louis.
Washington at Chicago.

YESTERDAY'S GAMES.

	R.	H.	E.
Chicago	0	1	0
Washington	2	5	0

Batteries—Walsh and Payne; Moyer and Henry.

	R.	H.	E.
Detroit	1	6	1
New York	2	5	0

Batteries—Summers and Schmidt; Hughes and Mitchell.

	R.	H.	E.
Philadelphia	1	6	1
St. Louis	0	5	1

Batteries—Coombs and Livingston; Lake and Stephens.

CONN. LEAGUE RESULTS.

New Britain 4, New Haven 2.
Holyoke 8, Waterbury 2.

I CURE MEN

SPECIALIST

DISEASES and WEAKNESSES

YOUNG, MIDDLE AGED & OLD. Reliable Expert Methods. No Cutting, no pain, no loss of time. I cure to stay cured in the shortest possible time. Only physician in Boston guaranteed to cure. $2 A written guarantee to cure in every case. Hrs. 9-8; Sun. 10-1.

ADVICE FREE

BLOOD POISON, Sores, Ulcers, Pimples, Blotches, Eczema & Pimples, Nervousness & Exhaustion, Lost Manhood, KIDNEY, Bladder and SKIN Diseases cured. Recent cases positively cured. Chronic cases that others cannot cure positively cured. Kidney and urinary complaints. 17 years' experience. No pain, no loss of time, cures guaranteed. Advice free. Phone or write. Hrs. 9-8; Sun. 10-1.

DR. KILLORY 318 COLUMBUS AVE. Near Copley Sq.

Dr. Hallock's

Remedies Cure to Stay Cured

Men's Diseases and Weaknesses

Very quick stability, Urinary Diseases, Blood Poison, Chronic Diseases, Kidney and Bladder Complaints a specialty. Advice free. Our medical book should be read by every man. Sent sealed by mail for 2c. stamp. Office hours: Daily 9 to 9; Sundays, 10 to 1.

DR. HALLOCK CO.
114 Court St., Boston, Mass.

Office located 62 years at the same old stand, corner Court and Cornhill, only a few minutes walk from Scollay square onward. Reliable square, fifty odden years old and reliable in the country, as old papers show and all residents know.

DR. ROTHFUCHS

Graduate Harvard Med. Sch.

SPECIALIST

I give a guarantee in all cases, acute and chronic diseases and weaknesses of men and cannot can positively be cured. I cure blood poison, Kidney and urinary complaints. 17 years' experience. No pain, no loss of time, cures guaranteed. Advice free. Phone or write. Hrs. 9-8; Sun. 10-1. 687 PARK SQ.

Her Hair

Was Thin, so She Couldn't Wear a Large Hat.

It's a big problem nowadays for a woman to go out without wearing an unsanitary "rat." If all women with thin, faded, failing hair would do as Mrs. J. S. Fisher, of Spruce St., Philadelphia, did, they'd soon be happy. Read what she says:

"I was never able to wear a large hat until now. The tonic has thickened my hair and is doing a great deal for me. I am only too pleased to be one of the multitude to praise Lorrimer's Excelsior Hair Tonic.

Get Lorrimer's Excelsior Hair Tonic at Riker-Jaynes or any good drug store, and get it while there's still time to improve and save your hair.

NATION'S OARSMEN READY FOR REGATTA ON POTOMAC RIVER

BOSTON AMERICAN SPORTS

LANGFORD WON'T POST FORFEIT TILL HE MEETS KAUFMAN

No Detective Is Complete Without a Disguise and a Bloodhound -:- By "Bud" Fisher

JEFF QUEERED OUR DETECTIVE JOB YESTERDAY SO I'M GOIN OUT ALONE TODAY. IT SAYS HERE THAT VICE-PRESIDENT SHERMAN IS MIXED UP IN THE LAND FRAUDS I'LL GO OUT AND GET THE DOPE ON HIM
THIS TIME I'LL BE A REGULAR DETECTIVE. I'LL GO OUT AND GET A DISGUISE AND A BLOOD-HOUND AND RUN SNERMAN DOWN
BLOOD HOUND
MY DISGUISE IS PERFECT. MY OWN MOTHER WOULDN'T KNOW ME. NO USE BEING A GREAT DETECTIVE IF PEOPLE KNOW WHO YOU FAKE
HELLO, MUTT, WHERE DID YOU GRAB THE BUNK SCENERY?
SECOND HAND ETORE
FOR SALE CHEAP
Fisher

PHILADELPHIA JACK A PHILANTHROPIST

By ED. W. SMITH.

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—Jack O'Brien of Philadelphia, philanthropic. This is the way the widely discussed boxer will have to be known hereafter.

The ... Bear Brummel of the ring and the still dashing looking fellow of thirty-two years is on his way to his home town from the Reno fight after a period spent in visiting on the coast and in New Mexico, where he has three sisters with the Indian missionaries in that territory.

Jack, though laying but a few minutes between trains, had plenty of time to ... me a visit, recalling as he did so that I was the first sporting editor in the country to recognize him and print his picture. That was eleven years ago upon the occasion of O'Brien's first visit to the West.

O'Brien is establishing an Institute in Philadelphia modeled on the lines of the Armour Institute here, and will give lectures to young men at least three times a week and perhaps more. He will attempt to show the youth of Philadelphia how much better it is to travel the straight and narrow path of morality and physical simplicity, citing his own case especially as far as the physical end of the game goes.

Will Do Good to Others.

"It will be my aim hereafter to devote a considerable portion of my time to doing good for others," Jack told me. "There will be no creeds mixed in my lectures and the boys will listen to me because I intend to talk to them in a distinctly manner and tell them the truth, mixing this up with some reminiscences of mine that will prove interesting.

"I have just come from a visit to the penitentiary at Santa Fe and while there I spoke to many of the convicts. One man, a murderer of seven, they told me, never listened to anybody until I came there, but I got his ear and he seemed interested. I have heard since that he is listening to the others now.

"Three of my sisters are nuns out there and I expect that a fourth—my youngest sister—will follow in their footsteps. My youngest brother is going to college now and our parents want him to offer the priesthood, but I think he will join me in business way in Philadelphia. He is a bright boy and could be a big help to me as my interests are continually growing.

"While here I called to see Dr. Cunningham of Armour Institute, but find he is in Europe. I wanted to talk with him of my pet scheme for starting a similar organization, but will call on him on a much smaller scale in Philadelphia.

Cost Over $100,000.

"Already I have purchased the ground for the enterprise. It cost me $17,500 and the building I am now erecting on it will be at least $80,000 more. I am calling it the West End Auditorium and it will be the largest building in the city as far as seating capacity is concerned, having room for 5,000 people.

"I intend to hold some boxing bouts in it during the Winter and be on hand to put on the bouts myself. It is the initial building of the kind in the western section of the city, and opens up a lot of new territory for me.

"Gradually I intend to increase my holdings there and to erect new buildings as the place is a success. Much of my time will be devoted to it, for I have become a regular hobby with me. Perhaps I may get others interested in it, but I am not trying to do this now. If it is a success at the start I want credit for it. What comes after that does not matter much."

Wants to Box Johnson.

O'Brien evidently is deeply sincere in his new scheme and talks of little else. But he will discuss fighting if one insists. He was deeply disappointed in the showing that Jeffries made, although he expected that the colored fighter would overcome the white man. O'Brien has talked with him and knows what a strong, powerful man and splendid boxer he is.

"I would like to box six rounds with Jack at my own club in Philadelphia and think that I will during the Winter unless I get very busy," he said.

"Johnson is a great man and unless he permits himself to die away from the ring he will remain champion for a long time. Langford, did you say? Why, after that 15-round mill with Jeffries, the smiling fighter, financier-philanthropist wafted out into the cool air.

STRAIGHT TIPS
FOR SPORT FANS

THERE SEEMS TO BE SOMETHING about the deal whereby the Red Sox are to trade Harry Lord for the best proposition on the market. It will have to be pretty good, Lord is too big an asset in baseball to be grabbed easily by any team. A friend of mine tells me that the real cause the action of President Taylor in wanting to trade Lord is due to Lord's ambition to be manager of the team. According to the story, Lord figured that when Fred Lake resigned that he would fall into the berth and have full sway of the team on the field and off, and of course the extra inducements in the money line would be included. When Patsy Donovan was selected Lord's ambition got a rude bump, and it may have affected his playing, which has fallen off decidedly to what he has done. Lord is a conscientious, wonderful ball player, and Boston fans appreciate everything he has done to help the team climb, but if he is going to let his individual ambition get away with himself at the expense of the team's welfare, a trade would be the best thing for the club and his interests, too.

RATHER UNEXPECTED THAT JIMMY Murray would come to bat when Al Shaflet, the Australian, issued a challenge and posted his money with the Boston Americans to race any bicycle rider in the country. Jimmy is always there when any foreigners come across with their duds to slam the Yankee talent. Goullet shouts the praises of the mayor of the world in pursuit race. That's all right as far as it goes, but Jimmy makes it still better by saying he will make it two out of three races, an all-round match, sprint pursuit and motor paced. And to show that he means business Morgan has also posted his forfeit of $100 with the Boston American. Now it remains for Goullet to accept the broad proposition that Morgan puts up or squeal.

Straight Tips: Do you think that Billy Cook, Brooklyn and Cincinnati catcher, is entitled to a share of the World's Championship money, and Meyers for catchers now have the honor sitting down in the company? Right where as a bat has been placed on it.

Auburndale, Mass. T. S. Jr.

No siree, you don't get me dealing the best team for batting or fielding. There is too much difference of opinion and one fellows selection is about as good as another. Will say this much, there is much merit in the team you pick out.

Straight Tips: You would oblige me greatly if you would publish in your column who was the champion of the last revival of the game of ... Also who was the champion of the game in a bat team from over the country. Also who was the champion rapider of modern times. A good information.

J. D. R.

Right, you are friend. We try to keep up with the live ones. Better inquire of some member of the G. A. R. They keep tabs on the old warriors.

Straight Tips: The Beanie papers in a large part of Mrs. Fulweiler's letter to Arthur Herzog, emphatically I overlap at the scene of the fight. Also I am not a fighter for myself, but am interested in no cents, and will only name French cafes or can you attempting to tell me what is the best French cafe in the honest dollar, old stockers.

TIMOTHY HAY.

Guess you are next to the good stuff. That money mixup is likely to happen to any one never handling much of it.

Straight Tips: Will you please put us right on this little question? A claims that in a bet he will bet $100 that the Chicago baseball team, in July, 1909, overtakes Ball of the Cleveland team and finishes on supposed hypothesis. It says he never heard of a thing as that before.

ALDEN LINDLAND.

Ball pulled off the play all right.

Straight Tips: To settle a bet let me know if Ray Collins of the Red Sox can pay tents for playing professional ball.

Wenonah, N. J. BALDY.

Collins has no brothers.

"HO-HO" HOLDS BACK FORFEIT

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—"We have decided not to post $20,000 as a forfeit and ride set for a fight with Jack Johnson until after Langford's bout with Kaufman in Philadelphia next Wednesday night," said Langford's backers.

"We haven't the slightest doubt that Langford will beat Kaufman decisively, but in order to corner Johnson more effectively we believe the best time to post the $20,000 is after the Philadelphia scrap. Langford is going right after Kaufman as soon as the first gong sounds and will do his level best to score a knockout."

COBB SATISFIED TO STAY WITH TIGERS

DETROIT, Aug. 8.—A Boston newspaper has wired Ty Cobb asking, in case a deal could be arranged, if he would play with the Red Sox.

The Georgian's reply was: "Detroit is good enough for me. Am satisfied with the treatment accorded me by the club, press and public."

RESTRICT WOLGAST BOUT.

Lightweight Ad Wolgast takes on Freddie Cole at Mansfield, Ind., to-morrow night, but it is not expected he much of a contest from a fan's standpoint, as the authorities have placed some restrictions on it.

BOUTS CARDED FOR THE WEEK

TO-NIGHT—Mike Glover vs. Ted Nelson, New York; K. O. Brown vs. Eric Ingerson, Nova Scotia; Y. C. Smith vs. Ben Selby, Albany, N. Y.; Matty Wells vs. Frankie Neil, New York; Tommy Langdon vs. Young Nichols, Phila.

TUESDAY—Ad Wolgast vs. Fred Cole, Muncie, Ind.; Charley Seiger vs. Johnny Dundee, New York; Jack McCarron vs. Benny Ford, Phila.

THURSDAY—Kid Whitney vs. "Pete" Sole, Webster, Mass.

FRIDAY—Stanley Ketchell vs. Bill Lang, New York; Tony Ross vs. Jess Smith, New York; Charley Lawrence vs. Bill Leary, New York.

SATURDAY—Freddie Weich vs. Jack Ward, Phila.; Eng. Johnny Glover vs. Johnny Stuart, Bangor, Me.

MAY KILL EMPIRE STATE BALL LEAGUE

UTICA, N. Y., Aug. 8.—Unless Sunday baseball is permitted in the New York League it is extremely doubtful whether the league will continue this season," said President John H. Farrell after a meeting of league representatives in this city.

The meeting was called by Farrell to consider the agitation against Sunday games in the State and the question of closing the present season earlier than scheduled.

At the conclusion of the meeting Farrell said the present season would be finished out. No Sunday ball will be attempted in New York, though Scranton and Wilkesbarre will continue to play Sunday games on the home grounds.

PLAN AUTO RACE OPEN TO WORLD

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—What will probably be the fastest automobile race ever conducted will be run on October 15 on the celebrated Vanderbilt Cup course on Long Island two weeks after the renewal of the Vanderbilt Cup race.

The Vanderbilt is a stock car race, and consequently bars the famous European cars which are built for speed only, with no restrictions to size and build.

To allow the very fastest cars in the world to compete, as well as to ascertain whether American builders can build strictly speed cars as well as their European rivals, the grand prize race has been arranged. The listed entries are three specially built Marquette Buicks. Two of these will be handled by Louis Chevrolet and Robert Burman. The third driver has not been selected.

Of the world-famous racing drivers who will compete for the $7,000 cash prize, in addition to the grand prize of the Automobile Club of America, are Nazaro, Wagner, George Robertson, Ralph DePalma, Ray Harroun, Joe Dawson, Louis Chevrolet, Robert Burman and Barney Oldfield.

M'LEAN GETS OFFERS.

Alex McLean, manager of Matty Baldwin, is daily receiving offers for Baldwin, one of them being a bout with Packey McFarland in New York. Manager McLean will not make any matches for Baldwin till after he has had a talk with Promoter McIntosh of Australia relative to Baldwin boxing in that country.

KETCHEL-LANG BOUT BIG CARD

When Stanley Ketchel, whom many experts contend to be the best middleweight fighter in the world, and Bill Lang, the heavyweight champion of Australia, step each other's ring at the Fairmont A. C., Long Island City, on Friday night for ten rounds, boxing enthusiasts will receive an opportunity of witnessing the most important contest that has been decided in that city since the Jack O'Brien-Ketchel bout of last year.

The prevailing question is: "Can Ketchel go out of his class and stand off a rush of Lang's ability?"

The Australian is not of the Bill Squires calibre. He defeated Roy Fitzsimmons, who says Lang is a game and strong boxer.

Northern Pacific Service

Will you ate down to a meal in our Dining Cars?
You will be served with "home-grown" products: Great Big Baked Potatoes, the finest from Puget Sound region; milk and cream from our own dairy herds; bread, pastry, ice cream from our own bake shops—including Huckleberry Pie made from genuine Montana fruit; Washington cream-ery butter, whipped cream for coffee, milk in individual bottles, and other delicacies of the table, all served aboard the electric-lighted transcontinental trains over the Scenic Highway, including the royal North Coast Limited—with the same attentive service.
Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth, Superior, St. Louis, Kansas City to the North Pacific Coast through the Land of Fortune.
Boston Office: 207 Old So. Bldg., Phone Main 3161.
A. M. CLELAND, Dist. Pass'r Agent.

CREWS AWAIT BIG REGATTA

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Boat clubs from Canada and all parts of the United States, are sending crews to participate in Washington's national regatta to be held on the Potomac on the occasion of the visit of the tropolites, which are numerous, carry with them the international title in their respective classes.

There are already entries from New York Boston, Philadelphia, Washington and the various clubs along the Potomac, several Canadian entries. The Department of Commerce and Labor has made provision for regulating a course. A revolving cutter has been ordered to take charge of the race. It will be manned by several police boats.

The entries for the various classes follow:

Quarter-mile dash—Nassau, Shorehead Bay, Riverside, Harlem.

Half-mile dash—Vesper, Riverside, Wood Lawn, Potomac, Ariel, Baltimore.

Mile dash—Vesper, Potomac, York Athletic, Riverside, Harlem, Nassau, St. Joseph, Detroit, New Orleans, New Rochelle, Vesper, Baltimore.

Champion single sculls—Nassau, New York Athletic Harlem.

Intermediate double sculls—Springfield, Nassau, Benjamin Franklin, Vesper.

Senior double sculls—Vesper, Ariel, Harlem, Potomac, Baltimore.

Intermediate single sculls—Vesper, Riverside, Harlem.

Senior four-oared shells—Nassau, Shorehead Bay, Riverside, Harlem.

Senior four oared shells—Vesper, Riverside, Wood Lawn, Potomac, Ariel, Baltimore.

Senior four shells—Potomac, Minnesota, Arundel.

International four-oared shells—Potomac, Minnesota, Arundel, New York Athletic, Vesper.

Junior eight-oared shells—Arundel, Virginia of Richmond, Potomac, Harlem.

Junior four-oared shells—Arundel, Cresent, Virginia of Richmond, Potomac, Harlem.

Senior eight-oared shells—Potomac, New York Athletic, Vesper.

AUSTRALIAN BIKE STAR LOSES RACE

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Walter De Mara, the six-day rider, made his first Eastern appearance of the year at the Vailsburg cycle track in Newark to-night in a 20-mile motor match race rider than Patrick O'Gilvan Healy, the Australian. The latter led at the bell in the first heat at a mile.

De Mara jumped in front after half a lap, winning by half a length. Healy led all the way in the second heat of a mile. The third heat was one mile and De Mara took the lead away from Healy a lap and a half from the finish, holding it to the end. Harry Vandenridre of this city won the first of the new series of national amateur championship races.

RHEUMATISM AND KIDNEY TROUBLES

cured easily, quickly and naturally with Nature's Great Remedy, OLD HEALTH. Sold by druggists (sealed bottle). Book mailed. E. S. Kanter, Pres. Kramer, Ind.

Horse and Speedway Notes

President Fred C. Garmon of the Metropolitan Driving Club informs the AMERICAN that the annual Fall series of matinee races, under the club's auspices, at the Charles River Speedway, will begin September 20. According to present plans there will be ten matinees in all.

* * *

Frank L. Robbins, the genial boniface of the Quincy House, is very happy over the splendid winning of Solemn Ben, the good son of Kremlin, at Hills Grove, and who now carries a mark of 2:15¼, reduced from 2:22¾. It always takes about three bruising races to get a horse down to its proper mark. The race has its penalties, however, for Solemn Ben is now the property of Arthur L. Power, the handicap horse of the Metropolitan Driving Club, is in need of his services in the 2:08 class, and will not be able to compete again in the inter-club matinees at Combination Park.

* * *

Nothing is talked of around town by the amateur reinsmen but the great heats of Diane Boy, 2:07¼, at Combination Park, in 1:00¾, and 1:04½. The performance is not only the best ever accomplished in New England, but even a mark that will stand a long time shooting at.

* * *

Messrs. Adams and Rose of the "Mets" will start Gallagher Boy, 2:05¾, in the 2:06 free-for-all, which is the feature event of the opening day's races of the New England State Fair at Greendale Park, Worcester, September 14. The fair, which last will continue through September 6, 7 and 8, and will be under the auspices of President E. A. Cowee of the Worcester Driving Club. Mr. Cowee is a well-known man at President Cowee, Frank A. Amidon, E. S. Bowles and the Kendrick brothers to extend a welcome to visiting horsemen a splendid welcome is the heart of the Commonwealth's capital, Worcester.

* * *

Well boys, it looks as if there would be nothing more doing upon the twice-around, as Joe Estes has entered Lou Dillon for the next meeting at Hills Grove, September 15, inclusive. The New England half-mile circuit is certainly is a pretty big way.

* * *

Announcement comes from Cleveland that Robert Goelet, the multi-millionaire horseman, whose entrance to light harness circles has been so warmly welcomed, has bought the noted race-record filly, Peg Tanguay, 2:08¾, by Peter the Great, 2:07¾, dam Madge Thompson, by Guy Wilkes. The price paid was $10,000. The

NEW WORLD'S RECORD.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Melvin W. Sheppard of the Irish-American A. C. added another record to his long list by lowering the 880-yard record at Celtic Park, Long Island City, Saturday. Sheppard's Association games at 4:40½, clipping 1 2-5 seconds off Nat Gordon's record. The Irish-American A. C. were his competitors.

Theatres.

GRAND TESTIMONIAL AND BENEFIT THIS EVENING TO
JOHN J. COOGAN
Boston's most popular vaudeville star, to be held at the AMERICAN MUSIC HALL, Washington St., Boston. All star Vaudeville Show. Tickets $1. Committee Chas. Shea, Patrick Mellalo, Jack Dalton. Committee meeting Monday, Aug. 9, 3 P. M., Boston Theatre. Committee Office, 74 Boylston St.

HUB THEATRE VAUDEVILLE Moving Pictures 10c

AUSTIN & STONE'S MUSEUM Venetian Gondoliers Other standard Entertainers, Refined and pleasing for Ladies and children. Motion Pictures..... 1c

Theatres. Amusements. Amusements.

MAJESTIC EVGS. 8:00 Matinees Wed. and Sat. MAT. 2:00
Maclean Wed. and Sat.
Henry W. Savage Offers
MERRY WIDOW
With a Notable Cast of Players
SUMMER PRICES 25c to $1.50

COLONIAL THEATRE
Chas. Frohman & William Harris Lessees and Mgrs.
Tonight at 8. Mats. Wed. & Sat. at 2
You Will Never Know How Good Your Voice Is Until You Unconsciously Find Yourself Humming Its Irresistible Melodies
2d Week
CHARLES MARKS' NEW MUSICAL COMEDY CORPORATION
THREE MILLION DOLLARS

KEITH'S TO-DAY
ELECTRIC LAUGHS
DR. CARL
HERMANN
Hours of Laughter. Screams of Laughter
Alexandroff Trio
RUSSIAN DANCERS
Empire City Four Sextet, Jess Brennan, Angela Dolores & Co., Kaufman Bros., Carleton, Ramsden and Alger, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Barnes.
Overture at 2 and 7:45

AMERICAN MUSIC HALL
Daily Mats. & Eves., 50c, 25c, 10c
LINDSAY MORISON STOCK CO.
In Clyde Fitch's Comedy Success
"GIRLS"
First Appearance of ELEANOR GORDON

GRAND OPERA HOUSE
Evs. & Sat. 25c, 50c, 75c, $1. Mats. Wed. & Sat. 25c, 50c, $1.
All Star Vaudeville Show.
Next Week—The CHINATOWN TRUNK MYSTERY

BOWDOIN SQ. THEATRE
10c All leading Vaudeville and Motion Pictures, Continuous

GLOBE PICTURES VAUDEVILLE 10-15-20-25 10c

PROVINCETOWN
The Pilgrims' First Landing Place
The staunch and elegant steamship "Old Colony" leaves daily from Atlantic Ave., Long Wharf, 400 Atlantic Ave., half a block north of Rowes Wharf. Boston, at 9:00 A. M. Leaves Provincetown at 2:30 P. M. Returning leaves Provincetown at 7:00 P. M. Round-trip fare 75c; children under 12 years, 50c. Automobiles, $2.00. Phone Fort 1620. Ticket office, 306 Washington St., Boston.
SUMMER MANOEUVRES
—OF THE—
NORTH ATLANTIC SQUADRON
A fleet of our newest and most powerful battleships will be seen daily engaged in manoeuvres off Provincetown.

BASE BALL
TO-MORROW at 3:15
PITTSBURG CHAMPIONS
COLUMBUS AVENUE GROUNDS
Tickets on sale at regular prices at Wright & Peterson's, 344 Washington st.; Connolly & Burke's, Adams House; Cushing's, at Trask's and Parker's.

FOR THE FISHING GROUNDS
$400.00 IN GOLD PRIZES
The fast steamer Satellite, Capt. Somerton, leaves north side Central wharf daily and Sundays at 10 a. m. Fare $1.00; round trip and cheaper fare. Fish accommodations, $1.00. Meals and lunches can be served on board. Special Notice—Will not run Sunday, Sept. 5. Regattaville, Wednesday, Aug. 10, weather permitting; leave wharf at 9:30 a. m.

GLOUCESTER
Round trip, 75c. Central Wharf foot State street. Week days, 10 A. M., 2:30 P. M. Sundays, 10 A. M. Week days leave Boston 10 A. M., 2:30 P. M. Sundays, 10 A. M. Music. Special Notice—Will not run Sunday, Sept. 5. GLOUCESTER S. B. CO.

MATT HENSON
Peary's Companion at the Pole,
Wonderland
ADMISSION FREE.

LEXINGTON
10 A.M.—PARK—10 P.M.
Edna Simmons' Ladies' Orchestra
Open Air Theatre, Vaudeville 2.30 and 8.30
Restaurant, Cuisine, Zoological Garden, Etc.

Paragon Park "THE CITY OF FESTIVITY"
ONLY UNIQUE PLACE TO DINE ON THE SOUTH SHORE PalmGarden

JOY LINE
BOSTON via S. & L. R.R. $2.40 AND BOAT NEW YORK
New York, via Trolley and Boat, $2.25
Stop-over Allowed at Washington, GEORGIA AND TENNESSEE
Between Providence and Pier 19, East River, New York.
Through Trolley Cars from Post Office Square every hour on the hour, and every half hour from Scollay Square. Connect at Union Square with Joy Line Steamer.
Through Tickets and Baggage Checked at Joy Line Ticket Office, 214 Washington St., Boston.

BASS POINT NAHANT
Band Concerts Shore Dinners
Free Exhibition—Levy's Multiplane Flights Daily
Evening Relay Horse Races
Gov. Governesses—Gen. Lincoln Leave Old Wharf, Hingham, 9:30 a. m. Return from Bass Point 10.30 p. m. Return Fare $1.00. Tickets at Boston Office, 70 Kilby st. Bass Point, Nahant.

FOR THE FISHING GROUNDS
$400.00 IN GOLD PRIZES
Steamer King Philip, Captain Dines, Leaves Commercial Wharf Daily and Sundays at 9 a. m. Fare $1.00. Meals aboard. Ticket office on wharf.

BOSTON NEW YORK $2.25 By Trolley and Boat
Special through car leaves Post Office Square Daily and Sundays at 9 A. M.
Tickets and information at Pass. Dept., O. C. 6d, Ry. Co., 300 Washington St.
To Providence or Fall River 75c

NORUMBEGA PARK
Open Daily at 10 A. M.
Musical Comedy 12M and 2.30 and 8.30 COLONIAL THEATRE
Restaurant, Zoological Garden, Etc.

Tours and Travels.
THE COLONIAL LINE
Only First-Class Inland Line
2.65 BOSTON TO NEW YORK
Via Express, Fast and Elegant Steamships "Concord" & "Lexington"
Ticket Offices: 306 Washington St., Boston. Phone Fort 1620.

THE AMERICAN'S MAGAZINE PAGE

Can a Man Die of a Broken Heart?

By DOROTHY DIX

A CLIPPING to a remark from California pointed in the newspapers, whose has at last come to the support of romance and a genuine bona fide case is reported of a man who died of a broken heart, thus justifying the theory of full many a three-volumed novel.

As the story goes, Miss Victoria Haddon was adored and wooed by two men. She married one and invited the other to be the best man at her wedding. As soon as the marriage ceremony was over he injected moist remarked, "You may never see me again." Then he went home and promptly took down and died in a few minutes literally of a broken heart, so the physician deemed who was called in.

Naturally cold and unsympathetic people will look up with the horrid explanation that the man probably had a weak heart, and that any excitement would have been fatal to him, and that he might just as easily have been carried off by the agitation over a tailor's bill as over a slighted affection.

A Fairy Tale Comes True

But people will such suggestions. When a fairy tale comes true let's make the most of it. When a miracle happens let's rejoice in it, and marvel over it. Let's laud Shakespeare, and all the generations of unbelievers, who have declared that men have died and women have eaten their hearts out FOR love," and let's pin our faith to the one authentic case of a man who had perished of a broken heart instead of an overlooked stomach.

This case will not surprise women because women have always believed that it was possible for men to fade away and die because of disappointment in love. Every woman who has ever said, in a sad, sweet voice to a man that she could never be his, but that she would be a sister to him, has implicitly believed that the blow would kill him, and has never doubted that he would do as he said, when he told her that life without her was not worth living and that an end would soon come to his miserable existence.

It is true that the man—strangely enough—does survive, in fact appears to make a complete about face and, instead of, to her dying day the woman cherishes the guilty, though delightful knowledge that he carries a secret, hidden, mortal wound in his breast, and that just as soon as he can, at last, no matter what the doctors say about discordance or clotting of the liver.

Time Generally Cures

But plenty of men have died for love, as witness all the gallant gentlemen who have perished in duels while defending some fair one's name, or in a desperate attempt to rid themselves of a too fascinating rival. Men have been also known to kill themselves upon the grave of some well-beloved woman whose passing left the world too desolate to long to be endured.

I, myself, knew such a case where a man married to a woman singularly, homely and unattractive to others, loved her with such devotion that when she died he died himself through the heart, and was found lying beside her coffin, his life blood running in crimson the white cas of her shroud.

It is to be observed, however, that the men who die for love never die of starving swiftly in the first mad paroxysm of grief, and that if they give themselves a little leisure in which to think the matter over they are very not only not quite dying, but get completely over it. Love with a man may be an acute disease, but it is rarely a chronic complaint.

That there are thousands of women who have died of broken hearts no one questions. There are more than we like to think of lying buried in little graves, and with whom the functions of life went on automatically just for a little until the heart ceased to beat mercifully relieved from suffering, and there are other mothers who have died of the heart wounds that ungrateful children have given them just as surely as if they had had a dagger stabbed in their sides.

Wives With Broken Hearts.

There are wives all about us who are dying of broken hearts, who are starving for love, for sympathy, for tenderness from their husbands just as truly as they could starve for bread. You can see their gaze a little chinaer, a little more pallid, a little more hollow-eyed and wistful every day, and it is not at all unusual that they are laid in their coffins—dead of a broken heart.

There are other women who die of unrequited affection. They are those who have courage to love a man who does not love, and when that is gone, all is gone. Life has no interest for them without the object, pleasure no savor without the love they crave, and so they droop and fade and go as a flower does when you send it away from the sun.

The explanation of why men seldom die of a broken heart, and women often do is easy enough. Men do not die of blighted love because a man's life is not all into the world where he has a thousand things to distract his mind. His work and demands are made upon him, and he has no leisure in which to brood over his woe and magnify his grief. The average woman has little else to do than to nurse her emotions, and so she is the predestined victim of the convolutions that easily results in heartbreak.

One Authentic Case.

Men do not often die of broken hearts because affection is not the paramount thing in a man's life as it is in a woman's. It is a man's business to love and be loved, but, he can do very nicely without it, thank you, but a woman's universe is bounded by the man she loves and receives, and if she misses the one great thing in the balance it dust and ashes. Hence she can break her heart and die of longing for the love that is gone.

But in an unsentimental world it is a cheering and romantic thing to hear of one man who has a doctor's certificate that he actually died of a broken heart, and I doubt not that in years to come his grave will become a shrine, and as Eloise at Abelard and Heloise, to which women will make pious pilgrimages with wreaths of flowers.

Freckle-Face

Angus Brings Out Unsightly Spots. How to Remove Easily.

Do you know how easy it is to remove those ugly spots on the face, known as freckles?

Simply get an ounce of otitine, double strength, from Hoagland & Petting, and a few nights retire your self when you are ready for bed, after washing the face, apply a little of the delightful preparation with the fingers or a soft piece of linen, allowing it to remain over night. Wash off in the morning and you will be delighted with the results. Even the worst freckles begin to vanish after the first few applications, and in a few days the skin is as clear as a baby's.

Otitine—double strength—is sold under guarantee by all druggists. Hoagland & Petting Co., Boston. Manchester, N. H.—Hiver. Lawrence, Mass.—Young. Haverhill, Mass.—Young. Lowell, Mass.—Bickinshaw. New Bedford, C. H. & H. A. Lawton. Salem, Mass.—Brue Co. Worcester, Brewer & Co. Portland, Me.—H. H. Gupp. Manchester, N. H.—Hall & Lyon Co. Providence, R. I.—Hall & Lyon Co.

The Evolution of a Cat

By Nell Brinkley

(Copyright, 1910, by Press Publishing Co. (The New York American).)

"And when I stare at the cat and the girl too long at a time, their mysterious, piquant faces merge and melt together until I can't tell cat from girl and girl from cat."

"IS Cats" cats? Or 'is they" the dead and delightful and come-to-life-again souls of women folks?

Think about the creature that some women folks dub, in a temper, "a cat!" I know one. And I also have a cat. And when I stare at the two of them too long at a time—their ways and their mysterious piquant faces merge and melt together until I can't tell cat from girl and girl from cat.

The cat is a study in pink and white—and so is the girl.

The cat has oblique, yellow eyes, with black pupils like wells, and the girl has slant, yellow eyes, with big, black pupils, too.

The cat is an aristocrat, with a mood for every day in the year and lovers by the bundles, and the girl is an aristocrat, too, with a mood for every day and a lover for every hour in 'em.

And both the cat and the girl have a quiet, unblinking scorn for the things that other cats (and girls) adore! And those things are lovers, and other cats (and girls).

For both of 'em refuse to be petted, and every one wants to pet both of 'em all the time.

Therefore, folks call the girl—a "cat."

NELL BRINKLEY.

Another Case of the Mother-in-Law Trial

By WINIFRED BLACK

DEAR Wilfred Black:

I am writing to you of a couple I know. The husband is kind and loving. He makes a good living for himself and wife. They live in a cosy two-room apartment in a small town. They were getting along fine until lately the wife's mother, who is a widow but strong and healthy and has been in the habit of making her own living, came to live with them.

The husband, who is very young, is employed where he has to do collecting, and in order to support his mother-in-law, has had to hold out some of the money he has collected. The mother-in-law knows she is causing trouble and once when he came home unexpectedly he found his wife and her mother packing to leave.

He is getting desperate. He cannot attend to his work for worry, wondering if his mother-in-law has talked his wife into leaving him.

What would you advise? Do you think it is his duty to support his mother-in-law at the risk of dishonesty, or do you think he should tell her to leave?

When he spoke to his wife about it, her answer is "She is my mother."

Yours respectfully,

AN INTERESTED READER.

YES, it's a genuine letter, and it came in the mail this very morning. Hard to believe, isn't it? That money wasn't yours, young man. You had no more right to take it to support your mother-in-law than you would have to rob a bank to support somebody's cousin's wife's brother. Stealing is stealing, and all the song anyone you want to call it don't alter its character the least little bit in the world.

As to the mother-in-law. Why don't you have a good, plain talk with your wife about the matter? Not a high temperedquarrel with both of you ranting at the top of your voices, but a plain, sensible talk. Tell your wife you love her more than money and are making, and ask her to decide what to do about it.

When she finds that the responsibility of that money is going to fall on her shoulders too, she may look at it in an entirely different light. As to the mother-in-law herself, I would not live under the same roof with any human being who disliked me so bitterly—not if that human being were a hundred times my wife's mother. Dislike and anger are as deadly a poison as cruddle of potassium, and I'd as soon drink carbolic acid for breakfast and be done with it as to take the coffee which had been made for me by one who hated me and wants to make me unhappy.

Don't be angry with the mother-in-law. She have loved your wife before you ever heard of her. She brought her up from a little, helpless baby and, of course, she doesn't think you are good enough for her. You'll understand the way she feels on the day your first daughter is married; but in the mean time don't hate her and don't be angry with her. But don't live with her.

I would rather live on weak tea and dry bread with love and contentment in the house, than to sit down to eight courses with anger and hatred at the table. Talk the thing over quietly with your wife—if she is the right sort of woman she'll decide what to do, and she will decide justly.

OH, THE FLATTERER!

IN her trim little bathing suit she sat on the white sand.

"I adore intelligence," she cried.

"So do I," said he. "All the same, though, beauty and intellect never go together."

"No," he confessed frankly.

With a faint blush she murmured; "Flatterer."

The Illustrious Prince

By E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM

Copyright, 1910, by Little, Brown & Company.

CHAPTER XXX.—(Continued)

Inspector Jacks Importunate

CONVERSATION amongst the younger members of the house party at Twelve Oaks was of little distinction that evening. Perhaps Penelope, who came down in a wonderful black velveteen gown, with a bunch of violets posed in her corsage, was the only one who seemed successfully to ignore the passage of arms which had taken place so short a while before. Lady Grace, who retired to Somerfield, who tried to be dignified and succeeded only in remaining sulky. Chance had placed her at some distance from the Prince, to whom Lady Grace was talking with a subdued softness in her manner which puzzled Captain Wilmot, her neighbor on the other side.

"I saw you with the evening papers, as usual, Branscome," the Prince remarked during the service of dinner. "Was there any news?"

"Nothing much," the Foreign Secretary replied. "Consuls are down another point and the Daily Comet says that you are like a drowning man clinging to the rail of your majority. Excellent caroon of you, by the bye. Who drew it? After dinner."

"Thank you," the Prince Minister said. "Was there anything about you in the same paper in any cartoon?"

"Nothing particularly abusive," Sir Edward answered blandly. "By the bye, I'm afraid I must declare that they have a definite claim this time, and are going to serve the writ. Hamilton Fynes and your friend Vanderpoole to-day or to-morrow, Excellency," Duke declared. "It would have been a perfect opportunity to use police system to have all two such crimes undetected. Our respected friend at the Home Office will have a little peach now."

"How about me?" Branscome grumbled. "Haven't I been worried to death, too? The Prince, who had just finished describing to Lady Grace a typical landscape of his country, turned toward Branscome.

"I think that I heard you say something about a discovery in connection with those wonderful murder cases," he said. "Has anyone seriously been arrested?"

"My paper says the early edition," Branscome answered, "but it spoke of a sensational denouement within the next few hours. I should imagine that it is all over by now. At the same time I'm afraid that the press give these things away. It seems that some fellow who was bleeding has a man get in and out of poor Dicky's flat, and is quite prepared to swear to him."

"Has he not been rather a long time in coming forward with the evidence?" the Prince remarked. "I do not remember to have seen any mention of such a person in the papers before."

"He watched me well," Branscome answered, "and was so startled that he was hardly able to speak. The fellow's got a live in charge of the case found him in a hospital."

"How things always come out sooner or later," the Prince Minister remarked. "As a matter of fact, I am inclined to think that our police wait too long before they make an arrest. They play with their victims so deliberately that sometimes they slips through their fingers. Very likely, before long, a man go you would give himself away from sheer fright if he felt the touch of a policeman's hand on his shoulder."

"As a matter," Branscome remarked, "I was myself in the entree. I've handled life amongst criminals. They are always afraid of nothing, they are always afraid of nothing. They are afraid of the subject. Nothing is pretty sometimes would make for more healthy nerves. I like a dentist whose nerve suffers because he is afraid of hurting his patient."

Somerfield was watching his fiancee curiously.

"Are you really very pale to-night, Penelope?" he asked, "or is it those red flowers which have drawn all the color from your cheeks?"

"I believe that I am pale," Penelope answered. "I am always pale when I wear ice Sir Charles."

She hesitated. He stood by her side patiently waiting.

"Remember," he said, "that I am a somewhat privileged person just now. My days here are numbered, you see."

She turned toward the conservatories.

"Very well," she said, "I must be ingenuous. I suppose, and spoil your fun. How dare you come and make us all so fond of you that we look upon your departure almost as a tragedy!"

He smiled.

"Indeed," he declared, "there is a note of tragedy even in these simplest accidents of life. I have been very happy amongst you all, Miss Penelope. You have been so much kinder to me than I have deserved. You have thrown a ridge across the gulf which separates us people of alien tongues and alien manners. Life has been a pleasant thing for me here."

His Mission Over

"Why do you go so soon?" she whispered.

"Miss Penelope," he answered, "to those others who ask me that question, I shall say nothing. I have been very happy amongst you, but my mission is over, that my report has been sent to my Emperor, and that there is nothing left for me to do but to follow it home. I could add, and it would be true, that there is very much work for me still to accomplish in my own country. To you alone I am going to say something else."

She was no longer pale. Her eyes were filled with an exceedingly soft light. She leaned towards him, and her face shone as the face of a woman who prays that she may hear the one thing in life a woman craves to hear from the man she loves best.

"Go on," she murmured.

"I want to ask you, Miss Penelope," he continued, "whether you remember the day when you paid a visit to my house?"

"Very well," she answered.

"I was showing you a casket," he went on.

She gripped his arm.

"Don't!" she begged. "Don't. I can't bear any more of that. You don't know how horrible it seems to me! You don't know—what fears I have had."

He looked away from her.

"I have sometimes wondered," he said, "what your thoughts were at that moment. what you have thought of me since."

She answered a little, but did not answer him.

"Very soon," he reminded her, "I shall have passed out of your life."

He heard the sudden, half stifled exclamation. He felt rather than saw the eyes which pleaded with his. But he had ended on.

(To be continued to-morrow)

To-day's Best Story

RECENTLY Dr. Martin G. Brumbaugh, a delegate to the teachers' convention in Boston, which elected Mrs. Ella Flagg Young president of the National Educational Association after a strenuous contest, was interviewed as to his opinion of the reported irregularities employed in the election.

After having declared that he believed there was no foundation for the allegation that votes had been purchased to elect Mrs. Young, the doctor added:

"But this is one that I did hear since I came back. I was attending a meeting when some of those present were discussing this same feature of conventions. One said to the other who had more than once fallen under suspicion:

"Did you ever sell your vote?

"No," was the prompt reply, 'I let it out to a syndicate, took an interest in the business and drew dividends on it."

Big Horse Show For Smart Set At Magnolia

By ELIZABETH ELLIOTT.

The real season is at hand, and all the shore resorts are at their gayest. One of the smartest and most interesting of North Shore events for the month will be the Magnolia Horse Show, which will be held on Magnolia Beach on August 29, and which will attract society from far and near. Any number of house parties, dinners and dances are planned to take place at that time, and the Summer girl who has been languishing and pining for something "to happen" will be in her element. J. Henry Coulter of the Oceanside, has arranged the events, and an unusually large number of entries have already been made. There are many entries in the ladies' riding and driving events and also in the jumping.

Miss Alice Thorndike, who has already won fame for herself in the saddle, Miss Eleanor Scott, who is always an interesting figure at such events, Miss Helen C. Frick, daughter of Henry C. Frick of Pittsburg, who is summering at the Pride's Crossing Mile, Miss Katherine Tweed of New York and Beverly Farms, the Misses Muse of Washington, and Washington, Miss R. T. Palme of Coolidge Point, Miss M. Newell of Magnolia, the Misses Peters, Miss Helen and Miss Esther of Cohasset, Miss Elizabeth Cutting of Beverly Farms, Miss Alice Brown of Beverly Farms, Miss Clara Cragin of Manchester, and Miss Maud Scudder of St. Louis, who is at the Oceanside, are a few of the well known summer girls who have made entries. Mrs. J. J. Weil of Elmsford, N. Y., will have a number of entries and will appear in the riding and driving events.

* * *

Dr. and Mrs. Frank W. Holbrook of Longwood, are enjoying a trip to California and the Canadian Rockies. They will visit in Santa Barbara and return via the Canadian Rockies to Lenox, where they will remain a few weeks prior to opening their home in Brookline.

* * *

Miss Mary Shee Ames, who has been at North Easton since her recent return from Europe, has joined Mr. and Mrs. F. Lothrop Ames at Newport, where they are opening their home in Brookline.

* * *

Mrs. S. V. R. Crosby and her children, Miss Harriet and Stephen Crosby, are at their West Manchester cottage, are spending the time with Mrs. Crosby's mother, who have taken a small house.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence W. Barron, with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Fish, are at Bretton Woods for a short stay.

* * *

Mrs. Anna P. Peabody has leased her Ipswich place, Floriands, to John T. Wilkes of New York, and is now at her Bar Harbor cottage.

* * *

Mrs. Edwin Howland, formerly of Boston, are for the remainder of the Summer at their home on the Severn river, near Annapolis, Md. Their daughter, Miss Beatrice Howland, will make her debut next Winter at the first Monday German of the Bachelors' Cotillon Club in Baltimore.

* * *

Mrs. Ernest Iselin has arrived at The Hargrove in Newport, where she will spend the remainder of the season. Before her marriage Mrs. Iselin was Pauline Whittier, a daughter of the late General Whittier of Boston.

* * *

The George R. Searings of Beacon street have sailed for several months' sojourn in Europe.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel H. Emmons have returned to their home in Hingham after a two weeks' visit with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Lawrence, at their mid-Summer home at Islesboro, Me.

TO REGUL OSTRICH FEATHERS

TO recurl an ostrich feather have a teakettle full of boiling water and then shake the feather vigorously through the escaping steam, taking care that it does not get too damp. This freshens up the plume and restores brilliancy. Next take a silver fruit knife, and, beginning with the feathers nearest the quill, take a small bunch between the thumb and forefinger and draw it gently over the blade of the knife until curled as closely as you like. Follow this process on each side of the plume and then take a very coarse comb, pull out the feather carefully, and you will find your old plume as good as ever.

Choose Your Own Husband, Little Girl

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

VERY often a girl, in consulting me about her love affairs, will say to me: "My parents are anxious that I should marry the man, but I do not like him and never shall. Is it my duty to obey them?"

It is a delicate situation to handle, and I do not like to offer advice contrary to parents' wishes, but in cases of this kind I must confess that my sympathy is with the girl.

If the parents made a loveless marriage, their love for their daughter should prompt them to do all in their power to save her from the same fate.

If they married for love, they should see to it that she has the same chance for happiness as they had.

If parents see that their girl is becoming interested in some man who is unworthy, it is most natural that they should oppose the match vigorously.

Open Opposition Often Fails

At the same time, open opposition sometimes drives a wilful girl headlong into the fate from which those who love her are trying to save her.

In some cases, ridicule has been known to succeed where all else failed.

Love flees before ridicule, and, if the girl can be made to see the man in a ridiculous light, the chances are that she will come to her senses.

I know of one case where genuine ridicule cured a young man of an undesirable infatuation. he told me about it himself.

"I thought I was desperately in love," he said. "My mother thought me much too young, which I was, and, from what she had heard of the girl, knew that they could be no ultimate happiness for me if married her.

"However, all her reasonings and pleadings were in vain. I was infatuated and could not see the girl's faults.

"Finally there came a dance at which the girl, my mother and myself were to be present, and I looked forward to introducing them. I was sure that, once my mother met the girl, she would be charmed.

"I was sitting with mother, when the girl passed, walking with a friend. I bowed."

"And who," said mother, "is the sneering miss to whom you bowed?"

The Cure Began Right There

"Sneering miss!" She, my charmer, my adored one. My air castle tumbled about my ears. She paused again, by, alas! all I could think of was 'sneering miss,' and the cure began right there.

So, you see, dear mothers, there are other ways than open opposition.

Can you not, undoubtedly, when a man, eligible in every way, pays a girl attention, her mother is anxious that she should like him.

The rearing of a daughter is a great responsibility, and every mother wishes to see her girl well provided for. She wants her to have all the best of life and pleasures, and it is a very sweet and unselfish ambition.

But the choice of a husband is one that a girl should make for herself.

The mother should bear in mind that not she, but her daughter must live with that husband, and that she will be happy or unhappy according as the girl should make a wise or foolish choice.

Advice, counsel and guidance the mother has every right to give, and the good daughter listens to all and profits.

Mischievous Matchmaking

But no girl should be urged to marry against her will.

The world is full of such catastrophes, due to the mistaken zeal of ambitious, matchmaking mothers.

Let the young people choose for themselves, and, if you are anxious, find for yourselves, back in the golden heyday of youth and love.

JOB FOR THE STRONG MAN

THERE is a theatrical manager in New York who is looking for a strong man for a small circus through the villages of the Middle West.

"I'm all in time," he says, "I was featuring as Hellus as 'Blacksmith, the Strong Man from Rome.' One day, traveling from Kansas City on the train in a dirty coach, the strong man and myself were seated just ahead of a tall man with side whiskers. He was a stranger to us and, during our conversation, I am unable to say; but after a time I noticed that he had joined my companion on the shoulder, saying, 'Excuse me, sir, but you are not Blacksmith the Strong Man?'

"Blacksmith admitted the soft impeachment.

"'Is it true that you can lift two and a half tons in harness?'

"'Yes.'

"'You can hold two men at arms' length?'

"'I can put up five hundred pounds with one arm.'

"'Then,' concluded the man with the side whiskers, 'would you kindly raise this car window for me?'"

NO NEED BE FAT

How to Reduce Flesh Easily in Natural Way Without Drugs

I am so happy over my discovery of a simple, natural way to reduce flesh that I want every fleshy person to share my good fortune with me. I was a victim of fleshiness and many experiments that I tried only added to my misery, until I discovered a method that quickly took off my superfluous flesh without leaving me flabby, wrinkled or sagging. In fact, it acted like a beautifier, for my whole system took on a healthy glow and I was proud of my figure. Now, all my fat friends who have used my treatment found it as successful as I did, and at the same time they improved in health. I want every fleshy person to know of my secret, without any sacrifice, the reduction comes, and I will be glad to send, free of charge, my remarkable results of my discovery. Just write me, inclosing a stamp, or silver, or nickel, for postage, and I will send you, free of charge, my remarkable discovery. Miss Wright, Suite 26, Fisher's, N. Y.

NEARLY A MILLION PEOPLE SEE THIS PAGE DAILY

TODAY'S STOCK MARKETS; FINANCIAL NEWS

STATE ST. NEWS FOR INVESTORS

London cable says: "America secured the 1500 000 gold offered in the open market at the minimum limit price of 77s. 9d.

$ $ $ $

The big houses in the speculative district are leaders and not followers, they look ahead for the banks. on the other hand, the banks have no use for a lot of people in the Street who would like to become borrowers. They give them the cold shoulder

$ $ $ $

Offerings of stocks are found at certain levels and the market reacts naturally, but the undertone continues firm. There may be news that would upset it, and clear the atmosphere and give prices a more definite trend.

$ $ $ $

It is possible that the superabundance of cash may mean that there is to be a Wheller bond market in the future. Some bonuses in use are the attempt to get the wake a determination to repress speculation in the stock market until all the demands for the moving of the crops have been satisfied

$ $ $ $

The backing and filling which have been the characteristics of the market for a long period. There is plenty of investment and speculative money in sight, and it is thinks it does not feel like taking chances.

$ $ $ $

It is not believed the "dead centre" in the stock market has been reached as yet, but there are signs that it is near at hand. It comes there will be a period of dullness. Trading is not over, but the public interest are wide enough to maintain a certain sort of interest and keep the wheels going.

$ $ $ $

It is said that never before in the history of Street, and in exceptionally the first part of 1907, has such a large amount of stocks been in the possession of the large interests. The latter have not begun to create a real selling market as yet.

$ $ $ $

Atchison steadily refuses to go to par again, although very few in the street seem or do understand why it does not. In the last fiscal year the company has put large sums of money into replacement improvements and of "good times up to operating expenses, w——, explains, in part, why the net returns have been so comparatively speaking. There are other ways of putting properties in good condition than by borrowing.

$ $ $ $

Another dividend declaration is due to the directors of the Northern Pacific in a short time and many expect that the present rate is to be reduced. They say the company should get not more than 6 per cent. at the outside, as its earnings are not sufficient to justify more. Comparatively speaking. There are other ways of putting properties in good condition than by borrowing.

$ $ $ $

While Southern Pacific, as a rule, is not so speculative in its interests as are Union Pacific, there appears to be more confidence in its earnings. Southern Pacific is 3 per cent. stock at 120, and in many parts of the street the belief is expressed that it will reach that price before long. All reports in connection with the company and its operations are of the most favorable character.

$ $ $ $

The Hassayampa Company is now in the hands of a receiver. Its capitalization is 2,200,000 shares of the Golden Copper Company. Some 823,000 are in the treasury of the same company and a few hundred dollars in cash. The title to the Golden Copper Company is vested in the Golden Copper Company, and, obviously, the stock of the Hassayampa stock 80,000 shares were offered to the public from the sale of which $77,424 was turned over to the Hassayampa Company, leaving in the hands of the latter the directors who owned a controlling interest at that time in the Golden Copper.

$ $ $ $

Officials of the Geyser Silver Mining Company are asking the stockholders to approve a reorganization scheme whereby the old stockholders, upon the payment of $1, will receive eleven shares of stock in a new company for every 100 shares of stock now held, besides paying a transfer tax of one cent per share on the new stock. This amounts practically to an assessment of 1 cents per share, which will give the company, provided the assessment is made, $200,000 cash and 91,000 shares of treasury stock

$ $ $ $

The following telegram has been received from the Manatan Copper & Gold Mining Company: "We are making good progress in the main tunnel, driving ahead to cut the main vein which will give us 225 fee of stoping ground in that vein and in a big body of ore. We are also driving on main vein from tunnel line and sinking shaft in front of limestone contact, and having in good ore and opening up ten different open cuts on the ledge. We have our crops as well as unwatering the old workings and repairing same."

BOSTON CURB.

Following is the range of prices to noon in leading Curb stocks:

QUALIFIED LIST.

Stocks.	High.	Low.	Noon.
Alcomah	9¾	9¾	9¾
Bay State Gas	46	46	46
Bolenois	5	5	5
Boston Ely	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞
Calaveras	10½	10½	10½
Chief Con	1 9-16	1½	1½
Con Arizona	1 13-16	1¾	1¾
Corbin Cop	4	4	4
Dom. Syndicate	10¼	10¼	10¼
Fed. National	2 5-16	2⅜	2⅜
Goldfield Con	8 7-16	8⅜	8 7-16
La. Bost	4¼	4	4
Majestic	50c	50c	50c
McKinley	98c	98c	98c
Mass. Coal	26c	26c	26c
Nevada Utah	37c	37c	37c
Ohio Copper	1¾	1 9-16	1¾
R. I. Coal	6	6	6
Vulture Mines	9¼	9¼	9¼

UNQUALIFIED LIST.

Arizona	84c	83c	84c
Cactus Devel	1 13-16	1⅝	1 13-16
Champion	5c	5c	5c
Chino	12¼	12¼	12¼
Elv. Con	80c	80c	80c
Kruger	26c	25c	27c
Molly Gibson	2c	2c	2c
Mollie Gibson pf	1¼	1¼	1¼
New Baltic	4c	4c	4c
Rawhide Coalition	15c	15c	15c
Rochester Mining	3c	3c	3c
Shawmut Con	30c	30c	30c

New York Curb

And All Other

Mining Stocks

bought for investment or carried on margin. Private quotes to all interested. Indications appear to be unerring that these securities are now selling at bottom and the announced up movement is near at hand. Our Weekly Market Letter will post you. Write for it. It is authoritative.

B.H.Scheftels&Co.

(ESTABLISHED 1892)

52 Devonshire St., Boston.

44 BROAD ST., NEW YORK

BOSTON STOCKS.

Following is the range of prices for the leading Boston stocks to noon:

LAND COMPANIES.

East Boston	8¼	8¼	8¼

TELEPHONES.

American	132⅜	132¼	132⅜

MINING STOCKS.

Arizona Commercial	17⅛	16	17⅛
Calumet & Arizona	58⅜	53½	54
Calumet & Heela	529	529	529
Daly-West	7½	6¾	6¾
Granby	33	32	32
Greene-Cananea	10	10	10
La Salle Copper	40	40	40
Mexico Con	40½	39	39½
Nevada Con	20½	20	20¼
North Butte	26	25⅝	26
Osceola	126	126	126
Shannon	10¼	9¾	10¼
Tamarack	55	54	55
Trinity	5½	5½	5½
Winona	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞

MISCELLANEOUS.

Am. Pneumatic pf	17¼	16	17¼
Mass. Gas pf	91½	91½	91½
United Fruit	138	137¾	137¾

UNLISTED SECURITIES.

Boston & Corbin	14⅜	14	14⅜
Indiana	13¾	13¾	13¾
Lake Copper	38½	38¼	38⅜
Miami Copper	21¾	21	21¾
Superior & Pittsburg	17⅝	17	17⅝
Utah	6⅝	6⅜	6⅝
Warren	4¾	4½	4¾
Kerr Lake	6⅞	6⅝	6⅝
Superior & Boston	1¾	1¾	1¾

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Following is the range of prices for the leading New York stocks to noon:

RAILROADS.

	High.	Low.	Noon.
Atch., T. & S. F.	98	97⅝	97½
Atch., T. & S. F. pf.	97⅝	96⅞	96⅞
Balt. & Ohio	109½	109	109⅝
Brooklyn Rap. Tra.	74⅝	73⅝	73⅝
Canadian Pacific	187	185½	186½
Ches. & Ohio	71¾	71¼	71¼
Chic., M. & St. P.	123	122⅝	122½
Chic. & W. Ind.	62	61½	62
Erie	24	24	24
Erie 1st pf.	43	43	43
Gt. Northern pf.	124⅝	124	124
Int.-Met.	17¾	16⅞	17
Int.-Met. pf.	47	46½	46½
Kan. City So.	27	26⅞	27
Kan. City So. pf.	138⅝	138⅝	138⅝
Mo., Kas. & Tex.	31	30⅞	31
Mo., Kas. & Tex. pf.	59	59	59
N. Y. C. & Hud.	111⅝	111⅝	111⅝
N. Y., Ont. & W.	39⅛	38⅞	39
Norfolk & West.	96	96	96
Northern Pac.	117⅝	114¼	114¾
Pennsylvania	128⅜	127⅝	128
Reading	159⅝	158¾	159
Rock Island	30½	29⅝	29⅝
Rock Island pf.	63	62	62
Southern Pac.	112⅝	111	111⅝
Southern Ry.	24	22	22
Third Ave.	88⅝	87	87
Union Pacific	166	162	163¼
Union Pacific pf.	94	94	94
Wabash	17	17	17
Wabash pf.	54	53⅝	53⅝

INDUSTRIALS AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Amal. Copper	63⅝	62	63⅛
Am. Car & Fdy	45⅞	45⅜	45⅝
Am. Cotton Oil	57⅝	57	57⅝
Am. Beet Sug.	38⅜	37⅝	37⅝
Amer. Sm. & R.	87⅝	86⅝	87⅛
Am. Sm. & R. pf.	128¾	128	128¾
Am. Tel. & Tel.	141¾	141	141⅜
Am. Tobacco	117⅝	115¾	115¾
Anaconda	51⅝	50¼	50¾
Brooklyn Un. Gas	204	204	204
Central Leather	24¾	24½	24½
Central Leather pf.	104¾	104¾	104¾
Consolidated Gas	141⅝	140⅝	141
Colorado Fuel & Iron	37¾	37	37¼
Distillers' Sec.	34	34	34
General Electric	169⅝	168⅝	169⅛
Gen. Chemical pf.	94	94	94
Int. Paper	17	16¾	16¾
Int. Paper pf.	70	69½	69½
Int. Pump	45¾	44¾	44¾
Int. Pump pf.	115¾	115	115
National Lead	51⅝	50½	50⅝
Northern Ore	24½	24½	24½
Press. Steel Car	34	34	34
Pullman	169⅝	168	168½
Rep. I. & Steel pf.	90½	89½	89½
P. S. Rub. Tru.	105	104	104
U. S. Steel	69	68¾	68¾
U. S. Steel pf.	115⅛	115	115
Utah Copper	45	44⅜	44⅜
West. Un. Tel.	95	94⅝	94⅝
Va. Car Chem.	51⅞	51⅜	51⅜

*Ex-dividend.

FIREMEN'S UNION EXPELS A MEMBER

Because a member was reported "drunk on watch," the executive committee of Stationary Firemen's Union No. 242 has voted to recommend to the union at its meeting to-morrow night that the man in question be expelled from the union. The committee further declares that it will discipline any other member who is guilty of the same offence, as a protection to life and property.

WILL ASK MORE MONEY.

Time and a half for all Sunday work and overtime done in the park department is to be demanded by a special committee appointed for that purpose by the Park Department Assembly, K. of L., the members of which have requested a conference with Mayor Fitzgerald to present the new side of the case. The city employes in other departments already are given this rate.

LOST AND FOUND

Hardly a day passes but some one misses their pet dog. A quick search is made for it but the dog is found. Why not advertise for him in the lost and found column of this paper? Quick and sure results will follow, as many a valuable dog has been returned to its owner in response to a small advertisement in the Journal.

SUPPOSED to be stolen, hired from Potter's stable, Watertown, dog, 3 yrs. old, bobbed, 12 years old, 900, over 10 hands, white spot on side, rubber-tramped buggy, new top and harness. Please notify chief of police or POTTER'S STABLE, Watertown, Mass.

LOST—Will the party who found brown plaid dog, containing a gold pass, on the Charles River Bridge car onward) notify, April 24, please send information to 1 Bowdoin Square? THOMAS, 75 Federal, Thursday, April 25.

LOST—Savings bank book, No. 38,650, issued by the Dedham Institution for Savings, is lost, and application has been made for payment of the amount in accordance with Sec. 5, Chap. 509 of the acts of 1908; payment has been stopped.

LOST—Between Main st., Everett, and North station pocket containing sum of money. Return to A. BAKER, 274 Broadway, Everett.

Special Announcements.

ENJOY YOURSELF WITH

BOSTON SMOKER

ENDS MAIN OFFICE, 444 DEALERS. LEVENSON BROS., Makers, Boston.

1,000 HUSBANDS—Wives, Sweethearts, Mothers, Sisters, Daughters, Friends, Lovers, Others—Birthday cards. BRIEF PRESS, 81 Leverett st., Boston.

Information Wanted.

MISSING PERSONS FOUND in all parts of the world. Address Lock Box 3716, Boston, Mass.

Diamonds, Watches and Jewelry.

LENOX JEWELRY CO.

$1 DOWN, $1 WEEK—Diamonds, watches, jewelry, open an account now; we trust you. 375 Washington st., Room 10.

MAINSPRING 20c; crystal 10c; expert watch repairing; cost tested free. WEIBURN, 371 Washington st.

MAINSPRINGS, 20 cents, put in while waiting; warranted 2 years; watches cleaned 50 cents. ALBERTS, 749 Washington.

Printing.

JOB PRINTING—All kinds; letters, bills, circulars $1.25 thousand. UNITED PRINTING CO., 38 Green st., Boston.

Bicycles.

BICYCLE BARGAINS—New and second-hand; sold regardless of cost. LEFFT, 106 Brighton st., West End.

Yachts, Boats and Engines.

MOTOR BOATS, launches, gasoline engines; power; owned C. BOWEN, 7 Bowdoin st., cor. Bodney st.

IRREGULARITY IN WALL ST.

NEW YORK Apr. 8.—Irregularity marked the opening of the stock market in Wall Street, to-day, with fractional losses shown by some important issues. A few minutes after the opening, however, these stocks recovered and held steady. Reading and Union Pacific were in demand, and fifteen minutes after the opening showed gains of about one point. This exerted an influence among other leading stocks, causing them to show a strong tone and hold their own in an active market.

Amalgamated opened at a decline of one half point and Southern Pacific was off one point, but both these stocks quickly recovered. U. S. Steel held steady at a fraction of one-quarter. The curb market opened quiet and steady.

Male Help Wanted.

WANTED
25 BRICKLAYERS
At Nashua, N. H.
Apply at Job. E. W. TITMAN CO.

BOY WANTED—Apprentice to learn the wood carving business. Apply to 1 Bowdoin sq.

BOY WANTED—Must live in Everett or Malden; apply to Mr. Williams, at 1 Bowdoin sq., Boston.

MACHINISTS—Two first-class all-round machinists wanted by large manufacturing plant; also machine hand wanted by same concern; steady work for good men. Apply to EMPLOYMENT OFFICE, 1 Bowdoin sq., Boston.

MACHINISTS—Connected, wanted to go to Fall River, Mass., permanent position for the right man. Address, stating qualifications, 1 Bowdoin sq., Boston, Room 1.

MILITARY TAILOR wanted; steady work; apply to Exchange Office, Post Address, Mess. Officers' Club, Fort Andrew, Mass.

OFFICE BOY WANTED; colored; must have had some experience in handling checks; a small office boy will be considered; steady position for the right boy. Address, stating experience and references, B 547, 1 Bowdoin sq.

OFFICE BOY WANTED; colored. Apply HARLEY & CHAPMAN CO.

PRESSMAN WANTED on rubber goods. Address, stating wages, RUBBER, 1 Bowdoin sq.

SHIPPER WANTED—Experienced and reliable shipper will receive steady employment; reference is character required. BRADLEY & CHAPMAN, 3 Bowdoin sq., Boston.

WANTED—Attendant and assistant operator in one of the leading galleries of Boston. Apply in person to Room 1, 1 Bowdoin sq., Boston.

WANTED—Good boiler maker. Apply Portland Dry Dock Co., foot of Commercial st., Portland, Me.

WANTED—Two men to work in foundry; steady work; $2 per day. 20 Bowdoin sq., Boston.

Employment Agencies.

AT HOTEL HILL ASSOCIATION, removed to 153 Cours st.; all kinds hotel help wanted.

Male Miscellaneous.

PRACTICAL ELECTRICITY SCHOOL

Practical work from beginning to end. An expert tutor to every student. Individual instruction. Students may enter at any time. Day and evening classes. Electric engineering, electric lighting, electric engineering, electric railways, telegraphy, telephony, and heat, light and power. Send for catalogue. HAWLEY INSTITUTE, 120 Boylston st., Boston, Mass.

BIG DEMAND FOR BARBERS—Boss tonsorial parlor, 100 chairs, wants 20 barbers; steady employment; good wages; 3 months' course; big catalog free. MOLER BARBER SCHOOL, 374 Washington st., Boston.

BRIGHT MEN for profitable business. EASTERN THEATRICAL AGENCY, 18 Bromfield st.

MADE $50,000 in one year with a small machine; vender business begun with $35; starts you; booklet, tells how. HEACOCK, 5102, Lockport, N. Y.

MEN WANTED—Learn barber trade; few weeks; wages while learning and drawing; look in our shop. 9 Eliot st., Boston.

MEN WANTED—Age 18 to 35, for firemen, coal passers and trimmers; steady employment in Boston and vicinity. Experience unnecessary; no strike; no lockout. Steamship companies now in need supplying headquarters over 500 men daily. Apply or address, Dept. 67, 127 Atlantic ave., Boston. MAY ASSOCIATION, Dept. 67, 127 Atlantic st., Brooklyn, N. Y.

MISCELLANEOUS—If Public Bracket of 30 Bromfield st. will call on the classified ad. clerk, 4th floor, Boston Advertiser building, he will receive two tickets for Tuesday evening's performance of The Merry Widow.

MEN WANTED to learn to drive and repair automobiles; a few weeks; day and evening sessions; big demand; steady employment; catalog free. NEW ENGLAND AUTO SCHOOL, 1 Boylston st., Boston.

OPERATE moving pictures; get from $25 to $50 weekly; small capital; 1 to 3 rooms; home evenings. 7 to 11. call or write; open evenings.

WANTED—Bright, active, experienced clerks at Washington, and office boys; carriers, $500 to $1,000; messengers, $600 to $900; starting salary, $1,000. Preparation free. Write for schedule. PEARSON'S INSTITUTE, Dept. 119 S, Rochester, N. Y.

Female Help Wanted.

AT 56 ROXBURY ST.—Cook, general, second, nursemaid, waitress, parlor maid, &c.

COOKS—At Mrs. Finn's office, 59 Warrenton st., $18; waitresses, $7; pantry laundry, colored and white; housework, $6; green girls.

COOKS—Experienced; references required; girls wanted at the BALTIC MILLS, Enfield, N. H.

Female Miscellaneous.

GIRLS wanted to learn millinery, cut out this ad. and bring with you; $3 per week while learning; after two weeks will be accepted as a $5 worker; positively no fee; 3 months' course in millinery instructions for class teaching; regular $25 course; only 10 pupils in a class; call or write for particulars. MILLINERY COLLEGE, 241 Tremont st., Boston.

GIRLS wanted this week to learn dressmaking and waists. MODWELL'S, 25 Winter st., Boston.

MISCELLANEOUS—If Stephen K. Callahan of 1624 Dorchester av., Dor., will call on the classified ad. clerk, 4th floor, Boston Advertiser building, he will receive two tickets for Keith's Theatre for Tuesday evening.

Female Situations Wanted.

ATTENDANT—An attendant would like a position in small home; good care for invalid lady; best of references. Address M. A. T., 160 Boylston st., Boston.

ATTENDANT—An attendant would like a position in small home; good care for invalid lady; best of references. Address M. A. T., 160 Boylston st., Boston.

BOOKKEEPER—Young woman would like position as bookkeeper; is now employed as bookkeeper in Boston; best of references. Address B 546, 1 Bowdoin sq.

CARPETER, PAINTER—I am out of work and if you will kindly let me know I will call on you or you may send for me; I am a moderate person. H. D., 7 Somerset st., Boston.

CHAMBER—Educated young miss, 22 years, wishes a home; experience with children and domestic care, expert needlewoman and dresser; wages secondary. Address, 1 Bowdoin sq.

CARPENTER wants new work; repairing and jobbing; reasonable; best of references. Address 1 Bowdoin sq., Boston.

CONSTRUCTION—Position wanted as engineer or draughtsman; 5 years' experience; graduate Boston Architectural College. Address 1 Bowdoin sq., Boston.

CHAUFFEUR desires position; reliable; good Boston references. Address 1 Bowdoin sq., Boston.

CHAUFFEUR—Position wanted; reliable; good references; 5 years' experience with one family; steady and sober; can take care of automobile. Address 1 Bowdoin sq., Boston.

CHAUFFEUR—Position wanted; by an experienced man; is sober, reliable or handy man of any kind; city references. Address 1 Bowdoin sq., Boston.

FARM WORK—Man wants a position on farm; has good references. Address 1 Bowdoin sq., O'CONNELL, 9 Burroughs pl.

GIRL wants work in kitchen; general; wants work on farm; not afraid to work; wages for small family. Address K. 30, Ross, Hotel Bellevue, Boston.

GENERAL WORK—Situation wanted by a married man; good driver; handy man around stable; can take care of horses; good references from last employer. Address 1 Bowdoin sq., Boston.

HOSTLER—Young man wants a position taking care of horses; good driver; good references. Address G 598, Boston Advertiser.

HOUSEKEEPER—Position wanted by middle aged woman; good cook; city or country. Apply to PETER PE PO, 57 Rockland st., Roxbury.

MAN, 30, desires position; grocery, dairy, farm or factory; 5 years' experience; good habits; some business education. Address BERNARD, 1 Bowdoin sq., Boston.

MEAT CUTTER—Position wanted; city or country; 10 years' experience; good habits; best of references. Address 1 Bowdoin sq., Boston.

SALESMAN wants a position as a traveling salesman; has experience and habits best of references and competent. Address G H, Box 17, Boston Advertiser.

TYPOGRAPHER—Thoroughly authentic; has had 15 years' experience; good habits; best of references; would be willing to have some ads at wages. Address 1 Bowdoin sq., Boston.

E. P. PRIMMY, 288 Hampshire st., Cambridge, 23, 1909-2 Cambridge.

YOUNG MARRIED MAN, of good habits and intelligence, would be willing to work from 7 to 5 for $10 per week; has had experience in the grocery business; willing to start small. Address 1 Bowdoin sq., Boston.

Furnished Rooms to Let.

VISITORS TO BOSTON,

TAKE ELEVATED to Dover st. and Washington st. and Bulfinch pl., over hill from State House. Nine cars pass the door. Rooms, $2 up; with board, $5 up; hot and cold water, baths, elevator, $1 day; steam heat, $1 day; 100 rooms. 100 baths.

BULFINCH ST., 44—Large, sunny rooms, by the day or week.

BERKLEY PL., 16—Large back and sq. room, with board; private family; all conveniences; reasonable.

CONCORD SQ., 3—Centrally located, new, 2 large rooms, first floor, modern, bath square and side bay.

DEVONSHIRE ST., 53—Large room, suitable for gentleman, breakfast if desired; 10 minutes' walk from State House; $2.50 per week.

FURNISHED—Large room, suitable for 2 gentlemen; breakfast if desired; 10 minutes' walk from State House; $2.50 per week. Address 53 Devonshire st.

HOUSEKEEPER'S room desired for an elderly lady; will pay reasonable rent; 671, Advertiser. No letters answered unless car fare is paid. Address 671, Boston Advertiser.

HOUSEKEEPER—Wanted, position as housekeeper; middle aged woman; no objection to children; best of references. Address 1 Bowdoin sq., Boston.

HOUSEKEEPER—Widow, American, age 28, wishes position as housekeeper; has had experience and is physician's office. Address K 588, Boston Advertiser.

HOUSEWORK—P. E. girl wants position at housework; small family; wages $5. Address 1 Bowdoin sq., Boston.

HOUSEKEEPER—American Protestant, business man's home; capable, experienced woman; 3 in family; very good wages; city or country; please call 238 Commonwealth ave., Boston, Room 1.

HOUSEKEEPER—Good woman, care house, cook, wash and iron; small family; good wages; owns 2 Homes st., East Boston.

HOUSEKEEPER—Middle aged housewerthy woman wishes position; 2 in family; wages $5. Address 22 Bulfinch st., Charlestown.

HOUSEWORK—Wanted to colored girl in small family; must be neat; wages $4. Address 1 Bowdoin sq., Room 1, Boston.

HOUSEWORK—Colored girl would like home where there is no washing; wages $4. Address 1 Bowdoin sq., Boston.

HOUSEWORK—Colored girl would like home; wages $4. Address 1 Bowdoin sq., Boston.

LAUNDRESS—First-class accomodation could take home laundry work; will serve; first-class. Address 1 Bowdoin sq., Boston, Room 1.

LAUNDRY WORK—Responsible colored woman wants day work; would prefer Back Bay; best of references. Address MISS HERSEY, 1 Bowdoin sq., Boston.

LAUNDRESS—First-class wants washing to take home; will call for and deliver; reasonable; best of references. Call or write, MRS. HOWARD, 1 Bowdoin sq., Boston, Room 1, laundry.

LAUNDRESS—A reliable laundress would like three dresses or gowns; would like to do at a reasonable price; will call for and deliver; 1 this; vicinities dry. 9 Holyoke st.

Female Situations Wanted.

LAUNDRESS—An experienced laundress would like to take home family washing; good work; reasonable prices; 9 Holyoke st., Cambridge.

LAUNDRY WORK—A young woman desires work by the day; $1.25 a day; I like a place in small family to do different kinds of work; near Huntington ave. Address 1 Bowdoin sq., Boston.

LAUNDRESS—First-class laundress would take washing at home; best of references; 1 Bowdoin sq., Back Bay preferred. MRS. McFARLAND, 199 Main st., Cambridge, Mass.

LAUNDRESS wishes thoroughly experienced laundress to take home; best of references; prices very reasonable. Address MRS. WILLIS, 1 Bowdoin sq., Boston.

LAUNDRY—Would like work to take home, at 1207 Tremont st., suite No. 1.

LAUNDRESS—A thoroughly experienced laundress would like to do your laundry work; prices reasonable; will call for and deliver; 1 Bowdoin sq., Boston, Room 1.

LAUNDRESS—First-class laundress would like washing and ironing to take home, or out, by the day. 81 Windsor st., suite 3.

LAUNDRESS—Wishes to do hard and cleaning. MRS. G., 59 Moseley st., Dorchester.

LAUNDRESS—Experienced young woman wants position to care for infant or light housework; country preferred. Address 1 Bowdoin sq., Boston.

MAID—would prefer dressmaking; best of references; 1 Bowdoin sq., Boston, Room 1.

NURSE—A good trained nurse wants position; best of references; 1 Bowdoin sq., Boston. Address MISS ROBKNEE, 14 Taft st., off Dorchester st., Dor.

NURSE—Practical, advanced confinement; best of references; 1 Bowdoin sq., Boston. Address 1 Bowdoin sq., Boston.

NURSE would like the care of elderly or invalid lady; best of references. MRS. BANKS, 84 Warren st., Roxbury.

SEAMSTRESS—All kinds of plain sewing; child's clothes a specialty; reasonable prices. Address 1 Bowdoin sq., Boston.

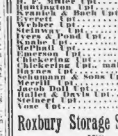
STENOGRAPHY, typewriting, etc. R., 32 Tremont st., Room 1, Boston, Mass.

WASHING—A capable young woman would like to take washing to do at home; 1 Bowdoin sq., Boston, Room 1.

WASHING—A capable young woman would like to take washing to do at home; 1 Bowdoin sq., Boston, Room 1.

Pianos and Musical Instruments.

PIANO SALE



$5 Down
$1 A Week

Roxbury Storage Salesrooms

ATTENTION, EVERYBODY

The gilded piano stores, with their motto "Nothing down and $1 a week," are not in this legitimate commercial city, as we have no room for their methods. Our motto is "Square Deal," and we have it. Roxbury Storage Salesrooms, 2111 Washington st., Roxbury, Mass., will sell you a piano as cheap by any bulk piano at anti-trust, double-cash prices.

Delivered free anywhere in unmarked cars.

BARGAINS IN BEST MAKES

Mason & Hamlin Upt	$107
H. P. Miller Upt	97
Hallet & Davis Upt	97
Brewster & Sawyer Upt	97
Everett Upt	97
Stetson Upt	97
Stetson Upt	117
Steinway Upt	117
Steinway Upt	117
Mosher Upt	97
Mosher Upt	97
Chickering Upt	117
Chickering Upt	117
Haynes Upt	97
Haynes Upt	97
Haynes Upt	97
Jacob Doll Upt	97
Jacob Doll Upt	97
Jacob Doll Upt	97
Weimer Upt	97
Weimer Upt	97

Roxbury Storage Salesrooms
INC.
Open daily from 8 A. M. to 6 P. M.
Open Mon., Thurs., and Sat. till 9 P. M.
2111 Washington St. Williams

BARNARD'S $1.00 PIANO PLAN

We sell all you say you make puns $1.00 down and $1.00 a week. Get the other dealer's price first, if you like, then come to us and we will beat it. Square deal, no fake, no humbug. Barnard, Piano Agent, 527 Washington. BARNARD, Piano Agent, 527 Washington. BARNARD, Piano Agent, 527 Washington.

E. B. WOOD PIANO COMPANY, 611 Washington st., Boston, offers a double roll top piano, recently manufactured; Henry F. Miller, Ivers & Pond, Chickering and Knabe pianos $175 to $225; Steinway pianos $190 to $125; new pianos, lowest prices in Boston; rent pianos, $2 per month; tuning, $1 per tuning; open Child's restaurant, opposite Shepard Norwell's.

UPRIGHT PIANO—If J. J. Lynch, 19 school st., Boston, will call on the classified ad. clerk, 4th floor, Boston American office, he will receive two tickets for Keith's Theatre for Tuesday evening's performance.

HUB STORAGE WAREHOUSE, 840 Washington st., 2d floor, 1 large, 1 small piano; also several fine upright pianos this week; call early for first choice.

Music.

PIANOS TUNED, $1

A. J. HALL, 105 Huntington av., Boston. Pianos tuned, repaired, regulating, repairing. Phone 2887-2 Back Bay.

Schools and Colleges.

FALL TERM COMER'S COMMERCIAL SCHOOL

OPENS Sept. 6; best instruction in shorthand, book-keeping and all business studies; positions for pupils; individual instruction; guarantee of proficiency; reliable and economical school; catalogue free. COMER'S COMMERCIAL SCHOOL, 18 Boylston st., opposite COMER'S COMMERCIAL SCHOOL, 18 Boylston st., opposite Keith's Theatre.

Wall Papers.

ARTISTIC and serviceable paper at reasonable prices; 10 per cent. off on preserving this advertisement; 20 per cent. off on ceiling paper. THOMAS SWAN, 24 Cornhill.

PAPER HANGING $1.50; painting $2.50 whitewashing, 20 cents; outside painting. S. APPEL, 29 Leverett st. Tel. 2045-3 Main.

C. SILBERMAN—Papering $1.75; painting $2.25; whitewashing, 20c. Work guaranteed.

Office Furniture and Store Fixtures

MERRITT & CHAPMAN EXCHANGE, 18 Bromfield st., will exchange 200 roll and flat top desks returned from the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, Trinity Church and Art Museum, $5 up; filing cabinets, $10 up; typewriter desks, $5 up; office chairs, $1.50 per set; 200 second-hand office desks, $5 up; 100 typewriter tables and fine roll top desks, $10 up; 100 office chairs, $1 up; 100 office safes and vaults; 1 large safe at $35; 1 large safe at $50; 1 large safe at $75. Banks and offices, 18 Bromfield st.

For Sale—Miscellaneous.

Groceries, Markets, Restaurants.

ALL KINDS store fixtures; refrigerators; meat band, 9c; tiree at one 14c factory; small dealers buy of us and sell at less; but here were never 26 years exist. WHITMAN CO., 12 Durrance st., Sullivan sq.

LUMBER for sale, 200 M. choice of red and white pine, fencing and boards; also 100 M. hemlock. DAVID E. RUSSELL, Needham, Mass.

Wanted—Miscellaneous.

TRADING STAMPS—Green, Gold and S. H. trading stamps, tags, certificates, exchange for Legal, 369 Wash st., room 3.

Real Estate for Sale.

$100 DOWN, $10 MONTHLY.

SWELL 6 and 8-room houses, all tiles, square location, and only a few minutes from Mystic valley parkway; don't pay rent; buy one of these houses and save money. GOODELL, 60 Bromfield st.

ONE CENT A FOOT.

SEA SHORE LOTS at Hough's Neck, the coming summer resort; only one hour's ride from the business center of Boston; 5 minutes' walk to the ocean; 1 minute to electric cars. Prices, terms and plans at office of HOUGH'S NECK LAND CO., 60 Congress st., Room 1, Boston.

$375—BUNGALOW—$375

HOUGH'S NECK.

$50 DOWN and $10 a month. W. A. DUNHAM, 27 Water st., room 711.

$750—Sea Shore Cottage—$750

ON EASY TERMS the same as rent, at Hough's Neck, the fastest growing summer resort; only 1 hour from Boston; 5 minutes' walk to the ocean; good boating and fishing. W. A. DUNHAM, 27 Water st., Room 711.

FOR CASH—THIS WEEK.

FOR SALE—Five new houses of 7 rooms, bath, set tubs, set mantels, hardwood floors throughout, open plumbing, cellar full size of house, Waverley, Grove Hall section; 5 minutes' walk to electric cars; will sell for $3,000 each; $100 cash, balance $25 monthly, including interest at 6 per cent. Apply to owner, 18 HALL, Dorchester, Mass., or 27 Water st., Room 711, Boston, for further particulars and to see plans.

FOR SALE—If Mr. Marquardt, Mason, 64 Ida st., Roxbury, will call on the classified ad. clerk, 4th floor, Boston American office, he will receive two tickets for Tuesday evening's performance of The Merry Widow.

NEW 7-ROOM HOUSE, all modern conveniences, set tubs, set mantels, hardwood floors throughout, cellar full size of house, Waverley, Grove Hall section; 5 minutes' walk to electric cars; will sell for $3,000; $100 cash, balance $25 monthly, including interest at 6 per cent. Apply to owner, 18 HALL, Dorchester, Mass., or 27 Water st., Room 711, Boston, for further particulars and to see plans.

NEW 8-ROOM HOUSE, all modern conveniences, set tubs, set mantels, hardwood floors throughout, cellar full size of house, Waverley, Grove Hall section; 5 minutes' walk to electric cars; will sell for $3,500; $100 cash, balance $25 monthly, including interest at 6 per cent. Apply to owner, 18 HALL, Dorchester, Mass., or 27 Water st., Room 711, Boston, for further particulars and to see plans.

NEW 6-ROOM HOUSE, all modern conveniences, set tubs, set mantels, hardwood floors throughout, cellar full size of house, Waverley, Grove Hall section; 5 minutes' walk to electric cars; will sell for $2,800; $100 cash, balance $25 monthly, including interest at 6 per cent. Apply to owner, 18 HALL, Dorchester, Mass., or 27 Water st., Room 711, Boston, for further particulars and to see plans.

NEW 7-ROOM HOUSE, all modern conveniences, set tubs, set mantels, hardwood floors throughout, cellar full size of house, Waverley,

EDITORIAL PAGE OF THE BOSTON AMERICAN BOSTON, AUGUST 8, 1910

BOSTON AMERICAN

80 AND 82 SUMMER ST., BOSTON, AUGUST 8, 1910.

Can a Man Die of a Broken Heart?

One Answer Is, He Can, but He DOESN'T

Copyright, 1910, by American Journal-Examiner

"Men have died and worms have eaten them; but not for love"
—Shakespeare

There is Shakespeare's answer to the question, "Does a man ever die of a broken heart?" Later, we hope to give you the answers of Ella Wheeler Wilcox, Beatrice Fairfax and Dorothy Dix—our psychological trio of heart experts.

Meanwhile read the cold, ordinary story of the wedding of Mrs. Kiupa. Mrs. Kiupa was Miss Victoria Hadden. She lived at No. 1,460 West Chicago avenue, in Chicago. Two men adored her. The name of one man was Kiupa, and the other was named Tyka. Miss Victoria Haddon, like many another girl, was good-naturedly anxious to make both of the men happy.

She married Kiupa, and for Mr. Tyka she did the next best thing—she asked him to be best man at the wedding. When the wedding was over Mr. Tyka said, "You may never see me again," and then he went home and died.

He was actually dead before the wedding festivities were over. The doctors say that he did not commit suicide; he just died of a broken heart.

When last seen by the reporters, Mrs. Kiupa was bending over the coffin of the best man, sobbing, and saying that she wished men wouldn't be so foolish. So here, in every-day West Chicago avenue life, on a small, humble scale is the sort of tragedy that poets have written about and young people have wept over for centuries.

What do you think about this story of Chicago life and death? Do you BELIEVE that any man ever died for love and of a broken heart? If you know of any such case, by all means write to "The Broken Heart Editor" and let us know of the case at once.

The Boston American editor—subject to future enlightenment from Fairfax, Wilcox and Dix—is inclined to think that Shakespeare, who knew more about human nature than all the rest of us, was right when he said, "Men have died and worms have eaten them, BUT NOT FOR LOVE."

Many thousands of women have died broken-hearted, actually killed by their grief. This has happened over and over when a mother has lost a child. And it has often happened to young girls disappointed in love. But men are tougher, and rougher, and harder.

Our own opinion is that Mr. Tyka really felt very sad and sorry when he saw Mr. Kiupa marrying the girl. He was depressed, and his mental condition affected his heart—some heart weakness which existed was accentuated by his nervous condition and death followed—just plain heart disease.

We believe that in this death of Mr. Tyka there is more of an argument for the Christian Scientists, who urge you always to be "merry and bright," no matter what happens, than there is for those who believe that men die broken-hearted.

A Christian Scientist COULDN'T die of a broken heart, because, no matter what happens, the Christian Scientist would say, first, "It never really happened," and second, "There isn't any error, there is no such thing as feeling sorry," and third, "What do I care, anyhow?"

And in five minutes the Christian Scientist would be as happy as if nothing really HAD happened.

The moral is that if Mr. Tyka had been a Christian Scientist he would be dancing at the wedding, instead of lying in his coffin.

On this account, do you suppose we advise you all to become Christian Scientists? Not at all. It is better to die occasionally of a broken heart than to spend your whole life in the very dull and uninteresting belief that nothing is real.

An Uprising of the Youth of the World

Lieutenant-General R. S. S. Baden-Powell, of England, has landed at Quebec.

As he came down the steamer's gangplank he was greeted by shouts of welcome from a host of boys.

To them he is a kind of King Arthur or Sir Galahad—the inaugurator of a new age of chivalry.

If there are any in America to whom the name of Baden-Powell is unfamiliar it is because the greatest things sometimes move below the surface of events and are slow in getting into the newspapers.

This man has had a wide fame as the hero of Mafeking. But neither Mafeking nor any other British victory of the Boer war was so very glorious. And Baden-Powell would hardly belong to the world's current history if he had not added to his conquests in Boerland the conquest of the heart of the universal boy.

In the United States, as well as Great Britain, in half a dozen countries of continental Europe, as well as in Canada and the other quarters of the British Empire, the name of Baden-Powell stands for the Boy Scout movement.

And the Boy Scout movement stands for a glowing idea, that promises to outrival, in its effect upon the mind and heart of the rising generation, any like moral enterprise of our time.

Such a statement of the case will not seem exaggerated to those who have ever thought what a power of social regeneration lies waiting to be evoked from the enthusiasm of boyhood, or to those who have paid any attention to the actual development of this affair.

Baden-Powell is not a sociologist or a professional publicist, but he has made a tremendous contribution to the solution of social problems.

In face of the sordidness of monopoly, the meanness of privilege and the general political bewilderment of Europe and America, Baden-Powell has taken an appeal from the senility of statecraft to the primal instinct of fair play in the generous soul of youth.

The Boy Scout movement is an adventure toward fraternity and peace. It is military in its form only because the achievement of fraternity and peace requires soldierly devotion and must be fought for.

This truth may be concealed from the "wise and prudent"—but the boys understand.

In England, where the Boy Scout movement has had a three years' run and has subjected hundreds of thousands of youngsters to its chivalric discipline, snobs, cads, shirks and mollycoddles are said to feel an uncongenial change in the climate of the country.

The spirit of Bayard and Sydney is abroad. The poor, the weak and the unfortunate meet with unaccustomed consideration. There is a band of young knights in every village aching to stop a fire or a bolting horse, to thrash a bully or help an old woman with a burden on her back.

Here is a living principle that belongs to America by every right.

General Baden-Powell would be the first to admit, indeed, that the idea that is actuating his crusade is indigenous to this soil, and that it was worked out by Americans before it was seized upon by his contagious genius and given a worldwide vogue.

They Never Come Back

By T. E. POWERS

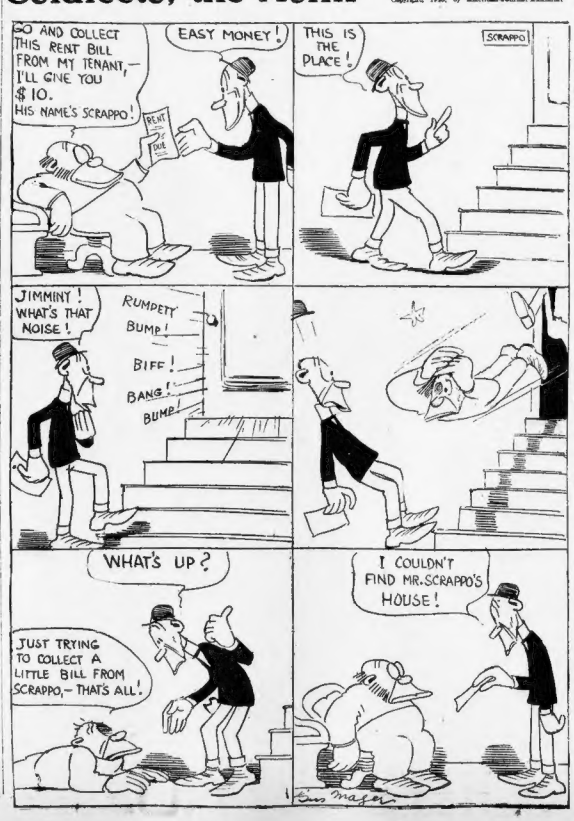
Copyright, 1910, by American Journal-Examiner

A 3
GEE, A TEN POUNDER—HARD LUCK.
PROF HALE
COLLAR BUTTON
HEY JUST COME BACK HERE AND I'LL FIX YOU
WHATS HE DOING
HE'S PLANTING SEEDS THEY WILL NEVER COME BACK
CITY FARMER
THE BEST COOK WE EVER HAD
I'V BEEN WAITING HERE OVER AN HOUR
JONES & CO WILL BE BACK IN FIVE MINUTES
BILL
T. E. POWERS

Coldfeeto, the Monk

By GUS MAGER

Copyright, 1910, by American-Journal Examiner



Catholic Temperance Army in Boston

What This Visit of the Followers of Father Mathew Means to the Country

The arrival in Boston of the Wilkesbarre regiment of Catholic Total Abstinence men reminds the citizens of Boston, of all creeds and classes, that this city during the coming week will be the abiding place of the leaders and chief workers of one of the greatest uplift and moral movements of our own times.

As such, Boston does well to honor such men and to bid them hearty welcome within her civic gates.

They are the standard-bearers of a mighty army, whose continued advance will mean more to the social regeneration of America than all the prohibition laws that have been inscribed upon the statutes of the States since the first Congress.

Catholic total abstinence is not coercion, and therein lies its great strength and power. Its bedrock is moral suasion, not force. The free will of the individual, his common sense, his sane intelligence, his sense of pride and self-respect, his love for family and for God and country, all these are appealed to by the Father Mathews of to-day. And when answering chords are struck in the heart of the individual, regeneration from the vice of drunkenness is complete.

More than sixty years ago Theobald Mathew, the Irish friar, whose single-handed crusade is one of the prides of history, came to this city as the guest of her leading citizens.

From a stand on Boston Common he spoke to a reverent multitude, whose members hung upon his every word of simple eloquence even as centuries before the men and women of Galilee stood upon the seashore or in the fields and heard new words which told them that self-restraint, and not self-indulgence, was the key-note of the Master's service.

The men and women who are with us this week in Boston, bearing the standard of the Irish temperance apostle, are welcome here. May their deliberations under the roof of our Cradle of Liberty bring rich results to their noble movement!

Mr. O'Meara "Doesn't Care"

Isn't it time the people began to take care of him? His indifference shown before Boston Common controversy

When the Boston American some months ago ventured to call the attention of Police Commissioner O'Meara to some conditions that disgraced Boston and which the police of the city could have stopped, if so directed, the Commissioner pooh-poohed the idea and declined to get out of the rut of indifference in which he seemed to be traveling.

Mr. O'Meara has shown the same disregard of conditions in Boston Common. Shifting from one position to another from day to day in this controversy, the whole aim of which is simply to make Boston Common safe for decent people, Mr. O'Meara has finally shown his hand. And it is exactly the same hand that the American pictured months ago.

"I am not interested in this matter."

"How does that concern me?"

"I don't care anything about it."

These are Mr. O'Meara's replies printed to-day in the Boston Journal (of which O'Meara was once publisher and chief owner) to questions put to him by that newspaper with reference to shocking conditions in the Common.

Mr. O'Meara is the head of the police force of Boston. It cost the city over $2,000,000 to pay for this department last year. Of this sum $6,000 was paid to Mr. O'Meara for his work.

The people paid this $6,000 to Mr. O'Meara. Yet he is "not interested" in their protests. He "doesn't care."

Isn't it pretty nearly time that the people became interested in Mr. O'Meara and that he be taken care of?

What Is Efficiency?

BY THOMAS TAPPER.

"WE have our mind given us, not that it may cavil and argue, but that it may see into something, give us clear belief and understanding about something, whereon we are to proceed to act."
—THOMAS CARLYLE.

A PROMINENT railway official once told me that the men he engaged fell into three classes.

I. Those who could not follow directions. They were hazy minded.

II. Those who could generally do what they were told. They were uncertain minded.

III. Those who mastered their work thoroughly and developed it to the full extent of its suggestion. They were creative minded.

"You can readily see where we looked for the happy workers in these three classes of men. The first were generally discontented, the second were passively obedient, but the men of the third class were efficient, creative and never ceasing in their activity. They were also few.

"These few men, I always observed, learned their business by dint of dogged perseverance. Some were more brilliant than others, but they had the quality of persistent effort. When one of them has mastered his work to the last detail I must either find a better place for him or he leaves and goes into business for himself.

"This type of man brings brains into the business. We can supply him the environment and the opportunity. He becomes inspired and increases his capital many fold. I find, in the main, it is the same story with all of them.

"Now, why does this type of man succeed?

"He desires to succeed.

"He observes persistently.

"He works unceasingly.

"He never forgets.

"Money is as nothing to him compared with opportunity.

"Having embraced the opportunity I offer him he soon understands that money is added unto him without question.

"He increases himself, develops all his resources, keeps on enlarging his equipment.

"In relation to a man of this type you can readily understand that on our part money is entirely out of the question; he is worth more to us than money, for he knows, as well as I do, that the mind is given him that it may see into something.

"He looks.

"And then he proceeds to act."

To Preserve a Government by the Consent of the Governed, the Boston American Advocates:

First—Direct nominations, that the people may select such public servants as they deem worthy;
Second—The recall, that the people may dismiss such public servants as have proved unworthy;
Third—The initiative, that the people may compel action upon such legislation as they deem necessary;
Fourth—The referendum, that the people may accept or reject legislation as they deem desirable;
Fifth—A Corrupt Practices act, that will limit election expenses to legitimate purposes and make men, and not money, the deciding force in American politics;
Sixth—Public ownership of public utilities, that the values created by the people shall belong to the people, and a referendum upon every public franchise, that no public servant shall barter the people's property for his private gain;
Seventh—The election of Senators by the people, and of Judges for short terms, that no branch of government shall feel itself too far above the people or too long removed from the people.